This is a FREE Paper Pieced Pattern. I created the Crazee Patch Heart several years ago, when my Saturday Sewing Group made a quilt to raise money for a Breast Cancer Quilt Fundraiser. I used it again about 3 years ago when several bloggers created a Heart Quilt for a friend who was battling Breast Cancer. I made a Sweetheart Quilted Box using the Crazee Patch Heart for a Project Quilting Challenge in 2011. I also shrunk the pattern with my printer and made a few mini quilts.

I am not sharing instructions for the construction process for paper piecing. You can get the instructions everywhere on the internet.

The Heart is a 7 inch Square Quilt Block. You can add borders to make it larger. Or shrink it with your printer and make it smaller.

I have used the Crazee Patch Heart for several quilted projects and I will continue to use it over and over again.

Pages 3, 4, and 5 are photos of quilted projects using the Crazee Patch Heart.
