

Medicine River Snowshoe

Sunday, January 14 saw 10 avid snowshoers head out for the Medicine River in a winter wonderland of falling snowflakes and trees dressed in hoar frost.

After a short 2 ½ hour snowshoe (or maybe not so short for some!) we climbed the riverbank to a small sheltered clearing where we built a small campfire and had a wiener/marshmallow roast (sorry, no Bailey's!!) Then a ½ hour return to a quick car shuttle just as the breeze picked up but a great day considering Friday was in the minus 30oC range!
