

FROM THE DESK OF: MARK SMITH, OWNER

2020 Super Moon

April's full Pink Moon will rise on the night of Tuesday, April 7, reaching peak illumination at 10:35 P.M. ET. This full Moon, which is the first full Moon of the spring season, is both a super moon and the Paschal Full Moon!

This Month's Reminder

We have finished our "service renewals" and have begun scheduling. If you have not heard from us in regards to your service renewal, please check your voicemail and/or email (spam/junk). Please call or email as soon as possible if you would like to renew or add services to avoid scheduling delays.

"Stay home, stay safe"

Our office will remain closed for the duration of the "stay home, stay safe" executive order. Rest assured, our team is fully equipped to provide the same great customer service you would expect.

Our highest priority is the health and safety of our clients and crews. We are following federal guidelines to minimize exposure to the virus and will continue to do so for the remainder of the season.

Recent updates from the federal government may prevent us from providing services until May 1st. Our team is focused on maximizing efficiency through scheduling and training in preparation for the late start this season.

We will continue to provide updates as we learn more.

Just hours before the start of the Home & Garden Show, the event was cancelled. Unfortunately, as quickly as we setup our booth we had to return to tear it down. We were eager to show off our exhibit and provide outdoor solutions for new and existing clients. The largest opportunity we missed out on was the chance to establish new relationships and to build on our existing ones.

Our booth was not the largest but it was a great demonstration for many of the services we offer.

Our booth showed off several of our services as well provided ideas for that next outdoor project.

For a full list of services we offer and more outdoor solutions, please visit us at smithlawnscape.com.

We are here for you!

Grass is coming out of dormancy and lawns are beginning to turn green. Plants are starting to bud and some flowers are even blossoming. Most Michiganders are typically beginning their lawn maintenance and outdoor projects now. With the ongoing state shutdown and global concern of COVID-19, many are not preparing for the season.

Unless our state or your city says otherwise, you are still allowed to go outside to get some fresh air. Many health experts encourage exercise and sunshine for the immune boosting and mental health benefits. We may not be health experts, but we know first-hand how being outdoors can lift your spirit. Please follow federal and state recommendations when performing outdoor activities.

We are all going through this together, but one thing you can count on is that Smith Lawnscape is prepared. Our staff is ready now! Do you need a solution for your outdoor project? Do you need a 3-D design to bring your vision to life? Would you like a quote for a project or service? Our team is fully equipped to work from home and would love to hear from you.

Heading into spring we may be a little behind, but we are ready to hit the ground running and provide a quality experience with every visit! To ease your mind with our expected delay, let's think about last season. We had 20 plus rain days that postponed projects and prevented routine services. The only difference this season, is the delay factor. Instead of rain, we have a virus. The point is, we still managed to complete projects and provide quality services in spite of any delays.

As we move forward we can expect our schedules to shift as federal and state COVID-19 updates continue daily.

-Thank you all for your continued support and patience as we navigate these unpredictable times.
