

Monty White is the General Manager for Colorado Professional Resources, LLC, located in Colorado Springs, Colorado. Colorado Professional Resources is a tribally-owned, small disadvantaged business providing professional services, training and operational support to state and federal clients. Monty is responsible for day-to-day office management and oversight of contract efforts. Monty joined Colorado Professional Resources, which was then Northern NEF, in 1986. He started as a systems analyst and deputy program manager before working his way up to Program Manager and then General Manager/Vice President. This began shortly after he retired from the U.S. Air Force.

Monty retired as a major after serving 16 years in the Air Force as a communications-electronics officer. He served in roles as Director of Plans and Programs, Chief of Operations, Chief of Combat Crew Communications, Chief of Maintenance, Commercial Communications Officer, Chief of Satellite Communications, and Squadron Commander. He served in places such as Columbus AFB, Mississippi; Hellenikon AB, Greece; Thule AFB, Greenland; Langley AFB, Virginia; and Peterson AFB, Colorado.

Prior to joining the Air Force through their Officer Training Program, Monty served six years in the U.S. Army Reserve. He completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, and stayed there for advanced individual training as a heavy equipment operator. He enlisted and initially served with a construction battalion in his home city of Fort Collins, Colorado. He relocated to attend college at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview, Texas, and served with a construction unit in Lubbock, Texas. After getting a bachelor of science degree in biology, Monty transferred to Reserve unit in Mesquite, Texas, where he served as a medic.

Monty is married to Mary E. (Billings) White. They have two children and five grandchildren.
