

Public Speaking Coach

1. Conference speaking
2. Convention speaker
3. Organisation speaker
4. Camp speaker

Each conference has its own theme or objective. The choice of speaker can either advance your cause or hinder it. All public speaking contracts must first fit within the parameters of my vision, values and personal mission statement.

The theme must be submitted along with the objectives desired, at least one month in advance. Where a relationship already exists, this may be waived.

The client is responsible for:

All air travel expenses (business class)
Car travel expenses (where applicable)
Hotel room expenses (24 hr room service)
Transport to and from Venue

$NZ 1700.00 per day (3 x 1hour sessions)
$NZ 3000.00 per week-end

Charitable organisations will receive significant cost reductions, and in keeping with my personal values 10% of all income is gifted to a local community church.

Please support a charity of your choice.

Small Group Services

Coaching is primarily conducted via a telephone call / conference call / MSN / or E-mail. Where geographical locations permit, (within 40km round trip) normal travel costs are included in the fee charged. Where significant distances are encountered, (over 40km round trip), travel expenses are billed separately. Room hire will be billed when required

Conference / small group topics

More often than not, the client has a greater understanding of the material that will best equip their personnel. In the event of a conference, the theme or objective is usually the best indicator for the content choice.

As a conference speaker, I am often called upon to present ten popular themes.

1. The coaching process
2. The power of hope
3. Discovering your destiny / Life purpose
4. The value of values
5. Vision, discovery and development
6. Leadership principles
7. Effective communication
8. Building a volunteer team
9. Transition is the way of life
10. Personal development

In selecting the most appropriate area of coaching, it may be profitable to provide me with areas that you believe would be of the greatest benefit to your organisation. After a brief consultation we can focus the contract.

Some clients find benefit in providing an open door policy with their team and the coach. Often issues arise in our sessions that are personal to a participant. Extending the services of the coach for out of hours consultation will build a sense of value to your team.
