Edilio Bermudez (strings)

Edilio Bermudez: Born and raised in Venezuela, Edilio began studying classical violin where he played with the Orquesta Nacional Juvenil. His success there led to a scholarship to study in Paris, France where he added bass guitar to his repertoire. Edilio played professionally in Latin bands in Paris, and continued to explore new styles of music. After discovering a love of jazz, he headed to Berklee College of Music where he studied for a diploma in performance. Edilio has always enjoyed sharing his love of music through teaching; since the early 80s, Edilio has taught violin, guitar, ukulele and bass to children and adults. In the course of his career, Edilio has played with many renowned musicians of various genres, including Nestor Torres, La India, Juan Gabriel, Julio Igelsias and Celia Cruz, and he continues to perform professionally.

Christine Petkus: Born and raised in Canada, Christine earned her bachelor's of music from the University of Ottawa, before relocating to the US and earning a Masters in Music from the New England Conservatory. Christine has performed in concert and opera in Canada, Europe and throughout the United States. A teacher for 20 years, Christine emphasizes strong, healthy technique and strives to instill a love of music in her students that will stay with them for a lifetime.
