Course Description:

This non-language Specific, Non-Instructor Led (NIL), three (3) credit hour, Instructor led course, will outline and familiarize the participant with current terminology and trends as it pertains to the “Dark Web” and criminal based Social Media. With social media at the forefront of our society, and heavily represented in criminal and civil courts, knowledge of social media terminology and criminal based social terminology is a must. Learn about the “Onion”, “Block Chain Fraud” and many other terms and processes that are gaining widespread popularity within criminal circles and end up at the center of criminal investigations, and ultimately the courtroom. Through a combination of provided video resources, self-guided terminology, word matching, and a question and answer exam, the language professional can expect to gain a better understanding as to terminology and descriptions used during cyber based investigations and courtroom proceedings.

Presenter Bio:

With over 25 years law enforcement and judicial system experience, Mr. Jeff Torres brings with him a vast amount of first hand knowledge and experience in all areas of our current judicial environment. As both an investigator and supervisor in many high-level felony investigations which include, Homicide, Robbery, Narcotics, Sexual Assault, Domestic Violence and Death Investigation to name a few. Mr. Torres’ knowledge of criminal justice investigative processes and procedures brings to the language professional many years of industry specific terminology and procedure-based knowledge from both the “field” and justice system perspective. Mr. Torres experience extends to the court system where he oversaw law enforcement and security operations for a California Superior Court. His daily interaction with court proceedings, interpreters, court officers, court administration, court assigned deputies and the general public gives him a unique global perspective into the daily operations of our justice system and those who practice professionally within.
