Presented By: Macomb County Historical Commissioners

Bette Jean was selected for this award because of her long-time commitment to genealogy and her ongoing support for the preservation of history in both Macomb County and the State of Michigan. She was considered by many to be a leading genealogical authority. Bette spent many, many years working with genealogical groups in Macomb County and regularly volunteered at the Roseville Michigan Family History Center. Bette's employment in the Mt. Clemens School District as Secretary to the Superintendent, gave her vast knowledge of not only of the history of the school district, but also of City of Mt. Clemens. She was known to have been very detailed in everything she did.
