This is the entrance to the news and sports room. The "triangles" on top of the pigeon-holes are name cards for the TV set. Next to the mailbox is the rack of empty sports carts for "actualities" (tapes of interviews made especially for use in sports casts). The two signs on the door read as follows: "News Room" and "Shea Stadium 9,875 Miles." Shea Stadium is where the Mets play baseball.

The sports corner. Its sometimes looked neater than this but seldom so during the early mornings. Bob Mays always cleaned up before he left in the morning.

SP5 Bob Brossia, USA, the Country and Western DJ for AFVN. He was quite a character, and had a great sense of humor. As proof, the hair is obviously a wig!

He tried harder than anyone to get it "just right" when doing air work. He was the floor director for the TV newscasts at times.

Bob was from Toledo, Ohio.

You can see the "on-air" studio through the window. Each of the TV displays above the window have a special function. The director's control panel is barely visible at the left.

The brilliant glare on the set is from the overhead lights, which are necessary for the TV cameras to pick up a clear image. The little projector, lower center, puts back-up slides behind the broadcaster to help illustrate the subject.
