“Sadly, too often, the stigma around mental health prevents people who need help from seeking it. But that simply doesn’t make any sense. Whether an illness affects your heart, your arm or your brain, it’s still an illness, and there shouldn’t be any distinction. We would never tell someone with a broken leg that they should stop wallowing and get it together... We shouldn’t treat mental health conditions any differently. Instead, we should make it clear that getting help isn’t a sign of weakness—it’s a sign of strength—and we should ensure that people can get the treatment they need.”

"When asked 'Did you seriously consider attempting suicide during the past 12 months?'

45.8% of LGB youth reported that they had seriously considered attempting suicide versus 13.5% of their non-LGB peers.

Similar results were found for transgender youth, with 49.2% admitting to having seriously considered suicide versus 15.2% of non-transgender youth.

When translated into real numbers, this indicates that in one year in Orange County approximately 7,065 middle school and high school LGBT youth seriously considered attempting suicide."
