My name is Rod Niemeier, and I am 65 years old. My college sweetheart, Annette, and I have been married for 41 years and have 5 adult children and 9 grandchildren. I am a retired engineer, and now enjoy flying small planes, watching the grandkids (we just got twin boys!), designing and 3D printing plastic parts, working out at the gym (basketball and weights), and helping out around Victory Lutheran church.

I believe there are few things in life more important than getting a youngster to start his life journey with God's principles. The benefits gained by the students of Victory Christian School will help to propel them into adulthood with a solid basis for Christian living. God's way works best!
