“Lauren was a subcontractor to our company for several years. She consistently received high praise from her direct clients at the National Cancer Institute; the client made it a point to tell us she was necessary to their projects. She delivers high-quality work, is professional, has a great personality, and I hope to work with her in the future.” - Susan Mason

“Lauren is an extremely talented technical writer and information designer. She is an excellent writer but her artistic talent sets her apart and shines through in all of her deliverables. She is a joy to work with and very hard working. She always meets her deadlines and has great team spirit. I would not hesitate to recommend Lauren for any job, freelance or otherwise, that she might consider.” - Carolyn Kelley Klinger

“Lauren has managed a highly complex technical writing project at the National Cancer Institute for 4 years. She navigated working with a diverse group of high-level managers and personalities with aplomb and tact, and always met challenging deadlines with excellent work, often receiving accolades from the managers and stakeholders. She is a consummate professional. I recommend her highly.” - Jill Hadfield

“Lauren joined the Genomics Division of Gene Logic and made an immediate, positive impact on our service offerings through her expertise in technical writing and documentation generation and maintenance. Based upon the quality of her work, I highly recommend Lauren.” - Kellye K. Daniels, MS, PhD, DABT

“I would like to unqualifiedly recommend Lauren Anthone for any technical communication or information architecture position.

Lauren has worked for me as Documentation Manager at USWeb and marchFIRST for the past year and a half. In addition to her superb writing and graphics skills, Lauren has a sense of ownership and initiative that ensures outstanding production of every kind of technical documentation, both printed and online.

She has been an exemplary employee, manager, and colleague, and any organization will benefit from her many talents and her sense of integrity.” -Kit Bigler
