

1941 Packard Custom Super Clipper model 2106
By Robert Scott

I was attending the Packard Club National Meet in June of 2015 in Reading, PA and was walking the Parking lot behind the hotel as I often did in the evening to meet Packard owners and their cars.

I spied a 1947 Packard Custom Super Clipper in Atlantic Blue with its' hood up. I walked over and asked the owner if he was having trouble. He said “No, I was just showing the person here who sold the car to me that I had fully restored it and wanted him to look at it.” We began talking about the car and he suggested we take it to dinner...and I could drive it. What luck!! I had always liked the 41 to 47 Clippers and here was a man who had restored one.

Won First Prize in it's Class at Reading!

We had dinner and he shared his experience of buying and restoring the car. So, I learned a lot about the 2106. Later in the week of the Meet, a friend of his came to stay a few days and he happened to know of a member in another car club whose husband had bought a 2106 but had passed away before sending the car to Prueitt's. He put me in touch with her and we met and agreed on a price. The car was exceptionally original with 41,000 miles on the clock. Of course, this mileage is always questionable but the original interior was in excellent condition overall with just a few small things. The front end had been rebuilt as well as the engine, according to one of the previous owners – I had obtained his name from her. It appears a previous owner heard a ticking noise in the engine after he bought the car and so he rebuilt the engine. Hence, the beautifully detailed engine compartment.

I had Ross Miller check it out and he pronounced it a “good car”...a treasured seal of approval from him!!

As an owner of previous cars, 1956 Imperial, 1948 Buick and a 1975 Delta 88 Royal convertible, I knew I wanted a car that would not require a full restoration! This car fit the bill perfectly and that is why I bought it.

1. There are four of us now that have 2106 models and we have been trying to get all four together for a group photo but so far, only a session with 3 at Ross Miller's has been achieved...
