Thursday August 20th
Hyde

Come join us for an amazing night wreck dive off the North Carolina Coast.

When: Thursday August 20th
We will be meeting 5:00 pm at the Wilmington Marina located at 1414 Airlie
Road, Wilmington. Boat departs at 6:00 pm.

Dive Site: Hyde

Hyde - It was built in 1945 in Wilmington Delaware and saw service in Atlantic, Pacific and Honolulu. It's primary function was to keep waterways open for Naval ship traffic. Because the Hyde was constructed during WWII it was one of a few dredges outfitted with guns, armor, and a gun crew. Today the Hyde sits upright in 85ft of water 18 miles from Masonboro inlet. It was sunk by NC Division of Marine Fisheries in 1988. The deck is around 65-70 ft which makes this a good dive for a novice diver wanting a little more experience.

This is a 2 tank trip. We will do the first dive around 7:00pm so divers can see the entire dive site. Our 2nd tank will be a night dive.

Cost:

Cost: $99 per diver

For Divers who want to earn their Night Diver Specialty Certification the Night Diver Specialty is included in the trip price. Divers just pay $25 for their specialty card.

Fuel Charges:

We are working with our boat charter company to keep costs as low as possible and at this time have not added any fuel surcharges. The largest expense for a dive charter is fuel. With the current unpredictability of fuel costs a small fuel surcharge may be necessary if prices continue to rise. If needed the fuel surcharge will be collected upon departure. THANK YOU for your understanding.
