the comprehensive management of water resources”; also noting, in its Policy 4.4 “Guarantee sustainable public financing minimizing the effects on future generations”; Y,

That, By virtue of Resolution No. PLE-CPCCS-TO-081-13-08-2018, issued by the Council for Citizen Participation and Transitory Social Control on August 13, 2018, the plenary session of the National Assembly took office as Superintendent of Economy Popular and Solidarity to Dr. Sofía Margarita Hernández Naranjo, on September 4, 2018.

In exercise of its powers, resolves to issue the following:

CONTROL STANDARD FOR THE MANAGEMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL AND SOCIAL RISK IN SAVINGS AND CREDIT COOPERATIVES AND MUTUAL ASSOCIATIONS OF SAVINGS AND CREDIT FOR HOUSING

SECTION I SCOPE AND PURPOSE

Article 1.- Scope.-The provisions of this rule will apply to savings and credit cooperatives and mutual savings and credit associations for housing, which will hereinafter be called "entity", or "entities", whose percentage of participation in the segment of microcredit, in number of operations and/or in volume, is greater than 20%, with respect to its total credit portfolio.

Article 2.- Purpose.-The purpose of this standard is to establish the provisions that entities must observe for the management of the environmental and social risk of the credits they grant, based on the economic activity of the partner or client. If the partner or client has more than one activity, the one with the highest risk will be taken as a reference for the application of this standard; considering as complementary elements the size of the financed activity, its location and the significant adverse environmental and social impacts.

It will be the obligation of each entity in its due diligence process, to verify that the financed economic activity has the permits and other legal requirements established by the State through the Ministry of the Environment, Water and Ecological Transition (MAATE), or whoever makes its times, or of the Decentralized Autonomous Governments (GADS), as appropriate.

SECTION II DEFINITIONS

Article 3.- Definitions.-For the purposes of this standard, the following definitions shall apply:

UNOFFICIAL TRANSLATION

- a) Main economic activity: it is the one that adds the most value to the economic activity of the applicant. In objective terms, it is the activity that generates the highest volume of sales in a specific and comparable time frame;
- b) Secondary economic activity: It is understood as any activity that generates products destined ultimately to third parties and that is not the main activity of the applicant;
- c) Sensitive economic activities: detail of those economic activities or sectors that, due to their possible implicit environmental and social impacts, may be considered risky, regardless of the amount requested;
- d) Environmental, Social and Governance Factor (ESG): strategies and practices that incorporate these three factors into investment and active ownership decisions, with a view to minimizing risks and maximizing returns;
- e) ISIC International Standard Industrial Classification Code: hierarchical structure that classifies economic activities into a series of categories and subcategories, each with its own alphanumeric code. The categories at the top level of the classification are called sections, which are categories identified by an alphabetic code (AU). Activities are placed into increasingly detailed categories, identified by a numerical code: two digits for Divisions; three digits for Groups; four digits for Classes; five digits for Subclasses; and, six digits for economic activity at the most detailed level;
- f) International Finance Corporation (IFC).- Institution that promotes economic development and the improvement of people's quality of life, by encouraging the growth of the private sector in developing countries, which publishes the IFC1 exclusion list.
- g) Due Diligence (DD): evaluation carried out by the entity to identify and mitigate the socio-environmental risks and impacts associated with an economic activity, evaluate its compliance with the applicable standards and establish corrective or preventive actions to mitigate the social and environmental risks and impacts;
- h) Sustainable development: economic activity that enables the present generation to meet its social, economic and environmental needs, without harming the ability of future generations to meet theirs;
- i) Climate Finance: local, national or transnational financing from public, private and alternative financing sources, which seeks to support mitigation and adaptation actions that emphatically address climate change;
- j) Sustainable finance: correspond to financing, institutional arrangements and related market mechanisms, which contribute to the achievement of solid, sustainable, balanced and inclusive growth, through direct and indirect support to the framework of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) Nations (UN) and the Paris Agreement (AP);
- k) Green Finance: financing of investments that provide environmental benefits in the broader context of sustainable development; that is, beyond what climate finance encompasses;
- l) Inclusive green finance: provision of useful and affordable financial products and services that take into account the characteristics and needs of segments of the population, normally excluded from the financial system and more vulnerable to

- climate risks, that allow generating or creating resilience for adaptation and mitigation of the impacts of climate change;
- m) greenwashing: the practice of gaining an unfair competitive advantage by marketing a financial product as environmentally friendly, when in fact it does not meet basic environmental standards;
 - n) Environmental impact: any modification of the environment caused by works or human activities that have as a positive or negative, direct or indirect consequence, affect life in general, biodiversity, the quality or a significant quantity of natural or environmental resources and their use, well-being, health, personal safety, habits and customs, cultural heritage or legitimate livelihoods;
 - o) Social and environmental baseline: exhaustive description of the environmental and social situation prior to the development of the economic activity;
 - p) Exclusion list: detail of the specific activities to which a certain subject of credit is dedicated, to which the entity may not provide financing, in strict adherence to local regulations or international standards in environmental and social matters;
 - q) Environmental permit: document issued by the control authority that guarantees compliance with current environmental regulations;
 - r) Precautionary principle: in case of doubt or uncertainty about the environmental impact that any action or omission may generate, even if there is no scientific evidence of the damage, the most demanding actions should be taken to prevent environmental damage;
 - s) Pro-nature principle: in case of doubt about the scope of the legal provisions on environmental matters, they will be applied in the sense most favorable to the protection of nature;
 - t) Reputational risk: risk to which entities are exposed due to potentially negative publicity associated with bad environmental and social practices of a partner or client. This damages the value of the entity's brand and image in the media, with the public, with the business and financial community, and even with its own staff;
 - u) Social and environmental risk: possibility of economic losses for the entity due to the concurrence of social conflicts related to the development of projects, which may have a significant impact on the social or environmental aspect in which the project is developed;
 - v) Environmental and Social Risk Management System (SARAS): It constitutes a set of policies, procedures, tools and internal capabilities for an easy and timely identification, evaluation and management of environmental and social risks generated by its partners or clients. A SARAS must be understood as a risk management tool to be integrated into the management system for all risks of an Entity; such as credit, liquidity, market and reputational risks, mainly; Y,
 - w) Sustainability: meeting the social, economic and environmental needs of the present generation, without harming the ability of future generations to meet theirs.

SECTION III

ENVIRONMENTAL AND SOCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT SYSTEM - SARAS

UNOFFICIAL TRANSLATION

Article 4.- Basic Elements of a SARAS.-In order to implement a SARAS, entities must have at least:

- a) Environmental and Social Risk Management Policy;
- b) Definition of Roles and Responsibilities;
- c) SARAS Procedures Manual; Y,
- d) Management reports.

Article 5.- Environmental and Social Risk Management Policy.-The SARAS policy must be in writing and formally approved by the Board of Directors. It must include, at least, the following aspects:

- a) An initial statement that emphasizes the commitment of the board of directors and Management with the sustainability of its operations;
- b) A detail of the principles and conceptual framework on which the document is based;
- c) The environmental regulations of the country and the international standards that are considered as the basis of the scheme and as sources of determining reference to establish excluded or sensitive economic activities;
- d) State categorically the exclusion of financing for economic activities that do not comply with the SARAS Policy;
- e) Indicate the general methodology to be used for the application of environmental and social risk management to all financed economic activities;
- f) Define the objective, mission, vision and scope regarding the environment and the contribution to sustainable development, roles and responsibilities for the application of SARAS;
- g) Highlight the continuous training of personnel and the allocation of resources in order to strengthen the management of environmental and social risks;
- h) The mechanism and periodicity for reviewing and updating the SARAS policy to adapt it to the growing demands in environmental matters;
- i) Mandatory nature and frequency of reports regarding the application of SARAS to internal and external stakeholders;
- j) Linking the SARAS Policy with other regulatory documents of the entity;
- k) Establish an external communication mechanism (for the projects it finances when they are of high and/or medium socio-environmental risk); Y,
- l) Recognize the internal and external environmental and social impacts that the entity identifies in the execution of its operations, products and services; and establish actions to address or mitigate them.

Article 6.-Definition of functions and responsibilities in the Management of Environmental and Social Risks.-The SARAS designed and implemented by the entity must establish functions and responsibilities at the following levels according to the organizational structure of the entity:

UNOFFICIAL TRANSLATION

- a) Board of directors: approves the environmental and social risk management policy and procedures; and it is up to you to enforce them. Take on the role of maximum responsible in relation to the administration of environmental and social risks of the entity. For these purposes you must:
1. Allocate the necessary resources for the proper management of social and environmental risk, in order to have the appropriate infrastructure, methodology and personnel;
 2. Approve the operations manual that includes the provisions established in this standard;
 3. Know the situation of its partners or clients that could generate social and environmental risk and establish policies that allow its mitigation;
 4. Establish an adequate system of delegation of powers and segregation of functions, related to the management of social and environmental risk;
 5. Ensure that the entity has an effective environmental and social risk management, and that the main identified associated risks are under control within the limits that have been established; Y,
 6. Define, as part of the risk admission policies, the minimum requirements that debtors must meet in social and environmental matters.
- b) Supervisory Council: the Supervisory Board, for an adequate implementation of comprehensive risk management, will verify that:
1. The Comprehensive Risk Management Committee fulfills its functions and responsibilities;
 2. The Environmental and Social Risk officer complies and enforces policies, processes, procedures, methodologies and strategies in a correct and timely manner; Y,
 3. The Internal Auditor performs the evaluation on the application of this resolution.
- c) General management: The General Management, with respect to the implementation of SARAS, shall:
1. Ensure the effective implementation of the SARAS policy in accordance with the provisions of the Board of Directors;
 2. Approve the exceptions or modifications that are proposed to be made to the SARAS Policy prior to its presentation to the Board of Directors; Y,
 3. Designate an official of the entity, preferably credit risk, to assume responsibility for the application and permanent strengthening of SARAS.
- d) Risk Unit or Risk Manager: homologates the established policy, in accordance with the responsibilities assigned to them by the Board of Directors, verifying that it is applied correctly throughout the credit process. SARAS annual performance reports, submitted by the Environmental and Social Risk Officer.

- e) Internal audit: must include in its annual work planning the control of compliance with the SARAS policy and procedures and inform the Board of Directors of the results of the verifications carried out, mentioning the corresponding correction and improvement recommendations.
- f) Credit Committee: is the body responsible for deciding whether the environmental and social risks are acceptable in the proposed credit operation, considering these elements together with the financial information of the partner or client.
- g) Comprehensive Risk Management Committee: it is responsible for knowing, proposing, validating and/or recommending to the Board of Directors for its approval the policies, processes, methodology and tools for the management of SARAS. Applicable to financial entities of segment 1, 2, 3 and mutuals.
- h) Environmental and Social Risk Officer: is an official belonging to the credit risk area, who is assigned the responsibility of providing internal support for SARAS training to credit personnel. Depending on the organizational structure and commercial scope of the entity, the Environmental and Social Risk Officer must permanently review or coordinate the tasks related to environmental and social risks performed by other personnel; that is, loan officers, business executives, agency heads, or external consultants (if applicable), according to the functions of the personnel involved specified in the SARAS Procedures Manual. The main tasks of the Environmental and Social risk officer include:
 - a) Propose the SARAS Policy to the Board of Directors;
 - b) Participate in the construction of the methodology for the application of SARAS;
 - c) Support and assist the other areas of the entity in the application of SARAS;
 - d) Identify training and dissemination needs for adequate social and environmental risk management;
 - e) Carry out random validations of the environmental performance evaluation of a partner or client, in accordance with the information collected by the credit personnel in the due diligence, through on-site visits, collection of necessary environmental and social documentation, such as permits and authorizations in depending on the localities in which the partner or client operates;
 - f) Carry out supervision visits of activities categorized as high environmental and social risk, prior to the final decision being made by the Credit Committee;
 - g) Ensuring that all credit granting decisions are supported by due diligence documentation;
 - h) Ensure that the recommendations or conditions for environmental issues are incorporated into each loan or credit agreement;
 - i) Supervise that credits conditioned on environmental issues (Action Plan) comply with the proposed agreements, and which may include:
 - o Site visits;

UNOFFICIAL TRANSLATION

- Monitoring of the implementation of the environmental and social action plan, if applicable, by partners or clients; Y,
- The review of the facilities and documentation of the partners or clients and record of findings;
- j) Report environmental and social issues in the event of non-compliance and, where necessary, prepare a time-bound corrective action plan with procedures for specific follow-up; Y,
- k) Prepare reports related to Environmental and Social risks for internal or external stakeholders.

These specific roles of the environmental and social risk officer related to SARAS must be included in the respective functions manual of the entity.

Article 7.- SARAS Procedures Manual.-The entity must include in the SARAS credit procedure an illustrative scheme contained in Annex 1.

The SARAS Procedures Manual must contain at least provisions related to the following aspects:

- a) Exclusion List:The entity must detail a list of economic activities to which it will not offer financial services due to their negative environmental and social implications. Although the following list from IFC1 should be taken as a basis, the entity can expand the list according to its internal considerations.
 1. Production and trade of any project or activity considered illegal by national legislation or international conventions and treaties, such as pharmaceutical products considered illegal or subject to control, pesticides/herbicides, ozone-depleting substances, polychlorinated biphenyl compounds (PCBs, by their acronym in English), wild animals and plants or products derived from them, regulated in accordance with the provisions of the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora (CITES).
 2. Production or trade of arms and ammunition;
 3. Production or trade of alcoholic beverages (except beer and wine);
 4. Tobacco production or trade;
 5. Gambling games, casinos and equivalent companies;
 6. Production or trade of radioactive materials. This does not apply to the purchase of medical equipment, quality control equipment and any equipment that the IFC considers its source of trivial radioactivity and/or has appropriate protection;
 7. Production or trade of non-bonded asbestos fibres. It does not apply to the purchase and use of bonded asbestos cement in which the asbestos content is <20%;
 8. Fishing in the maritime environment with trawl nets greater than 2.5 km in length;
 9. Production or activities involving harmful or explosive forms of forced/child labour;

UNOFFICIAL TRANSLATION

10. Commercial logging operations for use, in primary tropical moist forests;
11. Production or marketing of wood or other forest products other than sustainably managed forests;
12. Production, marketing, storage or transportation of significant volumes of hazardous chemicals or commercial use of hazardous chemicals on a large scale. Hazardous chemicals include gasoline, kerosene, and other petroleum products; Y,
13. Production or activities that affect the lands that indigenous peoples own, or claim as their own before the competent authorities, without the full and documented consent of such peoples.

- b) Risk Categorization Methodology: The entity must define a methodology to assign the categorization of environmental and social risk to the credit applicant. In this categorization methodology, you must imperatively consider the economic activity of the partner or client, and optionally, the magnitude of the financial operation (proportionality) and the location of the business (territorial sensitivity).

The economic activity is that which is assigned from the origin of the application for the referential activity of the partner or client and which has been assigned a 6-digit ISIC code.

As a help tool for the designation of the categorization linked to economic activity, Annex 2 of this standard can be used. “Categorization by Economic Activity - Ecuador”.

To incorporate the variable of proportionality of the financial operation, the disaggregation by segments or sub-segments of credit can be used in accordance with what is established in the Rules that regulate the segmentation of the Credit Portfolio of the Entities of the National Financial System, issued by the Financial Policy and Regulation Board, which makes it easier to differentiate between microenterprise clients and Small and Medium Enterprises (SMEs), either by volume of credit or by level of annual sales.

To incorporate territorial sensitivity, the geographical location of the economic activity will be considered, linking it with some data or reference related to protected areas, buffer zones or biodiversity, which the regulatory body makes available to the public.

Both the proportionality element and the territorial sensitivity element are optional; while risk allocation by economic activity is mandatory.

- c) Risk Categorization Process: The categorization process can be implemented through a parameterized scheme with the aforementioned information inputs (economic activity, magnitude of the operation and/or location) or it can be applied through the use of lists of initial questions whose answers guide the case towards a category of environmental risk and social risk.

1. The categorization of environmental risk: it should lead to only three possible levels: High, Medium or Low.
 - a) High Risk Level: designated for economic activities that may generate significant environmental and social impacts that are diverse, irreversible or unprecedented;
 - b) Medium Risk Level: designated for economic activities that may generate limited adverse impacts, that are few in number, generally localized to specific sites, mostly reversible, and easily addressed through mitigation measures; Y,
 - c) Low Risk Level: designated for activities that pose minimal or no adverse environmental and social risks and/or impacts.
 2. Categorization of social risk: there is no direct link with the type of activity as it happens with the environmental risk, therefore, to facilitate its application, this evaluation will be linked to the due diligence environmental evaluation that is applied in accordance with the environmental risk category assigned. For the practical case of its application in microcredit operations, the social issue is limited to three specific elements: working conditions; occupational health and safety application; and, gender issues.
- d) Due Diligence Process: Activities categorized as high and medium risk must undergo a Due Diligence process, while activities categorized as low risk do not require additional evaluation processes for their environmental and social performance. Although it is not mandatory, it is subject to the entity's criteria to apply a social assessment to low environmental risk activities.

For risk activities categorized as high and medium, the entity must apply procedures and formats for gathering additional information related to the environmental and social performance of the partner or client, considering the following inputs:

Environmental component: Specific information should be collected, which should include:

1. Verification of compliance with environmental regulations by presenting their respective environmental permit (Certificate, Registration or License); Y,
2. Information that allows identifying possible effects on the soil, air, water, biodiversity and waste management. At this point, as a reference, the guide questionnaires shown in Annex 3. "Minimum verification list of environmental performance" can be used as basic inputs.

UNOFFICIAL TRANSLATION

Social component: This component will focus on exclusive questions related to objective evaluations of working conditions, the application of occupational health and safety measures, and gender issues. The guide questionnaires shown in Annex 4. "Minimum verification list of social performance" can be taken as basic inputs.

Activities categorized as high impact must go through an additional information review procedure through the designated environmental risk officer or through the intervention of an internal or external specialist.

The identification of critical points, in terms of the social and environmental performance of the partner or client, must be clearly visible in this evaluation phase and categorically reflected in the documentation that is sent for the final decision on the credit operation.

- e) Decision-making process: Environmental and social risk assessment through the due diligence process can lead to four possible options:
1. That there is no identification of significant environmental and social risks, in which case the usual process for rating the credit operation by the corresponding instance must be continued;
 2. That the amount of the requested credit will be used exclusively for the application of corrective or mitigation measures of the identified environmental impacts, event in which the entity may continue with the processing of the credit application;
 3. That environmental risks are identified with respect to which the partner or client is willing to formalize its commitment to apply corrective measures after disbursement. In that case, the credit committee or designated body may accept and formalize the application of such commitment; Y,
 4. That significant environmental risks are identified, regarding which the applicant does not show interest in applying corrective measures, in which case the entity must reject the credit request.

The reasons related to environmental and social risk for the decision made by the corresponding instance, whether for the approval or denial of the credit operation, must be reflected in the minutes of the committee or in the corresponding internal document.

The measures and commitments corresponding to the environmental issue agreed upon with the partner or client must be recorded in writing in the Action Plan before the disbursement and for the respective follow-up.

The Action Plan must contain at least:

1. Activity to execute, described in the most limited and clear way possible;
2. Date of compliance and verification;
3. Responsible within the entity to complete this information;

UNOFFICIAL TRANSLATION

4. The actions that the entity will take in the event of non-compliance, such as declaring the granted credit overdue, not granting new credit operations, among others; Y,
 5. Signature of the partner or client.
- f) Control and follow up:The entity must verify and evaluate compliance with the agreements related to the mitigation of environmental and social risks arising from the decision-making process. This evaluation must be done within the terms provided in the Action Plan and must be recorded in the file of the partner or client in physical or digital form for subsequent reports. In case of non-compliance with what is stipulated in the action plan, the entities will be in charge of taking the actions that, according to their competences, contribute to the fulfillment of this regulation.
- g) Complaints and reports:The manual must contain a section on the procedure for dealing with complaints or claims.

SECTION IV CONTROL AND FOLLOW UP

Article 8.-Control and monitoring system.- The control and monitoring system must provide for the following aspects:

1. Report and information;
2. Diffusion; Y,
3. Supervision.

Article 9.- Report and information.-Entities must disclose information on their policies, processes and procedures for Environmental and Social Risk Management, for which they must have a reporting and information process. Until January 31 of each year, entities must submit to the Superintendency of Popular and Solidarity Economy an Annual Environmental and Social Risk Management Report, attaching the minutes of the Board of Directors meeting where said report was approved.

The annual report must contain at least:

- a) A description of the actions carried out internally to strengthen institutional capacities for the correct implementation or improvement of SARAS;
- b) A description of the training hours allocated by the entity's staff on SARAS, mentioning the technical capacity of the organization or the specialist who provided the training. Workshops or events led by the Environmental Risk Officer should also be included in terms of staff training;
- c) Include a breakdown of the portfolio broken down by high, medium or low risk level with their respective number of operations and volume of credit disbursed as of December 31;
- d) Details of the 10 operations with the highest amount rated as high environmental risk. This detail must contain at least: the number or code of the operation, the economic activity, the full name or business name or denomination of the borrower, the amount of credit granted, the date of disbursement and a brief description of the actions taken with that case;

- e) Detail of the operations that were admitted for financing conditional on an agreed Action Plan. This detail must contain at least: the number or code of the operation, the economic activity, the full name or company name or denomination of the borrower, the amount of credit granted, the date of disbursement and a succinct description of the actions recommended in this document. case and follow-up result;
- f) Detail of complaints received about environmental and social risks of economic activities financed by the entity. This detail must contain at least: date of receipt, place of the event, sender (may be anonymous), name or business name of the complainant, description of the procedure carried out to confirm or rule out that complaint; Y,
- g) Description of the actions to be implemented during the coming year to improve the SARAS and the assigned budget.

Article 10.- Diffusion.-Entities must publish their Environmental and Social Risk Management Policy and the Exclusion List on their respective internet portals.

Likewise, in this section they must include a mechanism for complaints or claims for environmental damage of economic activities financed by the entity.

Article 11.- Supervision.-The Superintendence of Popular and Solidarity Economy will define the mechanisms to monitor progress in the implementation of this resolution by the entities.

Likewise, you may request at any time, all the information you deem necessary to comply with these regulations.

The controlled entities must submit to this Control Body all the information related to this standard, in the terms and formats determined.

GENERAL LAYOUT.-Cases of doubt in the application of this rule will be resolved by the Superintendence of Popular and Solidarity Economy.

TRANSITORY DISPOSITIONS

FIRST.- Savings and credit cooperatives of all segments and mutual savings and credit associations for housing must implement the SARAS progressively over a period of two years from the present date, in accordance with the following schedule:

- a) Entities of segments 1 and 2 in 9 months;
- b) Entities of segment 3 in 12 months;
- c) Entities of segments 4 and 5 in 24 months; Y,

UNOFFICIAL TRANSLATION

d) Mutualist Associations of Savings and Credit for Housing in 9 months if they have microcredits in their portfolio.

SECOND.-Entities must submit to the Superintendence of Popular and Solidarity Economy the information required in article 9 of this regulation, as of January of the year following compliance with the schedule provided for in the First Transitory Provision.

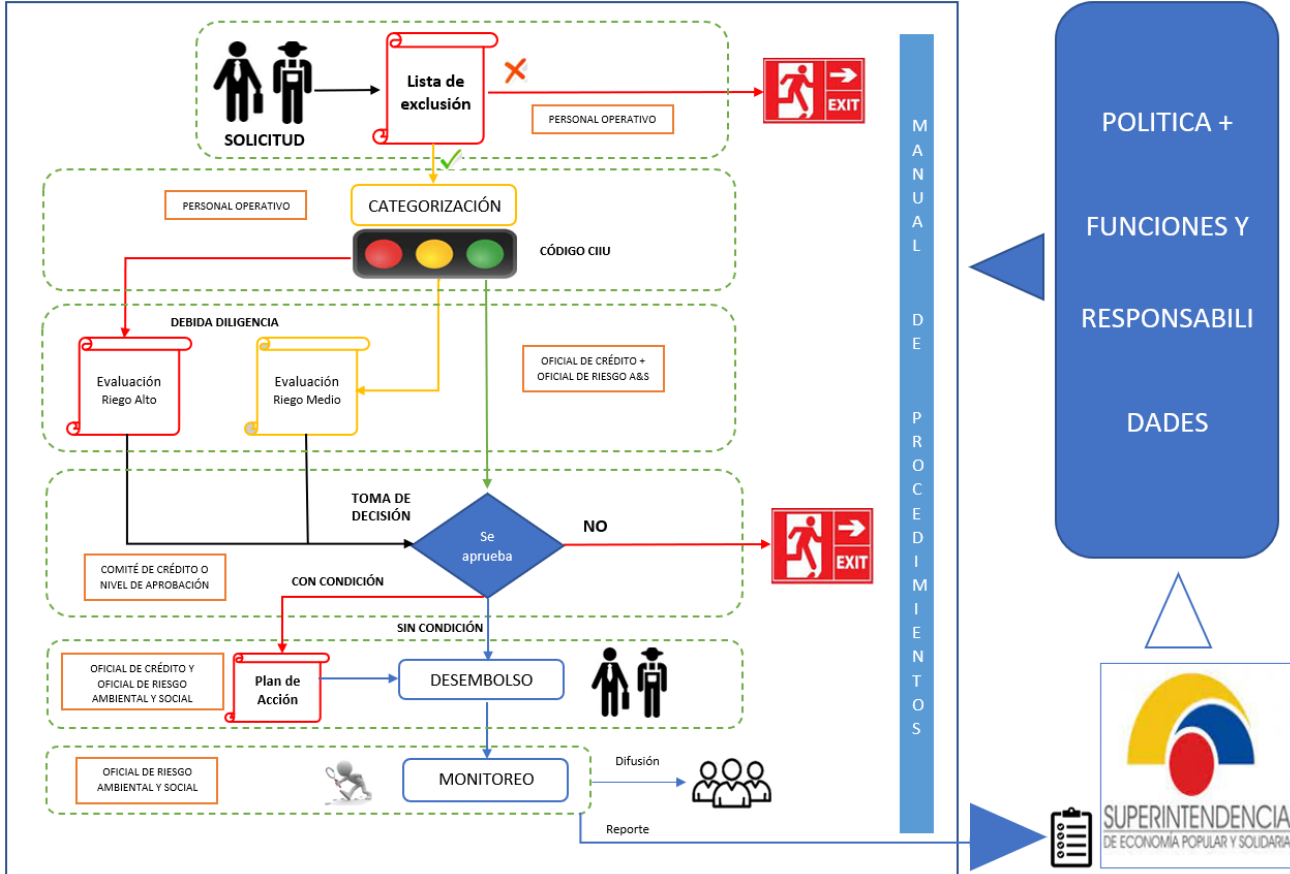

FINAL DISPOSITION.-This rule will enter into force as of its subscription, without prejudice to its publication in the Official Registry. Be published on the website of this Superintendence.

COMPLY AND NOTIFY.-Given and signed in the city of San Francisco de Quito, Metropolitan District, to
