

Krohn, Bruce

Bruce Krohn, 70, lifelong Elkton-area farmer, died Sunday evening, Oct. 28, 2001, while under hospice care. He was born Sept. 10, 1931, in Oliver Township at the home of his parents, Louise (Ewald) Krohn and the late Roy Krohn. He was at the same house, now his home, when he died. In his senior year at Elkton High School in 1949, he received the Star Farmer Award in State FFA competition. From that point on, he knew that farming was the path to choose. He went on to Michigan State University to further his education in agriculture before returning to the family farm. On Nov. 1, 1958, he was united in marriage to Barbara J. McGeachy at the Elkton Evangelical United Brethren Church. They lived and farmed northeast of Elkton all their married life. He was a member of the Elkton United Methodist Church, Aim High Farm Bureau Group and past president of the Huron County Corn Growers Association. Next to his wife and family, farming was truly the love of his life, retiring once but coming back to it a short time later. Surviving are his wife, Barbara; his son, Curtis Krohn and his wife, Cindy, of Bad Axe; his daughter, Carolyn Price and her husband, Mark, of Canton; his grandchildren, Chris and his wife, Julie, Casey, Caitlin, Amanda, Kyle and Natalie; his mother, Louise Krohn of Elkton; two brothers, Ronald Krohn and his wife, Donna, and Kenneth Krohn, both of Elkton; and his sister, Marge Hall and her husband, Richard, of Cass City. Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 31, 2001, at the Elkton United Methodist Church. The Rev. Rodney Sanderson-Smith, interim pastor, will officiate with burial in Riverside Cemetery, Elkton. Visitation is 2 to 9 p.m. today at Champagne Funeral Chapel in Elkton, and after 10 a.m. Wednesday at the church. Memorials may be given to Elkton United Methodist Church, Bay Shore Camp, Huron Memorial Hospice or the American Cancer Society.
