The Pure and Holy Christian Lady The American Wife and Mother that was the Help Meet

10 Who can find a virtuous woman? for her price is far above rubies. 11 The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her, so that he shall have no need of spoil. 12 She will do him good and not evil all the days of her life. 13 She seeketh wool, and flax, and worketh willingly with her hands. 14 She is like the merchants' ships; she bringeth her food from afar. 15 She riseth also while it is yet night, and giveth meat to her household, and a portion to her maidens. 16 She considereth a field, and buyeth [1] it: with the fruit of her hands she planteth a vineyard. 17 She girdeth her loins with strength, and strengtheneth her arms. 18 She perceiveth that her merchandise is good: her candle goeth not out by night. 19 She layeth her hands to the spindle, and her hands hold the distaff. 20 She stretcheth out her hand to the poor; yea, she reacheth forth her hands to the needy. 21 She is not afraid of the snow for her household: for all her household are clothed with scarlet. [2] 22 She maketh herself coverings of tapestry; her clothing is silk and purple. 23 Her husband is known in the gates, when he sitteth among the elders of the land. 24 She maketh fine linen, and selleth it; and delivereth girdles unto the merchant. 25 Strength and honour are her clothing; and she shall rejoice in time to come. 26 She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and in her tongue is the law of kindness. 27 She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness. 28 Her children arise up, and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her. 29 Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all. 30 Favour is deceitful, and beauty is vain: but a woman that feareth the LORD, she shall be praised. 31 Give her of the fruit of her hands; and let her own works praise her in the gates -Proverbs 31

When God created the woman from the man's rib, he made her an help meet (suited) for the man. One of her most important jobs was to represent purity in the home as the type of the Holy Spirit of God. A woman was traditionally expected to be a chaste virgin until her marriage, as represented by the white dress she wears at the marriage ceremony, only to have one husband in her lifetime. Is that principle common today? Many churches, like the Independent Fundamental Baptist, preach these values even today, but they were much more prominent in America about 70 years ago. The Little House on the Prairie TV Series, for which you can still get the books via Little House on the Prairie Books was a good wholesome show for children to watch that presented the woman in her humble and pure way relevant to early America.

Sometime at around the fame of Marilyn Monroe, the America woman decided to sport pants (the garment of a man that was considered an abomination in Moses' day). Then, after she got away with that, she sported a bikini, and today our young ladies and teenagers are being taught that the more skin you show the better off you will be. There is no dress standard for a woman in America anymore, and because of that the man is more enticed and the sexual promiscuity runs rampant.

Is it the man who compels her to be this way, or does she do it on her own free will? Whereas Jesus was forgiving to the woman at the well and the woman taken in adultery, was God forgiving to the witch Jezebel? We can only hope that the churches teaching the purity and holiness of the Christian lady do not fade out.

Public Education

How Has it Changed Since America's Foundation?

Probably one of the only reasons why boys are turning out homosexual in America today is because of a mandated sex education program that teaches them alternate lifestyles. Legislation is behind the teaching of this in school (see Sex education in the public school by legislators). As the statue and architecture imply here in Albany (the capital of New York State where New York City has its millions of public school children), our state education department is proud of itself. They did away with the King James Bible in the 1960's because a woman refused it, and now they are mandating the teaching of something that was reserved sacred by God to corrupt the children's future marriages. Giving kids, especially ghetto kids, information that should be reserved for adulthood without a Holy Spirit leadership is causing them to generate ideas that they should not have. God allows sex to come naturally within his order of marriage first, but God is not regarded in the public schools in America anymore.

As an artist I may appreciate this sculpture, but it represents the error of secular humanism that explains the world with out God. As it was when I was in public school, some children can not afford homeschooling or Christian school and we had to learn how to conquer in a public school. Many kids today are ignorant or hate Jesus Christ, as is apparent in their option to take Lucifer's vices instead of God's laws. The pulpit shown here used properly by the man of God with a King James Bible is the right idea for teaching children.

A public school kid who is a little rough around the edges but trying his best to be a Christian, is a prize in God's eyes. Sometimes its not where you are that matters to God it's the direction you are going. Christian kids in public schools should not get too discouraged about what they are seeing and hearing when they deal with those who hate God. It's not their fault they happen to be in a public school.

The Door to Sambucca

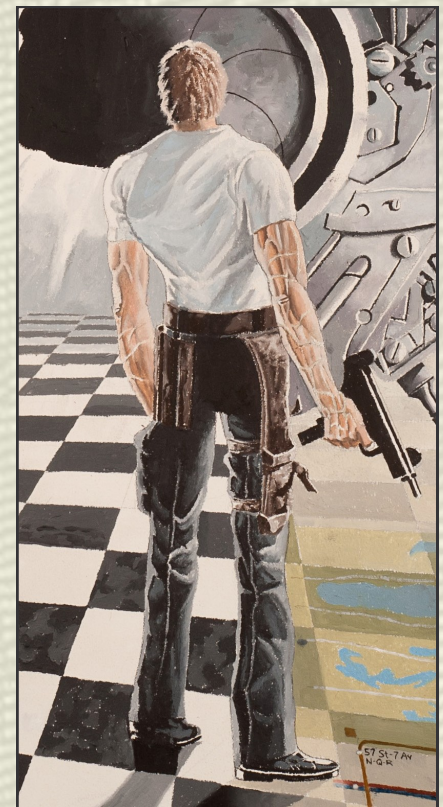

The Motion Picture?

I received a call from Authorhouse, the company that published my book The Door to Sambucca. They asked me, "Have you ever thought about turning your book into a movie? Its really a spellbinding book." I hardly responded to the flattery thinking he was getting me on a payment that would not amount to anything. So I asked him some questions. After feeling confident that it wasn't just a way for them to get money from me, I agreed to make the payment that would make my book available to Hollywood Producers, and especially to Thruline Entertainment. The result was Authorhouse having a specialist turn my book into a synopsis for the producers to read and make a decision about adapting it to the screen.

I am expecting a call about the adaptation in late December. It will be a decisive call that will be a yes or no as to whether or not Thruline will accept it, but it does not rule out any other producer taking it on.

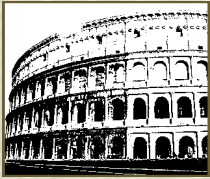

The book is in 35 different bookstore chains around the world including Barnes and Noble for about 10 months now. I plan to embark on an advertising campaign for it sometime in the future.

The Ancient Roman Coliseum

Contributing to over 50,000,000 martyrdoms by the Catholic Church

Of all the work I did at the LoPortos restaurant, this was the mural I didn't approve of—because it wasn't my idea. Although the gladiators are represented as warriors, like they were in reality in Rome, the absurdity of the Coliseum was always cloaked with legends of heroism. It was actually an emperor's way of compelling slavery with blood and guts, and most of the time the Roman Emperor punished the Christian, namely the Anabaptist, for their fervent love for Christ that represented freedom. The Catholic church of course was behind it, as it was the state church of Rome and eventually around the world. You can buy a small booklet, like I've had for years, that outlines the persecution of the Anabaptist and other Christians by going to The Trail of Blood by JM Carrol. You can also read online about what these coliseums were really for by going to History of the Roman Coliseum.

The Pope as he is shown here (to the far right), was a delegate to any Emperor and he justified the murder of innocent people, mostly the poor, who disagreed with the Roman Catholic Church which came from Constantine. There is a tract you can use to teach people about the Roman Catholic church by going to gospel tracts and selecting tract 5. The drawing here is based on the Pope as he historically rode through the city with the heads of the dead Christians stuck on poles in the ground and burned. How much more can you hate Jesus Christ? And the Pope's excuse for doing this is what compelled Roman Emperors to build Coliseums to make the killing even more gory and become a sport for the wealthy to watch.

The Catholic church's martyrdoms totaled over 50,000,000 in a 1,000 year span after the death of Christ in an effort to snuff out Christianity so that Rome could rule the world. A pagan Rome did in fact rule the world, but they are not ruling it now. God gave us an America that came from the plea of the martyrs in God's ears, and it was maintained by the blood of our veterans who fought in the American wars, and we are using our freedoms to enjoy the pleasures of affluent life. Would it be that we could dedicate ourselves to the work that the martyrs would have been pleased with? We should be reading our Bibles, going to church, praying and soul winning.
