Ladies and Gentlemen:

We are blessed to have been involved in the municipal bond law practice for 45 years. We have a lot of pride in the approximately 3,100 projects we have completed over the years. We appreciate you taking the time to look over this brochure and we hope to work with you in the future. Please do not hesitate to contact us with any questions.

The photograph on the front cover is of the University of Oklahoma Gaylord Family Memorial Stadium and the photograph on the back cover is of the F. DeWayne Beggs Detention Center, Norman, Oklahoma. These are two projects that we are especially proud to have worked on.

Very truly yours,

Glenn E. Floyd

Background

Floyd Law Firm, P.C., through its founder Glenn Floyd has been exclusively engaged in the practice of municipal bond law for more than 45 years and is a nationally recognized bond firm. The firm is a Norman, Oklahoma based law firm, founded by Glenn Floyd, who as the founding partner, has been practicing exclusively as a bond attorney since 1968. We have been in the same location for over 41 years. We have a nationally recognized public finance practice serving as bond counsel to governmental entities issuing tax-exempt debt, as well as underwriters' counsel, and special tax counsel for public debt issues. Floyd Law Firm, P.C. has provided its clients with the highest quality of legal services since 1970 and the firm is based upon the highest professional standards, while achieving excellent client results. The firm offers broad and diverse expertise in public finance.

Floyd Law Firm, P.C. public finance attorneys have developed a very broad practice that involves all aspects of public and private offerings of taxable and tax-exempt securities for public entities and non-profit organizations.

The firm handles all types of municipal finance, including tax-exempt notes and bonds, taxable municipal securities, tax-exempt leases, tax increment financings, third party tax-exempt financings, mortgage bonds and mortgage credit certificates. Our public finance attorneys have developed a very broad practice that involves all aspects of public and private offerings of taxable and tax-exempt securities for public entities and non-profit organizations, including state agencies, universities, colleges, cities, counties, school districts, municipal utility districts, hospitals, rural water districts, and housing authorities.

Each year our firm is involved with dozens of separate issues of tax-exempt bonds and notes totaling millions of dollars. This volume of public finance work spans the full-range of tax-exempt debt issues, including work with governmental issuers and conduit borrowers. Our work includes credit and security structures from high rated state or university borrowers to unrated small towns or manufacturers, from general to special obligation debt, and from credit enhancements from bond insurance to letters of credit. We work with debt instruments from short-term notes to long-term bonds, fixed or variable rate interest and capital leases.

The firm is frequently asked to participate in the legislative process and regulatory process affecting public finance. Members of the firm also play a role in nationally organized efforts of bond lawyers to stay informed and involved with changes in federal tax law, securities law and other aspects of the issuance of public debt.

Breadth of Experience

Since its inception, the Floyd Law Firm, P.C., has specialized in municipal, public utility, industrial development and other municipal securities law. Projects of many descriptions have been financed, including streets, bridges, water towers, city halls, airports, parking lots, electrical systems, water systems, sewer systems, solid waste disposal systems, retirement homes, nursing homes, colleges, universities, commercial and industrial facilities, single-family housing, multi-family housing, libraries, convention centers and many other types of public improvements.

The firm has been at the forefront of many creative, complex, and innovative financing techniques in its continuing efforts to serve our clients to be able to take advantage of financing possibilities. Firm lawyers have helped develop financing structures for all types of public capital needs ranging from its pioneering work involving public trusts that led to the financing of projects for single family housing in Oklahoma, the creation of a State housing authority, the development of bond financings for universities and colleges, school district financings, tax-exempt industrial development financings, and tax increment district financings. In addition, the firm was a leader in educating and developing documentation on continuing disclosure relating to securities law requirements. The firm organized and produced the Oklahoma Public Finance Forum in an effort to educate and inform members of the public finance community in Oklahoma.

The firm organized and produced the Oklahoma Public Finance Forum in an effort to educate and inform members of the public finance community in Oklahoma.

Because of its experience in many aspects of public law, Floyd Law Firm, P.C. serves as general counsel and special counsel to various public bodies in Oklahoma. This service is available to our public finance clients and has benefited our clients by providing them experience with their public projects.

The firm continues to devote its practice exclusively to the field of municipal bonds. Since 1968, the attorneys in the firm have served as bond counsel, special tax counsel and underwriter's counsel on approximately 3,100 issues totaling almost eleven billion dollars.

Firm Practice Structure

The Floyd Law Firm, P.C. is presently composed of six active attorneys with a total combined 148 years of experience as Bond Attorneys and Municipal Attorneys and a support staff of two persons. This talent and experience allows the firm to better understand and respond to the needs of the client and other members of the financing team.

Floyd Law Firm, P.C. attorneys have a combined total of 148 years of experience as Bond Attorneys and Municipal Attorneys.

The Floyd Law Firm, P.C. has focused its practice exclusively in the area of municipal finance. The majority of issues this firm has completed have been tax-exempt transactions. The Floyd Law Firm, P.C., is listed in The Bond Buyer's Municipal Marketplace Directory (the "Red Book") and has a nationally recognized and nationally accepted opinion in the marketplace having been listed in the Red Book since 1968. All attorneys in the firm are members of the National Association of Bond Lawyers and Mr. Floyd is a Fellow and Past Director of the American College of Bond Counsel. Attorneys in the firm are members of the American Bar Association.

CHARLES P. RAINBOLT born Cordell, Oklahoma, June 27, 1948; admitted to bar, 1974, Oklahoma, U.S. Supreme Court; Education: University of Oklahoma (BA 1970) (JD 1974); Member: Oklahoma and American Bar Associations; Board of Editors of Oklahoma Bar Association Journal (1990-1996). Temporary Judge, Oklahoma Court of Appeals (1991), Sole Recipient of Friend of Oklahoma Rural Water Association award (1997), Chairman of Oklahoma Public Finance Forum (1997), State Director of USDA Rural Development (formerly Farmers Home Administration) (1993-2001). Oklahoma Board of Bar Examiners (1989-2005).

As Oklahoma State Director of Farmers Home Administration from 1993 to 1995, Mr. Rainbolt supervised 283 employees in administration and loan authority for a direct loan portfolio in excess of 1.2 billion dollars comprised of over 25,000 Oklahoma farm, rural housing, rural water, rural business and rural development loans. In addition, Mr. Rainbolt supervised the administration of guaranteed lending by commercial lenders and the awarding of grant funds within the State of Oklahoma. In 1995 and continuing through 2001, as State Director of Rural Development, Mr. Rainbolt assumed management of Rural Electrification Administration and Agriculture Cooperative rural development programs and became the highest-ranking Oklahoma official of Rural Utilities Service, Rural Housing Service and Rural Business Service. Mr. Rainbolt presently serves as one of five trustees of the Oklahoma Housing Finance agency, which is a non-profit tax-exempt public trust with the State of Oklahoma as the beneficiary of the trust. Among other programs, OHFA makes home loans available through its mortgage revenue bond program and helps create public/private partnerships between OHFA and developers through its issuance of housing tax credits. Beginning in 2001, and continuing through the present, Mr. Rainbolt became of counsel to the Floyd Law Firm, P.C. and, in this capacity, has continued to help Oklahoma rural communities, water districts and rural trust entities with their public finance needs.
