

September 2020 REDS

---

Duero River Valley Reds

The Duero River valley offers shelter to some of Spain's greatest wine regions. It originates high in the mountain range Sistema Ibérico, and eventually empties into the Atlantic Ocean at Oporto, the city in Portugal that gives its name to a famous fortified wine. Duero River vineyards are very high in elevation - that altitude brings advantages, such as long and cool growing conditions and cool-to-cold night time temperatures that preserve acidity resulting in fresh food friendly red wines.

Abadia de Acon Joven Tempranillo 2019
