Table of Contents

Chapter One: Phoebe Lands in Ancient Greece 1100 BCE

Phoebe arrives in Ancient Greece right outside the city of Troy. She learns from a boy named Anatolius about the culture of Greece before she has to hide from an imminent (probable) threat.

Chapter Two: Phoebe Meets Cleopatra 47 AD

Phoebe learns about Ancient Egypt and their Culture from none other than Cleopatra herself. She also is able to meet Julius Caesar and try to convince him to help Cleopatra.

Chapter Three: Phoebe Visits Medieval Europe 400-1500 AD

Phoebe sees what it's like to become a knight and learns the difference between history and legends when it comes to the great and mythological King Arthur.

Chapter Four: Phoebe Meets Michelangelo in 1504

Phoebe meets Michelangelo and learns about the Renaissance. She also gains knowledge from this experience how to express empathy even to those with a bad temper and poor manners.

Chapter Five: The Boston Tea Party

Phoebe joins Sam Adams in the Boston Tea Party. She learns from him all about the American Revolution and American culture at the time. She also gains knowledge about the British treatment of America.

Chapter Six: Phoebe Appears in Paris, France during the Revolution

Phoebe meets Robespierre, an important historical figure of Revolutionary France and attempts to teach him some lessons about empathy. She also shows kindness to another girl her age who needs help supporting her family.

Chapter Seven: The Trail of Tears

Phoebe concludes her journey by meeting a group of Cherokee Native Americans on their journey through Arkansas. She learns the more from them about the importance of empathy, kindness, and compassion in their culture.
