

The Womb

vs.

The Tomb

We are born and grow
in the womb;
we are buried and decay
in the tomb.

We enter and develop
in the womb;
we depart and dissolve
in the tomb.

The tomb is for
the end and death;
the womb is for
a start and life.

The tomb is
sterile and cold;
the womb is
fertile and warm.

A life of love
is a womb;
lacking compassion,
we're in a tomb..

A life of liberty
is a womb;
without freedom
we're in a tomb.

Planet earth
is a womb;
pollution and waste
change it
into a tomb.
Human potential
is a womb;
human malice
transforms it
into a tomb.

The family is called
to be a womb;
selfishness turns it
into a tomb.
Society is challenged
to be a womb;
sinfulness degrades it
into a tomb.

The evil of abortion:
the womb
has become a tomb.

The glory of Resurrection:
the tomb
has become a womb.
