

Internal Reflections
March 21, 2018

For the last week Holy Spirit has been showing me how the last few seasons of my life are coming full circle. When you have a full circle then you have a new beginning. Everything the Lord is prompting me to do for these seasons coming up are products of things He has revealed to me in recent years.

The following video is just another tool He used to further show me this. It was yet another confirmation that I am moving in the right direction.

There is one thing I will add as far as the main message in this video. Every place that Joseph was made to be a slave, he gained favor from men. Once our internal is balanced and free, we come to a deeper place in the Lord and we can (and are called to) have authority over wherever we are (whatever hellish place we may be occupying at the time).

Watch and absorb this message. It is powerful for anyone who chooses to glean from it.
