COURT OF APPEAL FOR ONTARIO
TRIBUNAL APPELÉ
MAR 22 2018
CLERK OF COURT OFFICER
COURT D'APPEL DE L'ONTARIO

NOTICE OF APPEAL

The Plaintiff, Paul Taylor APPEALS to the Court of Appeal for Ontario from the judgment of Madam Honour Justice Parsons, of the Ontario Superior Court of Justice, Ontario Court File No. 81/18, decision dated March 20, 2018, made at the Superior Court of Justice in Guelph, Ontario.

Parsons P.C.

THE APPELLANT ASKS that the judgment of Madam Honour Justice ~~Parsons~~ dated March 20, 2018, be set aside and a judgment be granted, as follows:

1. That the applicant’s application for Judicial Review – Writ of Mandamus be granted, which specifically requests that the court order contain the following:
 - a. The Workplace Safety & Insurance Board – WSIB, hold an oral hearing within five days and a decision within five days after that; and if required
 - b. The Workplace Safety & insurance Appeals Tribunal – WSIAT hold an oral hearing within five days and a decision within five days after that.
 - c. Alternatively, if the WSIB and or the WSIAT are not able to meet the time schedule then they MUST agree to pay whatever requested benefits in the interim, until the matter is resolved.

PT
THE GROUNDS OF APPEAL are as follows:

1. That Madam Justice ~~Parsons~~^{Petersen} committed an error of law when she stated that economic reasons were not a justification for a matter of urgency, which is contrary to numerous decisions handed down by the Supreme Court of Canada.
2. That Madam Justice ~~Parsons~~^{Petersen} committed an error of law when she claimed Mr. Taylor was responsible for submitting the medical documentation to the WSIB, when in fact it was the Doctor.
3. That Madam Justice ~~Parsons~~^{Petersen} committed an error of law when she failed to recognize the request for medical information was nothing more than an illegal act of retaliation. In doing has allowed justice to fail.
4. That Madam Justice ~~Parsons~~^{Petersen} committed an error of law when she failed to consider the Notice of Constitutional Question.

THE BASIS OF THE APPELLATE COURT'S JURISDICTION IS:

1. The Court of Appeal for Ontario has jurisdiction over this matter under section 6(b) of the Courts of Justice Act R.S.O. 1990
2. That the order of Justice Parsons is a final order of a Superior Court and no leave of the court is required.
