

Comfort The Suffering

July 21st, 2022

Lord, help us to see Your suffering in the suffering of others and to respond with comfort.

And before this came on with father, I was talking to the Lord about any missteps I might have made and He said,

“But here we are in My agony, and these things are so nothing more than trifles. Yes, comfort Me because My agony is beyond imagining. I know what must eventually happen, but even now the suffering is beyond comprehension, and living in these souls, I feel every bit. “

That is what he is suffering for, the combined sufferings of the world at this moment and in the “newar” future.

Now this is interesting. The near future came out, n-e-w-a-r future. New-war future. Right? That is very interesting.

Jesus, Jesus, Jesus!!!

And He said, “All that you can do is comfort and pray, comfort and pray. Your music comforts Me, Beloved. Can you please grab hold of that? It comes from your heart and lungs and goes into My Heart. Let Me play through you and we will both be comforted.”

And I said, Lord I need a new grace to just play.

And He said, “It is coming, do not despair.

“You can see the suffering of the whole world on his face just as you saw it on Mine. Comfort, comfort, comfort. It doesn’t matter to Me that you are eating, because I know you are hungry beyond distraction.”

Well, let me fill in a little bit here. I did not eat before we came into prayer, so I have been nibbling because my stomach was totally distracting me from the Lord. And also, just to explain, Ezekiel was going through the Passion, which just started shortly after we came into prayer. And I went back to see him, and he was really, really suffering. So, the Lord is sharing a message on that. And it is people throughout the world who are suffering, and you can see it in the Lord’s face, and you can see it in Ezekiel’s face.

And then He said, “When he is like this, you can see the people throughout the world who are suffering. I am here, I am near, we are together as one. Do not doubt, just continue.

“So, as I told you before, this does not bother Me, because I understand.”

Ok. It does not really bother me that I was eating, and He said, “But as I told you before, this does not bother Me because I understand, however, others will not, so you must be careful.

“What more can I say? The expression on his face tells it all because he has united himself with My very own sufferings. What a treasure he has been given.

“My children, comfort Me in the afflicted. When you see suffering do what you can, do what is yours to do to alleviate it. Do not walk by, forgetting My agony. Rather lift the burden, with a prayer or word or music to soothe the soul. But do not walk by without any response. Do what you can do, take these sufferings upon yourself to lighten the burdens of a victim soul. Yet all of you are called to different works, do not neglect what I have specifically given you, but do take breaks to comfort the afflicted. I know this is in your heart Clare, and I give you full permission to comfort him when he is like this. And yes, your Rosary Prayers are very powerful.

“An amazing force because it supplies whatever is needed by the soul. It conforms to the need, bringing comfort to the most attacked and separated souls. You all get a turn where you need this kind of comforting. And it is always Me under the disguise of you or another soul, that you comfort. You know that I suffer with each soul, therefore when you see them suffering, you can know that I am right there with them. Do not waste any time arguing with yourself, just respond in charity and comfort Me.

“There are times coming when many will need this comfort from My Bride. Children, be there for one another, in rain, and wind and snow, be there to take away the pains of the suffering. It is not always about being healed, rather it is about knowing that someone cares enough to keep them company.”

And that was the end of His message.
