Roger C. Jones, Esq. is the founding partner of Huddles Jones Sorteberg & Dachille, P.C., which was established in 1995 and has been recognized by U.S. News and World Report for several years as one of America's premier construction law firms. He has practiced construction and government contract law for over thirty-two years, which has taken him to construction projects all over the United States and even to some very remote regions in the mid-East. He has been in the bowels of the US Supreme Court, the Pentagon and Grand Central Station in New York. He has crawled through the skylights of the World Bank and walked through arenas, hospitals, office buildings, airports, laboratories, theme parks and museums during every phase of their construction. Each project is different, and each project comes with its own unique set of problems which have provided a wealth of experience for him to draw from.

Mr. Jones' career has involved cases relating to prestigious construction projects that include: The U.S. Capitol Visitor's Center, The U.S. Supreme Court Renovation, The Washington Monument Renovation, The Library of Congress Renovation, The New GSA ATF Headquarters Building, The National Zoo, The National Academy of Sciences Renovation, The National Museum of American History Renovation, The National Institute of Health Medical Building Renovation, The Johns Hopkins New Medical Center, The Johns Hopkins Bay View Medical Center, The VA Orlando Medical Center, Grady Memorial Hospital in Atlanta, GA., The NC State Medical Laboratory, The Miami Performing Arts Center, Disney's Boardwalk Resort, The Universal Islands of Adventure, The Charlotte Arena, The World Bank, The International Monetary Fund, Arlington Cemetery, The U.S. Pentagon Renovation, Fort Belvoir, Fort Bragg, Fort Meade, Fort Knox, Andrews Air Force Base, Dulles Airport, Miami Airport, BWI Thurgood Marshall Airport, DC Regan National Airport, and numerous Universities, Schools, Research Facilities, and Office Buildings.

Miami Performing Arts Center

Washington Monument Renovation

The World Bank

V.I.P.

Mr. Jones has litigated many complex construction cases to a successful verdict. In a 2009 jury trial, involving the mechanical systems for the Charlotte Arena in North Carolina, his client was awarded over $2 million, representing 100% of the amounts claimed. More recently, in a 2015 trial involving the Smithsonian's National Museum of American History before the Civilian Board of Contract Appeals, Mr. Jones' client was awarded over $1.3 million including 100% of the amounts sought for a complicated construction labor inefficiency claim. Mr. Jones' has also enjoyed the thrill of successfully arguing cases before the Virginia Supreme Court and several federal appellate courts, which have created new law on issues important to the construction industry.

Education: B.S. in Architecture, The Catholic University of America, 1982, J.D., Washington University, 1985. Mr. Jones' studies in Architecture included a post-graduate concentration in construction management. With this background, he has a keen ability to understand and comprehend the work of numerous different construction trades, and construction CPM scheduling. This enables Mr. Jones to work well with construction clients, engineers and consultants, who respect his style and simplified manner for presenting technical construction information.

Bar Admissions: Mr. Jones is licensed in Maryland, the District of Columbia and Virginia and is admitted to practice in the local courts of each jurisdiction as well as the U.S. Federal District Courts for the Eastern District of Virginia, Maryland, the District of Columbia, and Colorado. He is also admitted in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit and the Eleventh Circuit as well as the U.S. Supreme Court. Given his practice in federal government construction litigation, Mr. Jones is also admitted to the U.S. Court of Federal Claims and the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.

Associations: American Bar Association, Maryland State Bar Association, Virginia State Bar Association, District of Columbia Bar Association

Honors: Mr. Jones has garnered a reputation of distinction and prominence, earning recognition by Best Lawyers in America every year since 2003, and being nominated by his peers as a Maryland Super Lawyer for the past eight years. He has also received the recognition of being in the top 10% of America's Most Honored Professionals every year since 2013, and in 2017, Mr. Jones was featured in a book published by World Wide Publishing, entitled Top Lawyers: The Secrets to Their Success. Additionally, he is the recipient of the Albert Nelson Lifetime Achievement Award from Marquis Who's Who

Jim has decades of experience working inside and outside of government. Jim clerked for the Honorable Louis Bechtle, Chief Judge of the U.S. District Court, Eastern District of Pennsylvania. After serving as an assistant U.S. Attorney in Philadelphia, he rose to First Assistant. While representing the United States, Jim tried several significant and complex white collar cases and argued before the Third Circuit. Jim's most significant case was chronicled in the film American Hustle, the Philadelphia ABSCAM case. Success does not come without grit, a long-distance runner Jim completed his first marathon at age 60. His approach to clients embodies the same long-range thinking and relentless determination that a marathon requires. Rather than just solving problems, Jim's methods include detection, inoculation, and prevention toward your company's long-term health. Clients praise his keen listening skills, unique in today's climate. Jim's philosophy is to keep clients out of the courtroom with strategic assessment of potential areas of liability and advice tailored to eliminate or reduce exposure. Jim's motto is "let's do life," which means you are not alone when you work with him. Jim firmly believes that a law firm must not only produce results but also inspire loyalty in clients, distinguish itself in the field, and assemble winning teams. You are part of the team.

Education: Jim graduated from Villanova University receiving both his B.A., 1972 and his J.D., 1975.

Associations: In addition to his practice and Firm leadership role, Jim has actively served the broader community. He was a member of the Board of Directors of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Transportation Authority (SEPTA) (1998-2008), where he was also chair of the Audit Committee (2004-2008). Jim served as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cornerstone Christian Academy, a mission school for at-risk children in Southwest Philadelphia (1998-2010) where he has also served as chair of the Board (2004-2007). Currently, Jim is a member of the Academy's Trustee Advisory Board. He served as an Elder of Hope Community Church and has served as a part-time faculty member at Temple University Law School and later Villanova University Law School, where he lectured on trial advocacy.

Honors: Jim Rohn's work has been recognized by the most esteemed assessors of attorneys: he is a fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers; he is the first PA lawyer in the white-collar category named "eminent practitioner" in 2017 by Chambers USA after 11 years in Band One, White-Collar; he was described in Chambers as "one of the preeminent lawyers in the city," a "brilliant strategist on investigative matters," and "esteemed white-collar litigator nationally"; he is recognized in Best Lawyers for Bet-the-Company Litigation.

Zaytoun, Robert E.

Managing Partner
Zaytoun Law Firm
3130 Fairhill Drive,
Suite 100
Raleigh, NC 27612
(P) 919-832-6690

rzaytoun@zaytounlaw.com

Zaytoun Law Firm located in Raleigh, North Carolina, provides highly skilled and experienced legal services to persons harmed by negligence and wrongdoing, as well as representation to physicians and medical practices involved in business litigation, physician employment non-compete disputes, and in private insurance and governmental regulatory disputes affecting physician practices. Zaytoun Law Firm has dedicated, compassionate, and experienced attorneys who practice exclusively in the area of civil litigation in all Federal and State courts in North Carolina. His litigation practice can also take him to other states such as Florida where Mr. Zaytoun is licensed to practice law.

Robert E. Zaytoun began his legal career in 1976 in Tampa, Florida following graduation from the UNC School of Law in 1975. He became a member of the Florida Bar in 1977 and continues in good standing. Robert practiced law in Tampa until returning to his native state in 1979 to accept a position as an Assistant District Attorney for Wake County in his hometown of Raleigh, North Carolina. During his tenure as an Assistant District Attorney, he rose to the level of senior prosecutor focusing on the prosecution of career criminals in serious felonies, including capital murder, armed robbery, narcotics cases, and sexual assault crimes. Robert entered the private practice of law in Raleigh in 1982, focusing on criminal defense but always held the desire to represent victims of wrongdoing and misfeasance in the civil trial arena. His law practice soon evolved into representing injured persons in personal injury cases. Over the past 34 years, his law practice has grown to specialize in representing clients in catastrophic personal injury, medical negligence, wrongful death, business litigation and torts, healthcare fraud and abuse, product liability, managed care litigation, class action litigation, and Qui Tam Whistle Blower litigation.

Robert's zealous representation of clients is the benchmark of his success as a litigator. Whether he is appearing in the State or Federal trial courts, The U.S. Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals, in North Carolina's Appellate Courts, at his client's side at an arbitration or mediation, or advocating for justice through his many professional memberships, Robert's commitment to leveling the playing field for his clients through the rule of law and the civil justice system is evident in every aspect of his law practice.

Robert earned his Undergraduate Degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1971, graduating with a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Political Science. Robert's blood runs "Carolina Blue" and he enjoys taking in UNC sporting events with friends and family, especially Tar Heel basketball games. He is a member of the North Carolina State Bar; North Carolina Bar Association (Member, Sections on Health Law, Litigation and also Member of Litigation Council); Member, Wake County Bar Association (Member, Board of Directors, 1988-1990); Member, American Bar Association (Member, Health Law Section and Litigation Section); Member, The Florida Bar; Member, North Carolina Advocates for Justice (Board of Governors, 1989-1997; Executive Committee, 1990-1993; Professional Negligence Section; Vice Chairman 2000-2002; Chairman, 2002-2003); Member, Susie Sharp Inn of Court; Member, North Carolina College of Advocacy; Member, American Association for Justice (AAJ); Member and past president of Eastern North Carolina Chapter of ABOTA (American Board of Trial Advocates), a national organization dedicated to preserving the right to jury trial; and a member of Public Justice, a national advocacy organization.

TOP ATTORNEYS OF NORTH AMERICA™ – 2019-2020

Robert is also very active in his local and statewide community. He has served for many years as a member of the Tryon Palace Council of Friends in his hometown of New Bern, North Carolina. He also served for ten years as the only non-physician (and only lawyer) on the North Carolina Health and Wellness Trust Fund Commission, funded by the National Tobacco Settlement to allocate $2 Billion to statewide initiatives to improve the health and wellness of North Carolinians, focusing particularly on North Carolina's school-age children and elderly citizens. Under North Carolina Governors Michael Easley and Beverly Perdue, Robert served many years as a Trustee for the North Carolina Symphony. He also served as a member of the North Carolina Film Council under Governor Perdue during which he traveled with Governor Perdue and a delegation to Hollywood, California to visit major film studios recruiting films to be produced in North Carolina. He also found the time to produce an independent film, "Fighting Words" which premiered in Hollywood, California. Robert says he did not "give up his day job" for filmmaking but is a long-time film buff who thinks and often speaks metaphorically through films he appreciates. His favorite cinematic masterpiece is "Casablanca" about which he wrote a thesis paper as a Third-Year law student while taking a graduate-level class in film history at the Communications Department on the main campus of UNC-CH. Most recently he produced a 90-minute documentary on the history of his family ancestry dating back to 1903 which will be submitted to a major documentary film festival in 2019.

Robert also served as the first President of the Board of Directors of "ArtSpace", a non-profit organization that established an artist-in-residence program with studios and galleries in downtown Raleigh in 1986. His organization raised public and private funds to renovate an abandoned Ford dealership building in downtown Raleigh into an arts facility modeled after the Torpedo Factory in Alexandria, Virginia. Artspace has continued to flourish for over thirty years and was considered the catalyst in the overall downtown Raleigh revitalization effort in the 1980s and 1990s. He has closely maintained his association and affection for ArtSpace and chaired numerous annual ArtSpace Galas which raise operations income for the ArtSpace organization.

Beyond his home state, Robert also has supported for thirty years a ministry in Philippi, West Virginia called New Vision. During this time, he has funded mission trips to The Dominican Republic and Puerto Rico. During these trips, solar-powered light kits produced by New Vision were distributed to villages in outlying areas of The Dominican Republic to provide lighting for school children to study at night instead of having to rely on toxic kerosene lanterns. These solar light kits also were distributed in remote areas of Puerto Rico to provide lighting during wide-spread power outages caused by recent hurricane damage.

Robert also served for ten years on the Board of Directors of Farm Pilot Project Coordination (FPPC), a non-profit company located in Tampa, Florida, dedicated to the development of innovative technologies to protect groundwater from damaging animal waste pollution.

Robert remains a close supporter of his law school and believes in giving back by paying forward to support scholarships for needs-based law students. As part of this effort, he has chaired for many years the annual UNC Alumni Fall Golf Tournament. The tournament has raised over $200,000.00 in proceeds from UNC Law Alumni going directly to needs-based law students as annual $10,000.00 per student scholarships.

Outside of his law practice and other community service activities, Robert loves the outdoors and is an avid mountain bike and road cyclist, hiker, and backpacker. In the summer of 2016, Robert solo hiked for six weeks on the historic pilgrimage trail in Northern Spain, "Camino de Santiago", a profound spiritual journey which also brought close-to-home another of his favorite films, "The Way", a film themed around the "Camino de Santiago". Each summer he and a group of intrepid hikers walk a section of the Appalachian Trail. Their adventures have taken them from Springer Mountain, Georgia to the Berkshire Mountains in Western Massachusetts, and many sections in between. He loves to ride his World Champion Tennessee Walker horse, "Mr. Grizzly" who has been Robert's true friend for over 12 years, and he takes hikes with his dog "Nelson", his longtime trusty rescue in Umstead State Park which borders his residence in West Raleigh.

Robert considers himself somewhat "Renaissance" because his natural curiosity takes him into many different directions, all of which he believes contribute purposely to his profession and community, and also help make him a more effective trial lawyer. His first love, however, is faith and family. He lives in Raleigh and has six adult children and 4 grandchildren spread far and wide in Southern and Northern California, Charleston, South Carolina, and the U.S Virgin Islands. His mother, a long-time community volunteer, is now deceased, but Robert cherishes time spent with his 98-year-old father, a Marine who fought for his country for 2 years 'island hopping' in the Pacific Theater from 1942-1944. Robert's father, a member of truly American's Greatest Generation, continues to inspire him every day to give back to his family, profession and the greater community.

The firm provides professional advice, counseling and legal services for individuals and businesses in a broad range of areas including, estate planning, estate litigation, elder law, business law, litigation, family law and special needs planning. At Hale Ball, the law firm is led by attorneys with decades of experience in their respective areas of practice. They are also known for their high-energy approach to solving their clients' legal problems. In addition they have developed a strong reputation for providing legal representation tailored to fit their clients' specific concerns, and strive constantly for complete client satisfaction. Attorney Robert Baumgartner a partner at the firm, is admitted to practice law by the Virginia bar since 1978 and to the District of Columbia bar in 1994, Mr. Baumgartner brings considerable experience forming hundreds, if not thousands of successful outcomes to the practice of business and commercial law in Northern Virginia. He can represent and assist client with business matters in business and corporate, employment for employers and bankruptcy - creditors. Mr. Baumgartner cites positive client interaction with business owners who are trying to achieve their goals as a strong motivator in his decision to focus his practice on business and commercial law. He regularly works with optimistic, upbeat, and aggressive entrepreneurs and business owners to create short and long-term business strategies and legal needs. He has the experience to provide the practical legal solutions to complicated business situations. Time and again he has found that the pure legal analysis and legal courses of action may not be the best solution for businesses and business owners. Rather, seeking win-win solutions, which involve a balancing of the legal positions against the monetary and non-monetary costs leads to alternative, non-litigation solutions.

Education: Mr. Baumgartner graduated from Wittenberg University with a B.A. (1973), obtained his M.S. from Xavier University (1975), and received his J.D. from the University of Richmond, The T.C. Williams School of Law.

About: J. Edward Bell III, founder and senior partner of Bell Legal Group in Georgetown, is an attorney, businessman, entrepreneur and philanthropist. In a career spanning more than 30 years, he has distinguished himself as a top litigation attorney at local, state and national levels and has tried more than 300 major cases throughout the United States. Bell's work in the legal field is extensive and renowned, yet more notable is his work with students and young attorneys. His history of mentoring students interested in pursuing the law has included assistance with financial aid, internships and housing for national and international students. It is this passion for sharing his knowledge and understanding of the law that led Bell to his newest position as President of the Charleston School of Law. His legal career continues to bring him national recognition in the fields of environmental law, auto safety, auto defects and product liability. Bell's work in environmental law coupled with his love of Southern culture led him to explore opportunities for land development with an emphasis on environmental conservation. In 2010, he became a partner in Garden & Gun Magazine, LLC, a nationally-recognized Southern lifestyle publication.

Education: A graduate of University of South Carolina School of Law, J.D. Admitted to the South Carolina Bar in 1979

Associations: Mr. Bell is a member of the Bars of South Carolina, United States District Court, District of South Carolina; United States Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals; United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, and United States Supreme Court. Bell distinguished himself as a top civil litigator in the field of complex litigation law with his success in the demanding auto torts and auto safety field. His unique approach in auto case work led him to establish a Vehicle Safety Research Center, a facility that conducts auto defect investigations, accident re-enactments, develops exhibits, and explores the complex nature of the issues surrounding injury and accident cases. Since its inception, the center has evolved into a multi-disciplined Science and Technology Center used to assist attorneys in unraveling technical information associated with trial work.

Honors: Bell is a recognized Martindale-Hubbell AV® Preeminent™ Peer Rated attorney. He is listed in The American Trial Lawyers Association's prestigious Top 100

Attorneys; named to Best Lawyers in America, Super Lawyers, Lawyer of the Year, Benchmarks Litigation Star and received the SC Lawyers Weekly Leadership in Law Award. About: James Bright has extensive experience in business litigation matters in the state and federal courts at the trial and appellate levels, including a wide spectrum of business torts and commercial contract disputes. He has obtained multiple jury verdicts ranging from tens of millions of dollars to several hundreds of millions of dollars. The vast majority of his litigation matters involve scientific and engineering issues and are routinely heavily expert witness laden, largely for oil companies, public utilities, and corporate land owners. He also regularly represents clients in transactional matters concerning all aspects of oil and gas exploration and production, pipeline transportation, and power plant construction and operation. Mr. Bright has in-depth experience in advising clients regarding the purchase and sale of oil and gas properties, power plant, gas sales and supplies contracts, crude oil purchases and sales contracts, power plant construction contracts, power plant operations and maintenance contracts, and use matters and issues arising under various environmental acts.

Education: Jim received his B.S. in Geology from the University of Southern California, his J.D. from Loyola University School of Law.

Associations: Jim is a Fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers.

About: Attorney Arnold Brock has been practicing law since 1985. For over 33 years Attorney Brock has been helping individuals with all of their litigation needs. He is highly rated and well reviewed by his past clients. The largest and certainly the most time consuming trial that he participated in was as defense counsel in the case of United States v. Baker, 10 F.3d 1374, (9th Cir. 1993). It was a drug trial of magnanimous proportions encompassing eleven years of investigation and 16 months of trial. There were in excess of 250 witnesses and thousands of pieces of evidence. His client received a very favorable outcome. It is this obvious passion for the legal system that has attributed the success of Attorney Brock.

Education: Attorney Brock attended California State College in Sacramento receiving a Bachelor of Science Degree in Criminal Justice. Upon graduation, he moved to Reno, Nevada to attend the Nevada Highway Patrol Academy. After graduating from the Academy, he served as a Nevada State Trooper from 1976 to 1982. In 1982 while working as a State Trooper, he was accepted into the McGeorge School of Law at the University of the Pacific. Initially he commuted to Sacramento, California weekly to attend classes. Once fully immersed in law school, he temporarily left Reno and his position as a Nevada State Trooper and moved to Sacramento to complete law school. He then graduated from the McGeorge School of Law in 1985 with a Juris Doctorate Degree.

Associations: In 1990, the Dean of the Criminal Justice Department of the Truckee Meadow's Community Collage asked Mr. Brock to teach in their Criminal Justice Program. Since that time, he has been teaching at TMCC and served as Coordinator for the Criminal Justice Department. Teaching has also become his passion. In addition to teaching at the Community College level, he has taught at the Police Academy. Mr. Brock enjoys seeing the success of his students; many of whom have gone on to become attorneys and legal professionals in Nevada. Additionally, he is the Past President of the Habitat for Humanity as well as a member and past president of Sparks Sertoma, a charitable organization providing for the speech and hearing impaired children of the community.

About: Lisa Brodyaga, an Immigration Attorney and co-founder of Refugio Del Rio Grande, Inc., is licensed to practice law in the State of Texas since 1979. Since 1981, she has been certified by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization. At about that time, she became deeply involved with the work on behalf of the Central Americans. Refugio Del Rio Grande, Inc., is a non-profit, 501(c)(3) "refugee camp" on a 45 acre wilderness near San Benito, Texas, where She still serve as a volunteer attorney. Most of her current work is on behalf of lawful permanent residents, caught up in the web of the 1996 amendments. Between 1996 and 2001, she litigated the issue of the retroactivity of the repeal of Section 212(c) relief, and represented approximately 50 or 60 LPRs under administratively final orders of deportation. She won thirty-plus habeas cases, with more held in abeyance while INS appealed her victory, and managed to hold INS at bay until St. Cyr was decided, at which point INS withdrew its appeals. So far as I know, only one of those cases, (an alcoholic who could not stay out of jail), was later lost at the administrative level, although another will probably also end up in Mexico, due to a subsequent conviction. Since then, most of my energy has been devoted to a similar struggle challenging the Fifth Circuit's conclusion that state drug convictions treated as felonies by the state are aggravated felonies. This issue was also won at the Supreme Court, in Lopez v. Gonzales, 127 S.Ct. 625 (2006), holding that drug offenses which would be misdemeanors under federal law are not aggravated felonies, regardless of how they are characterized by the state. Consequently, three dozen more of our permanent resident clients will have an opportunity to seek relief from removal. Prior cases she has been involved in include Guevara-Flores, an antecedent to Cardoza-Fonseca, and Diaz-Resendez, giving a broad interpretation to the scope of review of discretionary decisions, (preIRIRA), but still useful in some instances. I have also received various national awards, from the National Lawyers Guild, American Immigration Lawyers Association, and Lexis-Nexis. Early in her career, she taught at various law schools.

Education: Ms. Brodyaga graduated in 1974 from Catholic University School of Law, in Washington, D.C.

Family: Hobbies: To keep her sanity, she raises animals, including horses, dogs, and a few head of cattle. To atone for all the paper she waste on briefs and the like, she plant trees.

About: John J. Carroll Jr. a former United States Navel Officer, a director at Meehan, Boyle, Black & Bogdanow. He is admitted to practice law in the State of Massachusetts, 1974 and South Dakota, 1976. Mr. Carroll is committed to helping the needs of his clients. He knows that representing accident victims can take patience and compassion as well as forensic skills. He also has an acute understanding of the practical aspects of handling personal injury claims, having seen them from many vantage points. As an experience attorney, he has built a strong tradition of service to his community and country. He believes that his clients deserve the highest-quality representation.

After two years in private practice, Mr. Carroll became a Legal Services Lawyer for the South Dakota Legal Services, serving the Pine Bridge and Rosebud Indian Reservations. Upon returning to Massachusetts in 1978, Carroll worked for two years with Merrimack Valley Legal Services. In 1979, he joined the Law Firm of James D. Casey as a trial lawyer. In the 1970's, Carroll spent two years as an in-house lawyer for an insurance company, followed by several years as a defense attorney at a large litigation firm. It is there that he met his future Meehan, Boyle, Black & Bogdanow colleagues. In 1980, he joined Parker, Coulter, Daley & White, leaving in 1985 to join Meehan, Boyle & Cohen (now Meehan, Boyle, Black & Bogdanow). Carroll also has extensive experience in alternative dispute resolution. He has been a panel member of the American Arbitration Association for many years and is familiar with virtually all the alternative dispute resolution processes which a personal injury client may encounter. In his early years as a lawyer, Carroll traveled to South Dakota where he was a staff attorney on the Pine Ridge and Rosebud Indian Reservations. He describes working amidst great poverty as "a life-altering experience."

Education: Mr. Carroll graduated from Boston College in June 1968. After serving three years in active duty, he enrolled in Boston University School of Law, graduating in 1974.

Associations: Carroll's commitment to serving those who cannot afford lawyers has continued throughout his career. He handled pro bono cases for the Boston Bar Associations Volunteer Lawyers Project and has volunteered at the Catholic Lawyers Guild St. Francis House. He also serves on the Board of Directors of Greater Boston Legal Services. His interest in promoting access to justice is also reflected in his work on the Massachusetts Bar Associations Judicial Administration Section Council, which he chaired in 1997-1998, and Individual Rights and Responsibilities Section Council which he chaired in 1998-1999. In January 2001 Carroll began an additional duty as a Hearing Officer at the Board of Bar Overseers. In 2002, he was elected to the Massachusetts Academy of Trial Attorneys Board of Governors, in 2003; he was elected to serve as a member of the House of Delegates of the Massachusetts Bar Association, and continues to serve in that position. In 2006, he was appointed to the executive committee of the MBA.

Honors: In 2008, Carroll received the President's Award from the Massachusetts Bar Foundation. In 2010, he became the MBA representative on the Equal Justice Coalition. He is also the past Chair of that coalition. In November 2012, he was appointed to a six-year term as a lawyer member of the Commission on Judicial Conduct, serving the last two years as Chair. Mr. Carroll has been named a "Super Lawyer" by Boston Magazine since 2008. He is a member of the "President's Circle" of the Pine Street Inn. In 2016 Mr. Carroll was inducted to the Arlington Catholic Hall of Fame. In 2017 he received the "Catalyst For Change" Award from the Massachusetts Law Reform Institute. In June 2019, he received the Paul Harris Award for community service from the Arlington (Mass) Rotary International.

Family: Having held many roles, none is more important than raising a family. Mr. Carroll has two sons (Josh and Jeremy) by his deceased wife (Anne). Their love and support, as well as that of his wife Fran (Lipson), are his most cherished gifts.

About: Over the course of a legal career spanning more than 30 years, Raul Casso IV has gained a wide range of experience in both private and public sectors, and at the federal, state, and local levels of government. He is licensed to practice law in the State of Texas, United States District Court for the Southern District of Texas, and the United States Court of International Trade. Mr. Casso currently focuses his legal practice on the trade community. He is devoted to serve again in the private sector, dedicating the balance of his professional career to the practice of law in matters of customs, transportation and logistics. The many services that Mr. Casso provides, are those involving risk management including: guidance in self-reviews of importers/exporters compliance operations under attorney-client privilege; counsel after receipt of an Informed Compliance Letter; advice on prior disclosures of import violations (which can be complex); and the always vital voluntary disclosures. As an Assistant U.S. Attorney, Casso was one of four lawyers working what was then the busiest federal criminal docket in the U.S.A. Having prosecuted hundreds of cases involving federal drug and immigration laws, bank fraud and money laundering, Casso is the author of The Successful Prosecution of Drug Smuggling Knowledge Cases, a guide which details his unique approach in trying knowledge cases, recognized in the field as an especially difficult challenge. In the civil sphere, Casso enjoyed considerable experience in commercial litigation associated with the Uniform Commercial Code, including numerous matters concerning customs laws such as the seizure of commercial cargo. Knowledgeable and experienced in the workings of the American system of jurisprudence, Casso spent over 9 years devoted to municipal law representing the City of Laredo as City Attorney. As the descendant of an importing/exporting family whose father, of the same name, was a founding partner of International Bonded Warehouses, an international concern based in Laredo, Texas with bonded warehouses and retail outlets spanning the entire U.S./Mexico border from Brownsville, Texas to San Diego, California and every major port in between, he finds himself in a privileged position to work in all its complexity the legal matters related to the trade operations implemented by the many different actors in the great Port of Laredo.

Education: Mr. Casso received his B. A. (1980) and his J. D. (1985) from Southern Methodist University.

Associations: Mr. Casso is a publisher of four books and is very involved in community services.

About: Sean M. Corr has been working in the legal field since 1983. He is admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania; the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania; the New Jersey Supreme Court; the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey; and the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit. The son of a renowned trial lawyer, Sean began practicing law in 1990. His career has been almost exclusively limited to Pennsylvania civil trial practice with an emphasis on cases involving Pennsylvania personal injury and related insurance issues. Sean is a noted Pennsylvania personal injury attorney and has been lead counsel in approximately 50 personal injury jury trials involving personal injury claims, predominantly in his native Bucks County courts. As an experienced trial attorney, Sean has also appeared before the courts of Philadelphia and Montgomery counties, as well as the Federal District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. He has handled many more arbitrations and contested court hearings in the civil arena, which in addition to personal injury and insurance, have included matters pertaining to business law, products liability, construction law, estate law and other practice areas involving civil litigation. During the past 20 years, Sean has established himself as one of Bucks County's leading trial lawyers in the area of civil trial law and in particular personal injury law. He is a Certified Civil Trial Attorney, having been certified by the National Board of Trial Advocacy in 2000 and re-certified in 2005 and 2010. In addition to Corr Law, Sean is an Assistant Solicitor to the County of Bucks, having been hired upon motion of then Bucks County Commissioner, now Lieutenant Governor James F. Cawley, Esquire, with a second from the longest serving Commissioner in Bucks County history, the Honorable Charley Martin.

Education: Sean received a B.A. in history, cum laude, in 1986 from St. Joseph's University, and his law degree from Villanova University School of Law in 1990.

Associations: He was among the youngest in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to be so recognized. The National Board of Trial Advocacy, a division of the National Board of Legal Specialty Certification, is the only organization accredited by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania to certify attorneys in a particular specialty. In addition, this same organization has certified Sean as a Specialist in Civil Pre-trial Practice and Procedure. Sean has significant experience in Bucks County local procedure, having taught multiple continuing legal education seminars alongside the staff of the Office of Bucks County Court Administration, explaining the sometimes confusing nuances of the Bucks County rules. This niche area has caused Sean to be retained as local counsel by a number of large firms handling litigation in Bucks County, but whose offices are not in Bucks County. He is a member of the Bucks County Bar Association where he has served multiple terms as officer and director. He is also a member of the Pennsylvania Bar Association. Sean has authored and presented multiple continuing legal education (CLE) programs for organizations on the topics of personal injury law and civil trial practice.

Honors: Sean was selected by his peers as a Pennsylvania Super Lawyer in 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2011 in recognition of his work in civil trial practice, in particular involving Pennsylvania personal injury claims. Pennsylvania Super Lawyers is a peer-elected designation accorded to less than 5 percent of practicing lawyers in Pennsylvania.

Family: Sean is married to his wife Jennifer and they have four children. The Corrs are active in local government and community organizations, including the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts of America, and the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Attorney At Law
5201 Broadway
Merrillville, IN 46410
(P) 219-884-2461
attyhdavis@gmail.com
www.attorneyjohnhdavis.com

About: John H. Davis Attorney at Law specializes in criminal defense and civil litigation which includes personal injury, contract law, criminal law, bankruptcy, immigration law, and family law including child custody. He works pro bono in in criminal defense with the federal courts as well as with Catholic Charities/ACLU for individuals who have been illegally separated from their children by providing legal counsel both pro bono and partially pro bono. Attorney Davis has been practicing law since 1985. He is admitted to practice by the Indiana State Bar and the United States Supreme Court Bar. He is a Speaker for National Business Institute "a continuing legal educational organization. His legal practice is dedicated to help you, your family or your business to address specific legal needs and to come to a best solution in your case. A former Indiana state deputy prosecutor and public defender, Mr. Davis attributes his success to perseverance, endurance, and being accessible to his clients.

In addition, Mr. Davis has traveled throughout the United States and as far as the Tahiti Islands and Egypt – visiting The Cairo Museum and The Valley of The Kings. His traveling experiences afforded him the opportunity to speak with many individuals regarding culture, ethnicity, and heritage. Mr. Davis is the author of the books: What Do White Americans Want to Know About Black Americans, But Are Afraid to Ask and What Do Black Americans Want to Know About White Americans, But Are Afraid to Ask. Soon to be released is his newest book entitled The Complaint. Mr. Davis plays violin. His past involvement with his local community included participating in the city's annual holiday orchestra concert as 2nd violinist and singing with the city's traveling chorale group as 2nd tenor. Before law school, while living in New York, Mr. Davis sang at the Apollo as a member of a Doo Wop group called the Raytones – who recorded with Okeh record label. The Raytones were also an opening act at the Waldorf Historia in New York City. He enjoys racquetball and long distance running having completed several marathons, including Boston, New York City, Chicago, San Diego, St. Louis, and Nashville (Tennessee).

Education: Mr. Davis graduated from Woodbury University with a B.S. in 1974, received his J.D. from Western State University, 1977, and obtained his M.B.A. from Azusa Pacific University, 1980.

Associations: In Huntsville, Alabama, as adjunct professor at both A&M University and Oakwood College (now University), Mr. Davis taught subjects such as marketing, accounting, economics, business law, paralegal courses, cultural anthropology, and sociology. While teaching at A&M University in the 1990's, Mr. Davis had an opportunity to converse with a professor from the Physics Department – named Dr. Putcha Venkateswarlu, best known by his students as V12 due to the approximate number of letters in his last name. Being over 90 years old at that time, V12 shared his research and cultural background with Mr. Davis prompting Mr. Davis to feel it necessary to produce a video interviewing V12 and Dr. James M. Thompson in order to recognize, archive, and memorialize the professor's personal, ethnic & cultural background as well as V12's professional life's work, involving his research in Europe during the 1930's and 1940's, with one of the pioneers of quantum physics – named Wolfgang Ernst Pauli, an American-Austrian-Swiss theoretical physicist. Pauli was also influenced by Albert Einstein and V12 shared treasured personal memories of Pauli and his family. Mr. Davis' copyrighted video later allowed A&M University students to learn about V12 long after his death thanks to efforts by the late Dr. James Thompson, Professor Emeritus at the University. Mr. Davis directed one of his marketing classes at Oakwood to complete a project and present it to the administration. Shortly thereafter, Oakwood's adult degree completion program (called LEAP) adopted his student's marketing plan by utilizing the project on numerous billboards throughout the city. Mr. Davis also held the position of Director of Corporate and Foundation Relations at Hanover College in Hanover, Indiana from 1993 – 1994.

Honors: Who's Who Among Students in American Universities & Colleges (76-77); Mr. Davis was keynote speaker at a Valparaiso University dinner hosted by one of the student unions.

Family: Mr. Davis embraces his multiple cultural and ethnic family background and history which includes a Jewish heritage that does not come from converting to Judaism (which Mr. Davis is not criticizing) – nor from any American ethnic group which has declared itself as Jewish, but his Jewish heritage and culture comes from a maternal grandfather whose heritage was traced to Spain at the time Queen Isabella expelled all Jews from Spain and resulted in many of said Jews migrating to Argentina and Venezuela and subsequently to Cuba and Guyana. Said maternal grandfather's name was Philip Messiah who also authored several religious plays written in Spanish. The name Messiah may sometimes be misunderstood by many religious sects as well as some Jewish sects to refer to a divine deity, however, learned Jewish individuals, particularly Rabbis, understand the word to connote the meaning that the person using the name is a teacher. Thus, Mr. Davis' maternal grandfather points to the fact that some or more of his ancestors were Jewish Rabbis – not merely of the Jewish faith.

About: Mark J. DeGennaro, a solo practitioner from 1983 to 1996, Mark was made a partner of the firm of Donahue and Votto in 1996 and soon thereafter became its managing partner. Without Mark to continue on a full-time basis, the firm broke up shortly after Mark was elected to the bench in 2010. Attorney DeGennaro was Admitted in 1981 to practice in Connecticut, Attorney DeGennaro has maintained a varied and diversified practice. His criminal experience includes defense of Class A felony matters down to infractions. At one time, Mark had an extensive practice in the family courts, and has successfully tried many divorce actions. He has also litigated several successful zoning matters, including matters before the state Appellate and Supreme Courts. Attorney DeGennaro has also represented many landlords, including the West Haven Housing Authority for nearly 20 years. A former corporation counsel for the City of West Haven, Mark has also litigated some complex litigation matters. Mark has also represented many clients in personal injury matters, including medical malpractice. Presently the judge of the West Haven Probate District since 2011, Attorney DeGennaro has recently limited his practice to real estate closings and limited probate matters. In addition to sitting on the bench in the West Haven District, Judge DeGennaro also presides over matters at the New Haven Regional Children's Court in New Haven. He has been recognized by his peers for his work on the bench.

Mark has commented that "I tried to take a holistic approach to someone's legal issues. It is important to understand how one decision will impact other facets of a client's life such as how a particular action may impact estate planning, tax considerations or business relationships". Because he has extensive experience in a number of areas, it is this diversity of understanding that Attorney DeGennaro cites as the most important characteristic of his approach to the practice of law.

Education: Mark earned his B.A from Brown University and his J. D. from the University of Bridgeport.

Associations: Mark is a member of the Connecticut Bar Association, New Haven County Bar Association, and past president of the West Haven Bar Association.

Honors: Attorney DeGennaro was recently cited as one of the top attorneys in a reader's poll in the "New Haven Living" magazine. He was the only individual attorney so recognized, every other top attorney being a law firm. Mark has also lectured extensively to other attorneys on topics involving real estate, real estate development and probate law. He also regularly assists other attorneys with difficult matters.

Doig, Robert M.

Law Firm of Robert Doig LLC
1400 N. Providence Road
Media, PA 79063
(P) 610-565-9565
doig.rm@verizon.net
www.doiglawfirm.com

About: Attorney Robert Doig, has been practicing law for over 33 years. He is admitted by the Pennsylvania Bar Association. His areas of practice include construction, industrial, electrical, truck, and aviation-related accidents are complicated, document intensive cases that demand detailed and thorough preparation by experienced attorneys and staff. Catastrophic injuries - such as brain trauma and spinal cord damage - frequently accompany unfortunately these major accidents. Medical teams of surgeons, physiatrists, neurologists, psychiatrists, and neuropsychologists are needed to treat these permanently disabling injuries which require skilled professional resources to properly work up the cases and project future medical costs that the injured worker will incur over his or her lifetime. At the Doig Law Firm, they have dedicated years to attain the skills and knowledge necessary to successfully prosecute accidents, involving falls, falling objects, overhead and underground electrical lines, scaffolding, demolition, heavy machinery, trucks, defective products, and airport incidents. To investigate and try cases in these areas, they retain several highly qualified experts to give opinion on liability, medical damages, and wage loss. The Firm takes exhaustive discovery requesting then reviewing documents that typically number in the thousands of pages followed by depositions to obtain the facts underlying each accident. Their time is spent combing through contracts, job safety records, project records, OSHA reports and prior contractor or owner infractions, policy and procedure manuals, photographs, daily or weekly job meeting notes and medical charts to prepare the case for depositions and then trial. And every case demands our close interaction with each doctor who is providing care to the injured worker ranging from surgeons performing initial or subsequent operations to psychologists treating cognitive decline or deficits. For more than 20 years, father Hal F. Doig and son Robert Doig practiced together, representing primarily injured workers. On Hal's retirement in 2012, Attorney Robert Doig has continued to established a strong tradition of the "Doig & Doig service with a purpose to provide close, painstaking attention to in-depth investigation and prosecution of clients' claims. As a family owned and run office they have built a reputation on dedicating exhaustive detail to uncover the facts surrounding an accidents before filing suit, to select highly qualified, skilled experts in the subject matters related to the accidents, and project the future medical costs and lost earning capacities of our clients caused by the defendants' wrongful conduct. Before joining practice with Hal Doig, Robert Doig had been a prosecutor working as a Trial Attorney in the Fraud Section of the United States Department of Justice in Washington, DC, Deputy Attorney General with the Office of Attorney General of Pennsylvania, and Assistant District Attorney in Delaware County Pennsylvania. Mr. Doig has had numerous million dollar cases in the Philadelphia area involving industrial and construction accidents. His expertise in providing personal attention to each of his clients has brought success for his injured clients.

Education: Attorney Robert Doig received his B.A. in History from Hamilton College and his J.D. from Dickinson School of Law.

Associations: Attorney is a member of the following trial lawyer groups: Pennsylvania Bar Association, American Association for Justice, Pennsylvania Trial Lawyers Association, Delaware County Bar Association, Delaware County Trial Lawyer Association, Delaware County Bar Association. After 40 years representing issuers and underwriters, Mr. Feyer retired from active practice working on bond transactions at the end of 2017, but continues to provide assistance and mentoring within the Department. From 1986 to his retirement, Bob was the lead bond and disclosure counsel for the State of California, working with a team of lawyers to complete the issuance of an estimated 470 billion dollars of new and refunding general obligation bonds, cash flow notes and warrants and lease revenue obligations, including several of the largest long-term municipal bond issues in U.S. history. Bob also had an active practice in private activity financing for such purposes as solid waste disposal, pollution control and industrial development. For more than 40 years, he was lead bond counsel for the California Pollution Control Financing Authority. Aside from his municipal bond practice, Bob has worked actively with low-income individuals who seek to obtain legal guardianships for young children. From 1972 to 1975, while on a leave of absence from Orrick, Bob was a Captain in the United States Air Force where he served on the staff of the Air Force General Counsel, and he later served as a legislative assistant to a United States Senator in Washington, D.C. Bob is the Co-author of securities law publications : "The Sec Says Cities(and City Officials!) Must Obey Securities Laws, Too," Orrick's Securities Litigation and Regulatory Enforcement Blog (May 7, 2013), and Co-author, "Update on Municipalities Continuing Disclosure Cooperation Initiative." Orrick and BLX Update (April 9, 2014), Co-author "One Part Of The New SEC Reporting Events Is Being Overlooked", Op-ed published by the Bond Buyer, February 22, 2019.

215 N. Marengo Avenue, Fl 3
Pasadena, CA 91101
(P) 626-584-6060
Nfialkow@pacbell.net

About: In 2017, Neal was recognized by The Daily Journal, which is the legal newspaper for the State of California, as one of the Top 75 Labor Employment Lawyers in the state. The use of Class Actions and acting as a Private Attorney General in the State of California, has been his principal methods for achieving great successes for his clients and changing and shaping the law in innovative ways. For example, in 2013, Fialkow litigated a Class Action on behalf of car technicians against Downtown LA Mercedes Benz wherein they were paid a "piece-rate" instead of an hourly rate for the work that they did on cars that came in to the shop for repairs. Workers, however, were required to stay on-site and do non-repair tasks without pay, even when they weren't repairing cars. "Legally, the piece-rate cannot go below the minimum wage", Fialkow said. The California Court of Appeals affirmed the trial court decision and ruled that workers who worked at a per case basis fixing cars were entitled to the minimum wage when waiting for other cars to come in for repair. Gonzalez v Downtown LA Motors, LLP, 215 Cal.App 4th 36. "That defined piece-rate and kind of changed everything in California," Fialkow said. In a later appellate case, Hernandez v Ross Stores, Inc., the Court of Appeal ruled that even where employers have an arbitration provision when cases are filed under the Private Attorney General Act of California, the cases can go straight to a judge instead of an arbitrator first in assessing the case for arbitration. Court observers predicted that this decision would result in many more Private Attorney General Actions claims being filed, and, in fact, that has clearly been the case. Mr. Fialkow's law office generally accepts large employment cases from other attorneys on a referral basis, but employees are invited to call his office directly to see if they might have a case worth pursuing. Mr. Fialkow was admitted to the State Bar in 1977 and has been practicing law for over 40 years. He is considered to be an out-of-the-box thinker who does not accept the status quo and solves problems with a creative approach for each case. Mr. Fialkow was admitted to the State Bar Education: Attorney Neal Fialkow graduated from Western State University College of Law, Irvine, California with his J.D.. He also received his B.A. from Northeastern III University, Chicago, Illinois.

Associations: Mr. Fialkow is a member of the California Lawyers Association (CLA).

About: If you are looking for a law firm that is committed to providing you with reliable service, the law offices of Paul Gauer is a respected general law practice advocating for clients in Real Estate, Bankruptcy and Personal Injury, Family Law, Immigration and Intellectual Property cases. Based in Bloomfield, NJ they are familiar with the courts throughout all of Essex County. The attorney has the necessary skill to help you resolve your legal problem. With years of experience, they are focused on your success. Paul R. Gauer, is admitted to practice law in the states of New Jersey and New York in 1979, the U.S. Supreme Court in 1985 and registered to practice before U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. He sees your case through from start to finish; you can be assured that a fully qualified, reputable attorney will give your case personal attention. Mr. Gauer has a thorough understanding of New Jersey law, and works hard to help you get the best possible results in the following practice areas: Real Estate: Whether you are buying a home, or commercial property or litigating a property dispute or defending foreclosure, Mr. Gauer's extensive knowledge about property rights, real estate issues, finance and business, will support you in all important real estate issues. Bankruptcy: In our struggling economy, many people are dealing with unmanageable debts. The bankruptcy attorney guides you through the legal process, helping you get relief from overwhelming debt and creditor harassment. Bankruptcy can stop foreclosure or auto repossession. Personal Injury: is a serious matter that can affect your health, your job, your family and your future. If you have suffered an injury because of somebody else's negligence, you need an experienced personal injury attorney by your side. The firm will give you a clear picture of the financial recovery that may be available to you. Family Law: Sometimes court is necessary to resolve your family's disputes. Having a strong litigator by your side can alleviate the uncertainty and stress and help you obtain the most favorable trial outcome. The family mediation process fosters cooperation between partners and produces less stress and hostility than is usually associated with litigation. Mediation often reduces the time and costs of divorce, and puts the decisions in your hands. Immigration: Whether you are facing deportation and potential separation from your loved ones, starting a family through marriage or an international adoption, or fleeing persecution, Paul R. Gauer labors on behalf of foreign nationals in the full-spectrum of immigration cases. Intellectual Property: Paul R. Gauer filed many successful mechanical and design patent applications and trademark applications. The public identifies your business, product or service through its distinctive branding, logo, design, slogan, wording or picture. Protecting your trademark is essential to preserving your business' meticulously-crafted image.

Education: Mr. Gauer earned his J.D. degree from the New York Law School, received his B.S.I.E. from New Jersey Institute of Technology. He also completed continuing legal education at the New York University Real Estate Institute, a diploma in Municipal Law at Rutgers University and was certified as a Consumer Bankruptcy Attorney by the National Board.

About: Ghozland Law Firm proudly serves clients throughout Los Angeles and the surrounding areas, providing top-notch representation in personal injury cases. The legal team work hard to ensure that the rights of accident victims are protected. At Ghozland Law Firm, they take pride in putting the “personal” into personal injury. They are personal injury attorneys who recognize individuals that are typically going through overwhelming and stressful times in their lives, especially after a life-altering accident. When an individual hires them, they strive to provide the client with effective counsel they need to receive fair and just compensation for his or her injuries that they may have suffered in auto accidents, slip and fall accidents or any type of injury accident. They have your best interest in mind and will fight to achieve a favorable outcome in a settlement or verdict. Michael Ghozland started Ghozland Law Firm to ensure that the rights of individuals injured through the negligent, reckless, or illegal acts of others, are protected and not negatively affected by insurance companies and their lawyers. He has been practicing personal injury law for over 15 years, representing large institutions and corporations. Attorney Michael Ghozland spent a significant portion of his career working at the country’s largest plaintiff side law firm, where he worked on class actions that routinely resolved for hundreds of millions of dollars, including one that resulted in a $400 million plus settlement. With his willingness to do anything it takes to see his client’s cases succeed and a drive to pursue maximum compensation, it is easy to see why so many individuals have entrusted him as their advocate.

Education: Mr. Ghozland earned his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Southern California and his Juris Doctorate degree from Tulane University School of Law, where he graduated cum laude. Mr. Ghozland also earned an LL.M. in securities and financial regulation from the Georgetown University Law Center, where he graduated with distinction.

Associations: Prior to forming Ghozland Law Firm, Mr. Ghozland worked at several prominent law firms where he represented plaintiff’s rights, developing the skills and legal experience to provide his clients with the type of legal representation they deserve. He also worked at a well-respected defense firm. While working as a defense attorney, Mr. Ghozland was exposed to the delay tactics and strategies employed by defense attorneys. He works diligently to ensure that his client’s cases are prosecuted in an efficient and diligent manner without delay by defense attorney tactics. Mr. Ghozland is admitted to practice before all state and federal courts in California. He is a member of the Consumer Attorney Association of California, the Consumer Attorney Association of Los Angeles, the Los Angeles County Bar Association and the Beverly Hills Bar Association.

Honors: Mr. Ghozland was nominated for the “Street Fighter of the Year Award” by the CAOC in 2014, an award given to a plaintiff’s lawyer who has litigated a case that creates a more just society, regardless of personal benefit or financial gain. He was also selected for inclusion in the California Super Lawyers Rising Stars list in 2014, 2015, 2016, and 2017, an honor awarded to no more than 2.5% of the lawyers in California. Mr. Ghozland is also certified as a member of the Million Dollar Advocates Forum®, one of the most prestigious groups of trial lawyers in the United States. Membership is limited to attorneys who have won million and multi-million dollar verdicts and settlements.

About: Robert F. Gold founded the law firm Gold, Albanese, Barletti & Locascio LLC in 1997. He envisioned a law office of professional lawyers capable of providing high-quality, solid legal counsel based on a comprehensive understanding of the law. Ever since then, they strive to embody that vision, faithfully serving countless individuals and businesses throughout the entire state of New Jersey. The Lawyers at Gold, Albanese, Barletti & Locascio, LLC offer legal representation in both plaintiff and defense cases, and their ability to advocate for either side positions them uniquely to handle a diverse range of casework. While their law firm is large enough to take on big, complex cases, they're still small enough to deliver individualized attention to their clients. They believe in creating a constructive partnership with each one of their clients, communicating all of their legal strategies in clear, understandable language. Robert Gold practices in the areas of administrative investigations, age discrimination, police misconduct, race discrimination, sexual harassment, felonies, misdemeanors, wrongful termination, motor vehicle accidents, premises liability, and much more. He is admitted in all federal courts of New Jersey, New York, and Massachusetts, as well as Federal Circuits Courts of Appeals in the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd Districts. He was also a Municipal Court Judge in four municipalities for twelve years.

Robert Gold has taught his colleagues to be aggressive, to be proactive and to prepare every case as if it were going to trial. From Medical Malpractice, and motor vehicle accident cases to premises liability and other areas of practice, no stone is left unturned and no silver of evidence is undiscovered. They find that the more work they put in on the front end of a case, the better the final results will be. Serving clients throughout New Jersey, the Morristown firm is licensed and admitted to municipal, state, federal and appellate courts, including the U.S. Supreme Court. They have the knowledge to work these case, the patience and perseverance to keep them on track, and the ability to go all the way to the top, if necessary.

Education: Mr. Gold received his B.A. magna cum laude from Fordham University and his J.D. from Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey School of Law. Associations: Mr. Gold is a member of the American Bar Association, New Jersey State Bar Association, Essex County Bar Association, Morris County Bar Association, Massachusetts Bar Association, Boston Bar Association, New York State Bar Association, Hudson County Bar Association, Monmouth County Bar Association, and Truckers Industry Defense Association (TIDA).

About: F. Harrison Green, founder of The Green Law Firm was admitted to practice in the State of Ohio in 1972, and the State of Indiana in 2000. He is also licensed to practice law in the United States District Courts in the States of Ohio and Indiana along with the United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit, and also admitted pro hac vice in 18 state jurisdictions. Attorney Green practices in the areas medical malpractice, legal malpractice and civil rights in the area of sexual harassment. Litigation is the primary focus of his practice; he enjoys the challenge of trial that precedes the fighting on behalf of plaintiffs in complex legal cases. In handling personal injury and malpractice cases, Mr. Green will be by your side, whether you have been personally wronged, or you've lost a loved one as a result of someone else's careless behavior. He will help you receive the financial compensation you deserve. Before starting this law firm, Mr. Green was an associate with Roger B. Turrell & Associates, a Partner with Newlin, Green & Weinrich, and a Judge for the Butler County Court. Mr. Green had big dreams on becoming an engineer, that is, until he read the memoir My Life in Court by Louis Nizer. He chose the book for a contemporary literature class unaware that his future aspirations would take on a different career path, i.e. to become a lawyer. Nizer's work stood out to Mr. Green because it showed a side of practicing law that he had never considered before. Most courtroom stories seemed to feature a lot of over-the-top, emotionally driven theatrics - so much so that he never considered going into the legal profession. In Nizer's stories, Nizer approached every case with a level head and a well-designed strategy. Most fascinating of all, he seemed to create a rhythm in the courtroom. As a teenager, Mr. Green could imagine himself litigating his cases exacting the same way. In becoming a lawyer, he stands by the philosophy to always approach negotiations - both in and out of the courtroom - with a calm demeanor and focus on the facts.

Education: Mr. Green attended Indiana University at Bloomington from 1964-1966, received a B.A. from the University of Mississippi at Oxford in 1968, and obtained his J.D. for the Brandeis School of Law at the University of Louisville in 1972.

Associations: Mr. Green memberships have include the American Bar Association, Ohio State Bar Association, the Ohio Academy of Gribow's dedication to excellence in everything from his legal practice to his charitable pursuits has led Beverly Hills and Palm Desert to recognize him by declaring DALE GRIBOW DAY 4 times, including the City of Palm Desert and the City of Hope. Despite his past accomplishments, his work ethic ensures that the achievement that is most on his mind is winning the case with which he is currently involved, whether it is related to an Accident or DUI. Gribow prides himself in TURNING WRONGS INTO RIGHTS as he represents the seriously injured and those criminally accused of DUI's for over 30 years. Gribow's boutique practice has aggressively pursued claims against the irresponsible drivers, as well as the bars, clubs, restaurants, or other entities that supply alcohol when the offender is visibly intoxicated. Over the years his office and his associates have tried or settled accident cases totaling almost 50 million dollars as he advocates for wronged people and is a voice for the injured. Early in his career he was a TRIAL LAWYER with the Public Defender's office and then headed a 30 person law firm in his own name in Beverly Hills, and 17 in Palm Desert.

Education: Mr. Gribow graduated from the University of Southern California (USC) and Loyola Law School, and has taken post-graduate classes at USC and UCLA law schools. Gribow has served his clients with professionalism and legal excellence and built a reputation for success that is known throughout the Coachella Valley and California. Some of the critical components of his success are a strong work ethic, integrity, compassion, and reliability. However, Gribow is not interested in resting on his reputation. He wants to show you how his experience can work for you and get results. The depth of understanding that he has gained during these many years is applied to every case Gribow undertakes.

His dedication to excellence in everything from his legal practice to his charitable pursuits has led to Gribow being named Man of the Year 7 times AND DALE GRIBOW DAY 4 TIMES. Despite his past accomplishments, his work ethic ensures that the achievement that is most on his mind is winning the case with which he is currently involved, whether it is related to an Accident or DUI. Attorney Gribow's experience and knowledge of the law is evident in a variety of ways. He has shared legal information through lectures and by his weekly legal column and radio shows in LA and PS Papers. He is the legal analyst/commentator that local Radio and TV News programs turn to when they are covering national and local legal proceedings. He warns his legal column readers "DON'T DRINK, DRIVE OR TEXT, CALL A TAXI, UBER OR LYFT...IT IS A LOT CHEAPER THAN HAVING AN ACCIDENT OR BEING ARRESTED AND THAN CALLING ME."

Honors: Mr. Gribow has a Perfect 10.0 AVVO Legal Rating and has been selected TOP LAWYER BY THE PRESTIGIOUS PALM SPRINGS LIFE MAGAZINE FROM 2011-20 FOR DUI AND PI. He has been recognized as TOP LAWYER BY INLAND EMPIRE MAGAZINE (NOV 2016- 19). About: Rodney R. Hatter & Associates was established in 1985, the firm conveniently serves clients in Orange County, California. Their Southern California business clients come from San Diego, Riverside, San Bernardino, Los Angeles and Ventura counties, but their clients have headquarters on both coasts and many places in between. They are dedicated and singularly-focused on franchise and distribution law. At Rodney R. Hatter & Associates, they have the most experienced, trained and well-educated franchise attorney services you can find anywhere in the United States. The foundation of their practice is "In every case time is of the essence". They will review your legal situation, provide their view of the legal issues and come to a solution in your case. Rod Hatter is an experienced franchise law and small business attorney. He has specialized in providing legal services to franchisors, franchise owners and other businesses of small to medium size. His legal skills and experience cover nearly all areas of business law, with an emphasis on franchising but including purchase and sale of business (mergers and acquisitions), securities, employment contracts and formation of corporations, partnerships, limited liability companies and other business entities. He is often called as an expert witness on franchise matters.

Education: A Kansas native, Rod was selected to be one of five Alfred P. Sloan Scholars at Harvard University, the highest honor given to incoming Harvard freshmen. He graduated from Harvard in 1966 with honors. Rod then received a scholarship which allowed him to attend Columbia University School of Law in New York City. The focus of his studies was securities, and after he received his J.D. degree from Columbia Law School in 1969.

Associations: Rod is committed to the practice of law and to the development of laws that foster productive interaction between businesses and state and federal governments. He has been appointed to the California State Bar Franchise Law Committee for four separate terms, with his most recent term ended in 2013. He recently headed the State Bar's approval of Franchises and Distribution as a board certified specialty. He served as Chair of the State Bar Franchise & Distribution Law Advisory Commission, which prepares the exams and approves candidates for this specialty. From 1978 through 1985, Rod was General Counsel for Taco Bell Corp.,

which is now California's largest and most successful franchiser, thanks in part to Rod's role in establishing its current franchise program in 1981. He was initially trained as a young lawyer at the well known law firm of Dewey, Ballantine in New York City, where he specialized in securities laws and initial public offerings and worked with Presidential Candidate Tom Dewey. On a national level, Rod has been an active member of the American Bar Association Forum Committee on Franchising since 1979 and he joined the Legal-Legislative Committee of the International Franchise Association in 1977; he speaks about franchising and other distribution methods at various bar association meetings and to other groups and has a good working relationship representing his clients to the California Department of Business Oversight. Rod joined the Laguna Niguel Rotary Club, where he became its President and is the founder of its charitable Foundation. He is currently a member of the Rotary Club of Laguna Beach and its Board of Directors where he works on international projects. He has been selected as Club President for the Rotary year beginning in July 2018. Rod was one of the founders of the World Kids Foundation, which was organized to assist children who live in less fortunate countries, and was a co-founder in 2006 of the Golden Angels Foundation, which raised funds for local charities and needy individuals in the Orange County area. His goal is always to minimize legal costs to clients, first by writing clear and simply stated documents which all parties understand and second by communicating effectively with client adversaries to keep all issues on track and avoid unnecessary confrontations. On the other hand, he has a reputation for taking tough stands and fighting for his clients.

About: The Law Office of Aggie R. Hoffman is a law firm serving clients for over 42 years in Los Angeles, California and the surrounding communities in a wide range of legal issues involving immigration law. The firm solves problems from inception or as newly substituted counsel. Attorney Hoffman focuses on business immigration issues for professionals, skilled workers, and entrepreneurial investors (EB-5). She also successfully reopens unfavorable decisions based on ineffective counsel, and erroneous adverse decisions to challenge decisions made by the Immigration Court (EOIR), Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA), U.S. District Court, succeeding as well before the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. Aggie R. Hoffman owner of the law firm, is an immigration law specialist, based on 42 years of experience in the field. She concentrates her practice in the following business areas: Non Immigrant (Temporary) visas (B-1/B-2, H-1B, L-1a & L-1B, E-1/E-2, O-1, P-1 & P-2), temporary and permanent visas (green cards), including EB-5 (entrepreneurial investor), EB-1 (based on extraordinary ability), EB-2 (advanced degree or exceptional ability, qualifying clients based on evidence of national interest waiver (NIW), EB-3 based on professionals and skilled workers via PERM labor certifications.

Education: Ms. Hoffman obtained a B.A in Education with a major in Spanish and minor in Russian. In 1962, while still in undergraduate studies, she was accepted into an intensive Russian studies program pursuant to a grant from the federal government's National Defense Education Act (NDEA). In 1963, she received a second NDEA grant for a study tour program in the USSR. Aggie is multi-lingual, speaking English, Spanish, Hungarian and Hebrew.

Associations: As shown above, Ms. Hoffman's clients are both employment-based, family-based, and independent investors. Ms. Hoffman is dedicated to analyzing all issues impacting the client, focusing on the factual details of the case. It is the presentation of facts, supported by a thorough research of the law, that make the difference in winning or losing a case. While initially working for three consecutive law offices, the final choice was a career in immigration. She leaned in that direction because her family immigrated to the United States when she was just 11 years old. Her background gave her the empathy and desire to solve her clients' issues. After several years of teaching, attending law school, and practicing law, she joined the national American Immigration Lawyers Assn. (AILA), and in 1983 was elected President of AILA's So. California chapter. As president, Ms. Hoffman served on AILA's Board of Governors, as a Speaker and moderator of several AILA panels at national and regional immigration conferences. She was also assigned to investigate and report to AILA on the Unauthorized Practice of Law in the US.

Honors: In addition, Ms. Hoffman holds the coveted AV rated peer review by Martindale Hubbell (over 15 years) for her legal ability and ethics; also recognized by SUPER LAWYER Magazine, a peer selected Los Angeles Magazine (since 2004). She is authorized to practice law before the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals, Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals, and the Supreme Court of the United States.

About: James T. Joiner Founder of the firm, has been practicing law in Polk County Florida since 1972. In 1974 he formed James T. Joiner, P.A., specializing in Wills, Trusts, Probates, Guardianship, Medicaid Qualification, etc. The firm works to accomplish probating of estates in a speedy manner, so that the probate is properly managed and the assets turned over to the beneficiaries as quickly as possible. The firm also provides experienced, James Joiner has been involved with Guardianship practice for over 30 years, and has gone into it as a major part of his practice for 25 years. He helps families take care of their loved ones in the least restrictive environment possible. If all other avenues of care have been exhausted, he will petition the Court for a determination of competency and if the party is not competent, he will proceed to get a permanent guardian appointed and advise the guardian on the legal ramifications and requirements are for maintaining the guardianship. Mr. Joiner has represented numerous guardians and has been a guardian himself. He can give both legal and practical advice to the family and the guardian on making their loved ones life better and safer. He has worked with nursing homes, assisted living facilities, investment houses, brokerages, banks and others to make sure that the incompetent person is properly cared for and their assets are protected to help care for them in the best possible circumstances. While the normal guardianship process can take up to 90 days to be completed, an Emergency Temporary Guardianship can be established, sometimes within a week or two to protect the incompetent person until a full determination can be made.

James Joiner aids families in maintaining assets for parents or relatives who have to get nursing home or assisted living care. Medicaid allows certain assets to be kept by patients and still qualify for Medicaid. Additionally, they allow certain payments to relatives for care provided to the patient both before and after going into a structured living arrangement. Medicaid allows certain trusts (Qualified Income Trusts and Special Needs Trusts) that allow the patient to keep some assets to help them during their lives and provide for the patient while they live under Medicaid.

Education: Mr. Joiner graduated from Samford University with a B.A., in History, 1969, he received his Juris Doctorate from the University of Florida in 1972.

Family: James T. Joiner is married to Judy S. Joiner and they have two sons, Travis S. Joiner and William T. Joiner.

Suite 220
White Plains, NY 10603
(P) 914-631-2657
kellyandknaplund.com
mfkelly@kellyandknaplund.com

About: Mary F. Kelly, a founding member of Kelly & Knaplund, has practiced family law in Westchester, Putnam, Rockland, Dutchess, and New York counties since 1978. She has been admitted to practice law in the State of New York since 1972, in the Second Circuit Court of Appeals, the U.S. District Court, Southern District of New York and U.S. District Court, Eastern District of New York. Ms. Kelly is a divorce and family law attorney who also does adoptions, residential real estate, and wills/estate planning. Her primary focus is helping families in crisis, creating custody agreements that protect children and secure parental rights, settling divorce actions with a minimum of conflict, obtaining settlement agreements that keep legal costs down, preserving assets, and securing appropriate child support. Ms. Kelly is a skilled collaborative divorce lawyer and mediator. For more than a decade, Ms. Kelly has been a member of the New York Association of Collaborative Professionals. The group promotes alternative dispute resolution and collaborative law in divorce cases and other areas of family law. She has had extensive training in the collaborative approach, and continues to attend seminars and participate in small group practice of conflict scenarios. She believes that collaborative law is a more effective and sensitive approach to divorce and family disputes. Ms. Kelly is also skilled and experienced in mediation, another method for settling divorce cases without resort to litigation in court. Ms. Kelly's practice brings together public service, traditional litigation skills, and contemporary dispute resolution models.

Education: Ms. Kelly graduated from the College of New Rochelle, with a B.A., Dean's List, in 1965. She received her J.D. from New York University School of Law in 1971.

Associations: Ms. Kelly is a charter member of the New York State Permanent Judicial Commission on Justice for Children, which has advocated for court reform in family law since 1988. She has been a member of the Ninth Judicial District Gender Fairness Committee since 1994. A leader throughout her career, Ms. Kelly has served as President of the Women's Bar Association of the State of New York (1987-1988) and President of the Westchester Women's Bar Association (1981-1982). She was appointed Chair of the Grievance Committee for the Ninth Judicial District of the State of New York (1998-2000). She served as Co-Chair of the WBASNY Matrimonial Committee (1991-1992) and is a member of the Professional Standards Committee of the New York Association of Collaborative Professionals. Ms. Kelly was a charter member of the New York University School of Law Women's Rights Committee. The committee reached out to women at other law schools to work together on women's issues on campus and in the legal profession. She and other students fought for the prestigious Root-Tilden scholarship to be open to women. In 1973, Ms. Kelly and other young lawyers founded the first feminist law firm, Bellamy Blank Goodman Kelly Ross and Stanley, tackling cases that could advance women's rights through litigation. The firm also handled divorces and matrimonial disputes.

Honors: As a law student, Ms. Kelly worked with Ruth Bader Ginsburg on the 1971 Supreme Court case Reed v. Reed. The decision established that sex discrimination cases should be subject to the Court's "strict scrutiny" test—previously reserved for cases of discrimination based on race. This meant that the law in question would probably be struck down. In Reed, the Supreme Court ruled that an Idaho law that said men were preferred to women as administrators of estates was a violation of the equal protection clause of the Fourteenth Amendment.

Kenner, David E.

The Kenner Law Firm

About: The Kenner Law Firm located in Encino, California represents clients in a wide range of civil and criminal matters. Veteran and Criminal Defense attorney, David Kenner has devoted over 50 years of handling thousands of State and Federal criminal matters across the country. He was admitted to practice law in the State of California since 1968. Mr. Kenner is known as a very aggressive, well-prepared criminal defense lawyer who establishes strong rapport with his clients. In addition to all of the State matters he has handled, Mr. Kenner has developed a large part of his practice devoted to the litigation of complex criminal, quasi-criminal, and civil litigation most typically opposing government counsel. He has tried cases against US attorneys, district attorneys, attorneys general, and has confronted in litigation the FBI, DEA, CIA, ATF, organized crime, OCIDEF Task Force cases, government contracting fraud, and many others. Mr. Kenner was defense counsel in the first Federal drug king pin case brought in the United States, a host of 848, 846, and 841 cases and a number of money laundering cases including the largest DEA undercover money laundering investigation called "Operation Polar Cap". Mr. Kenner in that case won a dismissal for his client. Having handled nearly every kind of Federal crime including white collar crimes, weapons charges, Federal homicide cases and CFTC and SEC matters. Mr. Kenner has also distinguished himself in the representation of every type of State crime, both misdemeanors and felonies. Over the last two decades, those clients have included alleged murderers, drug dealers and stock swindlers. David Kenner, an executive and head of counsel at Death Row Records represented Suge Knight, co-founder and former CEO of Death Row Records, artist Snoop Dogg and Tupac Shakur, becoming the centerpieces of his practice. Mr. Kenner's excellence is well illustrated in his representation of "Snoop Dogg" where he won an acquittal, Robert Geddyes, where his cross examination in pretrial hearings forced the district attorneys office to dismiss their first degree murder charge on the eve of trial, and most recently he won an acquittal in a case involving twelve counts of attempted murder filed against two members of the Hells Angels Motorcycle Club in the State of South Dakota. After the end of Death Row Records David Kenner, still remained a legal counsel for Suge Knight, joining him as his attorney for his numerous legal issues and his latest trial, where Knight was involved in a fatal 2015 hit-and-run and sentenced to 28 years in prison. Attorney Kenner is considered an expert in the cross examination of government professional witnesses. Whether an instant arrest or a multi year conspiracy investigation, Mr. Kenner brings the experience, expertise and know how to level the playing field allowing the firm's clients to receive a fair trial and the cutting edge in representation.

Education: Mr. Kenner received his undergraduate Degree and Law Degree from The University of Southern California, Los Angeles California.

Associations: Mr. Kenner is a member of the California State Bar and Lawyers of Distinction.

Honors: Mr. Kenner holds Martindale-Hubbell's coveted AV Preeminent rating.

Mr. Legler has practiced law for over 40 years, specializing in the areas of wrongful death, personal injury, medical malpractice and workers' compensation. Throughout his legal career, Mr. Legler has learned a great deal about the law, how to succeed and how to obtain a successful outcome for an injured client. Additionally, Mr. Legler says it is an extremely rewarding experience once a case has been pursued to completion and the client is grateful for the result. "I certainly cannot guarantee that all of our results are 100% satisfactory to the client, as we sometimes lose, but we are much more often successful in obtaining a favorable result for our client." Mr. Legler says "People do not realize that the laws of personal injury and wrongful death are extremely complicated and full of legal pitfalls and technicalities. There is nothing straight forward about any personal injury case. Each case is different based upon the facts and circumstances. Many factors come into play when representing injured clients, and a full knowledge of all the possible ramifications that could occur in any one case are absolutely important."

Education: Mr. Legler is a graduate of the University of Dayton School of Law, J.D., with Honors and he obtained his B.A., in Political Science and Business from Otterbein College, With High Honors.

Associations: He is a member of the Florida Justice Association and the Florida Bar Association. About: Brian C. Leighton Law Offices has served clients in central California and elsewhere in legal matters involving agriculture, constitutional law, government regulation and civil rights since 1986. Founder of the firm, Attorney Brian C. Leighton has been practicing law since 1979. From January 1980 to October 1986 he was a federal criminal prosecutor in the Eastern District of California, Fresno, on the Organized Crime Drug Task Force, where he successfully convicted defendants in approximately 100 jury trials. He also has Orally argued over 100 cases in the U.S. and California Courts of Appeals. He is admitted to The State Bar of California, various state and federal courts of appeal, and the California and United States Supreme Courts. He was recognized as California Lawyer of The Year, 2011 for litigation. That award was a result of a 16 year litigation battle against the CIA and the State Department for unlawfully eavesdropping on conversations of a high level DEA agent who was serving the U.S. in a foreign country. After years of litigation, the CIA and the State Department settled with Mr. Leighton's client for $3 million. A substantial portion of that litigation dealt with the government's claim of state's secret privilege, and Mr. Leighton's successful filing of a motion to reopen the case because of the CIA and the Department of Justice's fraud on the court.

Associations: Mr. Leighton is a member of the California Lawyers Association.

Honors: He was recognized as California Lawyer of The Year, 2011 for litigation. That award was a result of a 16 year litigation battle against the CIA and the State Department for unlawfully eavesdropping on conversations of a high level DEA agent who was serving the U.S. in a foreign country.

ebllaw@sbcglobal.net

About: Mr. Ellis B. Levin is well-known in the condominium and cooperative law fields in Illinois. He has been practicing law since 1973. His practice focuses primarily on representing condominium, community association and residential cooperatives as in house counsel and in litigation as well as representing developers and individual unit owners. Mr. Levin also has extensive experience appearing before government agencies including in the fields of discrimination and human rights, building code violations, public utilities and property tax appeals. Mr. Levin was heavily involved with condominium laws in Illinois authoring and sponsoring every amendment to the Illinois Condominium Property Act including over 300 bills that became law. His annotations and practice notes have been cited in 22 appellate decisions and Three Supreme Court decisions. The Honorable Justice P. Scott Neville relied on Ellis's writings and interpretations to find proper legislative procedures. Levin was first elected to the Illinois House of Representatives in 1976. His district includes the communities of Lakeview, Lincoln Park, and Uptown along Chicago's lakefront. Levin cast his first vote for gay rights legislation in the Illinois House as early as 1977 and has continued to be a vocal proponent of human rights in the years since. It was his support of an amendment to the Illinois Human Rights Act, authorizing cities to adopt local human rights ordinances broader than state law, which reversed an appellate court decision prohibiting them. Mr. Levin has spent 16 years in the state of Illinois General Assembly, representing a Chicago north lakefront district, and chaired the powerful House Revenue Committee, the House Public Utilities Committee, the subcommittee on real estate of the House Judiciary I Committee and served on the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules, which had jurisdiction over the rules of every state agency. As a Assemblyman, he championed the rights of individuals in the LGBT Community and was named a "Friend of the Community. Mr. Levin has always worked to overcome "Explicit bias" by actively supporting the rights of gay, lesbian, and bisexual persons. Mr. Levin has worked consistently to end discrimination and provide active representation for all of his constituents.subcommittee on real estate of the House

Education: Mr. Levin graduated from The University of Chicago with a Bachelors Degree, Political Science and received his J.D. from Northwestern University School of Law.

Honors: Levin has received numerous accolades for his vocal and visible support of the gay and lesbian community. He has been named the IVI-IPO Best Legislator of the Year for every term in office beginning in 1980. Recipient of the ERA Leadership Award in 1982, Levin was recognized one year later by the Illinois Human Relations Association. In addition he has been awarded the Illinois Pro-choice Sylvia Award and the Glynn Sudbery Public Service Award.

About: Rob Levine & Associates is a personal injury law office conveniently serves clients in Providence, Rhode Island, in a wide range of legal matters including personal injury, social security disability and VA disability. The firm has a strong, exceptional team of lawyers making sure their clients get the justice they deserve. They pride themselves on wanting to be a part of your success and having a reputation for being dependable and trustworthy for both their clients and their employees who they consider family. Mr. Robert J. Levine, a former military police officer, founded this firm over 15 years with a strong tradition of service to his community and country. He believes that his clients deserve the highest-quality representation and he has established this throughout his firm. He is committed to helping people in a timely manner and he loves doing it. He has one of the most aggressive approaches to personal injury litigation in the area. His will power earned him the title "The Heavy Hitter" in Providence and beyond. At sixteen, Mr. Levine became part of the Glen Rock Volunteer Ambulance Corps, holding a position of EMT (emergency medical technician). He was promoted within a year to Crew Chief. During his nine years of commitment and dedication, he rose through the ranks to become second-in-command of a fifty-person rescue squad. This was the beginning of his call to serve. The next phase of Rob's career took him to college for Administration of Justice and to the Rhode Island Army National Guard. There he served three years as a military police officer. After his national service and graduating from college, he took a step toward serving the community. He was hired as a police officer by the Central Falls Police Department. Seeing the many needs of the citizens of Central Falls during his first six months on the force, Rob decided it was time to do more. He began a writing project for a grant and secured sixteen thousand dollars for the department's first K-9 Drug Enforcement unit. Upon his appointment as the K-9 Officer, he went to California for formal training. In addition to his patrol duty, Rob and his dog were instrumental in fighting the ever-present drug problem in the city. After retiring from the police department Mr. Levine began to practice law continuing to help those in need. Rob also continued to feel the need to serve the community as a volunteer and became a Ski Patroller. Not being fully satisfied with his medical background as an emergency medical technician, Rob went back to school to become a paramedic. Rob now works and volunteers his time as a paramedic, riding on an ambulance, trying to make a difference.

Education: Mr. Levine received his B.S. Bachelor of Science in criminal Justice, Administration of Justice and his J.D. Juris Doctor from the Roger Williams University School of Law.

Associations: Mr. Levine is a member of the Massachusetts Bar, Rhode Island Bar and Connecticut Bar Association.

Losey, Beverley Brown

Beverley Brown Losey
1001 4th Avenue
#3200
Seattle, WA 98154
(P) 206-625-2200
bbloseyjd@aol.com

About: Beverley Brown Losey serves mainly administrative level clients at the Social Security Administrative Offices of Hearings in Tacoma and Seattle, Washington. She is admitted to the practice of law in the State of Washington, the Federal U.S. District Court for the Western District of Washington, U.S. 9th Circuit Court of Appeals, the US Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims. She will work with Social Security Administrative clients, especially Supplemental Security Income, "SSI" applicants, especially those who receive Washington State benefits from Washington State Department of Social and Health Services) clients to assist to use legal means to address multiple problems of housing shortages, limited funds (one individual in Washington may receive a grant of less than $300 per month; and Washington State is one of the better States in providing for disabled persons and persons of limited means. Of course, the client must identify the goals and priorities for such assistance as she is retained to assisting in obtaining SSI and/or Disability Insurance Benefits from the Social Security Trust funds. The key to her success as told to her by clients, sometimes nurses, and frequently by social service providers, by case workers and counselors that she is helpful in ways beneficial to her clients. Basically, she tries to listen to her clients; and, while she likes to be "kind", she does, at times when she must, make every effort to have clients focus on realistic goals. The majority of her clients, regardless of any IQ level, prior higher income, or social standing, face immense challenges in daily live.

Education: Beverley graduated from the University of Maryland at Walter Reed Army Institute of Nursing, "WRAIN" with Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree in 1970; her class was the third to graduate; the first three classes were called "Raindrops" from the song "Raindrops Keep Falling on My Head"; the next and all subsequent classes were called "Reindeer". That government educational program is no longer available. Her WRAIN graduating class will be celebrating the 50th Anniversary in 2020. The former site of Walter Reed Army Medical Center, in Washington, DC, was acquisitioned by the US Department of State, when Hillary R. Clinton was Secretary of State. She later received her Juris Doctor from University of Puget Sound, now Seattle University law school. So, she has two diplomas from law school. She has been practicing law in the

State of Washington since 1985.

Associations: Due to her WRAIN background, and years of service she is also known as retired Army LTC, (Lieutenant Colonel) Beverley Brown Losey, USA-Retired. She has for many years supported the Reserve Officers Association, (ROA), headquartered (executive offices) in the Minute Man Bldg. on Constitutional Avenue in Washington, DC. As Secretary of the Bremerton, Washington, ROA Chapter WA-02 (see ROA.org), she was very happy to have a small part in June, 2019, in scheduling a program manager from the State of Washington, Department of Veterans Affairs, (Transitional Housing Program) to speak to the small Bremerton Chapter that meets in Port Orchard, WA. The program manager and a person with a "success" story, spoke to the group, mainly veterans, but included a retired nursing school instructor, a specialist in PTSD (spiritual), a landlord who rents 15 units to the homeless, an Engineer, and other concerned citizens with different perspectives about the problems encountered by the homeless, more specifically homeless veterans. She and others believe that communication, understanding, and, yes, respecting the views of and "loving thy neighbor" in the broadest sense is needed in these current times as much as ever. She sincerely hopes that in the future others, not members of this small group, may have such adult educational activities or programs available.

Honors: American Jurisprudence Award in Trusts and Estates

Family: Beverley is making an effort to achieve and complete a copyright of her deceased Father's book called, "Brown is my name" as compiled by her father Frederick Sherwood Brown. Frederick's father was a NYC news reporter; Frederick's grandfather was in the old "news business." Her husband's Losey family was once well known in Renton, Washington, due to a business called "Renton Auction Co." Renton was once considered rather "rural" area; but, now appears to be more of a "suburb" city in the Seattle area. Beverley was born in Seattle, Washington but has only lived in Seattle about five years of her entire life.

About: Mark A. Ludwig, partner at the firm, was admitted to practice law in Missouri, 1981 and Illinois, 1982, the U.S. District Court Eastern District of Missouri, 1981, the U.S. District Court Western District of Missouri and the U.S. Court of Appeals 8th Circuit, 1981. Mark began practicing law at a large insurance defense firm in St. Louis in 1981, representing insurance companies and their insureds. In 1985, he moved to Jefferson City, where he began representing people in personal injury law, insurance law and litigation. When he represented the insurance companies, it was a challenge, now he devotes his practice to those who have been injured and is also a certified mediator. Mark loves making a difference in his clients' lives. The gratitude that he gets from clients, knowing their expenses are covered and their future is secure is tremendously satisfying to him. Mark and his partner Rudy Veit recovered over $11 million for a client in 2012 who suffered an electrical injury in a workplace accident, and recovered one million dollars for a paraplegic client over a poorly fitted wheelchair. Mark has also represented clients against General Motors, Walmart, John Deere, Amtrak, the Missouri Department of Transportation, various manufacturers, trucking companies, nursing homes, and major insurance companies. Product liability, construction defects, and refusal to pay claims along with more routine auto accidents and other negligence cases have led to numerous six and seven figure recoveries for clients.

Education: Mark graduated from Bradley University, Peoria, Illinois, with a B.A. cum laude - 1978 and received his J.D. from Saint Louis University School of Law, St - 1981.

Associations: He is a member of the Bar Association of Metropolitan St. Louis, the Missouri Association of Trial Attorneys, the

Suite 221
Nyack, NY 10960
(P) 845-620-1100
phelanspedlaw@gmail.com

About: Patricia S. Phelan is a solo practitioner with an established Rockland County Firm dedicated exclusively to supporting parents of children with disabilities in need of navigating all aspects of special education law. She is also certified by NYSED to preside over impartial due process hearings between parents of children with disabilities and their school districts. Ms. Phelan's extensive litigation background includes positions as Senior Assistant District Attorney and Senior Trial Attorney at the Kings County District Attorney's Office in Brooklyn, NY. Unable to identify a law firm that could appropriately represent her eldest daughter (who had a disability) with the integrity and diligence Ms. Phelan knew her daughter deserved, Ms. Phelan recognized a critical void she needed to fill. Applying her legal experience as an assistant district attorney and litigator in private firms, Ms. Phelan developed her own law practice, with the philosophy and ideals she was confident were critical to be successful in the field of special education law. Ms. Phelan brings to her law practice a lifetime of compassion, personal understanding of children with disabilities and their loved ones, and many years of practical experience. Ms. Phelan identifies with the parent who feels misunderstood or not heard by his/her school district; the parent who is overwhelmed by confusing volumes of documents; and the parent who is unsure about how to make sense of this process. Ms. Phelan is personally invested in helping the families and children with whom she works navigate "the system," decode and understand the paperwork and relevant law, and put the pieces together, so they feel organized and empowered throughout their advocacy to support their child's needs. She credits her success with being a relentless advocate for her clients, while respecting the importance of working with a student's school district and keeping an open mind when exploring all potential options. She comprises a unique but essential combination of resilience and collaboration, in order to successfully represent her clients.

Education: Ms. Phelan received her J.D. Degree in 1989 from Washington University School of Law where she was an Associate Editor and published author on the Law Review. She received her B.S. Degree in Psychology in 1981 from Union College. Ms. Phelan is admitted to practice law in both the States of New York and Connecticut.

Associations: Ms. Phelan is a member of Council of Parents, Attorneys and Advocates and of the Educational Law Committee of the Westchester Women's Bar Association.

Ms. Phelan is also a very active Donor, Volunteer and Walk Team Captain for Autism Speaks. In 2019, the Rockland County Director of the Office for People with Disabilities appointed Ms. Phelan to serve on the "Challenge Collaborative" which is a Committee that unites communal efforts in advocating for and supporting persons with disabilities and their families to maximize access to health, well-being, educational and employment resources.

Honors: In addition to her selection as one of Who's Who Top Attorneys of North America, in 2018, based upon the recommendations of her clients, Ms. Phelan was named one of Hudson Valley Parents' Favorite Lawyers. As a volunteer for over 10 years, Autism Speaks has honored Ms. Phelan on numerous occasions for her dedication and work on behalf of Autism Speaks (holding positions including Walk Chairperson during numerous years), her Law Office's financial contributions as a Walk Sponsor, being the annual team captain of her Walk Team KATIE'S KAMPers, and has been recognized numerous times as the GHV's leading fundraiser (honored over the years with accolades including both Platinum and Crystal Supporters awards). In 2013 Ms. Phelan won PULSES Outstanding Service Award in the Parents' Category.

Family: Ms. Phelan is married 21 years to her husband, James, who is a high school teacher and former law enforcement officer. The Phelan's live in Rockland County and are very proud of their three beautiful children Kaitlin, Ashley and Michael.
