DISCORD

A voice communication program for people who want to chat and play games. Released in 2015, and updated in 2017. It's a terrific platform FREE to use. Millions worldwide use DISCORD because it's a high-quality program you can either download, or use straight on your web browser, and it's a very convenient tool because it gathers all your social media profiles and makes it easy for friends and family to contact you. DISCORD allows users to build their own dedicated server infrastructure, and fully customize the server they use with a very low-latency clear flow of speech. DISCORD offers the option to have video chats, or if you don't want to talk using your microphone, you can text friends and family. Discord has an extremely high-quality APP available for android and apple users. Everything is 100% FREE but if you choose to support DISCORD you can subscribe to the NITRO service for a $4.99 monthly subscription. With a premium subscription you get an animated avatar, boosted upload limit, use of custom emojis everywhere, and cool badge that is displayed on your profile. I personally recommend DISCORD and give it a 10/10 in all areas. The functionality of the APP is incredible, and most important it's very user friendly. The official website is www.discordapp.com

Razer Phone

The NEW Razer Phone is the best phone I've ever seen and raises the standard of what a phone should be. An amazing screen with Ultra motion technology delivers a refresh rate of up to 120 Hz. So, when you are playing games, or just watching a movie, there is zero chance of having any lag time. The Razer Phone also has built inside a Quad HD display that produces an extremely sharp picture, and the built-in audio system for the phone is brought to you by Dolby Atmos and, certified by THX with the highest-quality sound myself or anyone I've spoken to has heard coming from a smart phone. The design of the Razer Phone is optimized for performance with a stunning 8GB of ram which is totally insane for a phone. The power and performance is unmatched to anything anyone has ever seen. If you love to take pictures this phone is for you because it is outfitted with dual 12MP cameras that snap incredibly sharp photos and has a wide-angle lens and 2x telephoto, so you are guaranteed to snap beautiful pictures. The phone is equipped with an amazing 4,000mah battery — one of the largest size batteries any smart phone has ever had, and stays going all day long without worrying about having to recharge it. Razer is an amazing gaming company that produces some of the finest gaming accessories known to man. I am very pleased that they finally entered the cell phone market and released this first-class phone.

Razer Blade Pro Laptop

I am 28 years old, have used computers for 20 years, owned and played games on an extensive number of various computers; used them for business (social networking, web site design, client product marketing); used different computers at the Los Angeles Film School studying to get my Computer Science Degree; and because I love gaming, I play every day. But, the experience I have using the new Razer Blade Pro is indescribable. The laptop is sleek, professional looking, very thin, lightweight, perfect to take to business meetings or travel with. If you like to game, but also need a computer for work that is high performance, this is the computer for you. The display has a touch screen with a 17.3 inch monitor, and G-sync technology, with a 16:9 ratio with 3840x2160 resolution and LED back-lighting. The Razer Blade Pro comes with a super powered NVIDIA GeForce GTX 1080 graphics card. I have this video card and it's the highest-quality and best-running video card on the market. The Razer Blade Pro is equipped with 32GB of DDR4 memory — more than anyone needs to use a very high amount of ram, and the operating system is Windows 10 64 bit, with a huge storage capability using the best SSD drives you can buy. It also features Killer wireless and Ethernet capabilities which are my favorite. I've been using Killer for years. It's on all my personal computers for work and home. The Razer Blade Pro has a anti-ghosting back-lit-ultra low-profile mechanical keyboard great to the touch, and it looks fantastic. The audio is by Dolby, and uses the highest quality speakers made. Weight 7.8 lbs; height 22.5mm; width 424mm; depth 1281mm. This laptop is extraordinary and VR capable... awesome because today, everything is turning to virtual reality. Has to be my #1 pick for a laptop.
