City Hall Report Stresses Local Commercial Development

A 2,500 word report covering Dorval's industrial and commercial development, has just been completed by a City commission headed by Ald. G. Bourke.

The report spells out in detail what it considers the city's prime needs and recommends, among other things that more attention be paid to development of one particular area near the traffic circle as a commercial centre.

"We feel that a major effort should be made during the next few years to encourage commercial development and local shopping," said Mr. Bourke.

"We believe," he continued, "that commercial development has more financial advantages to the city than industrial and is not hindered by some of the obstacles which confront immediate industrial development."

The report further recommends that the City should undertake a program of close cooperation and support of all the merchants in Dorval, and generally, in every way possible, promote Dorval as the "commercial hub of the Lakeshore".

It is pointed out that the revenue from the 2% sales tax constitutes one of the said financial advantages of commerce over industry, since it is collected in addition to the business and municipal taxes.

"The sales tax constitutes a major portion of annual revenues as compared with the business tax and enables the residents of Dorval to obtain considerable benefit from expenditures in Dor-val by travellers and residents of adjoining communities," says the report.

In discussing services and utilities the report brings out the fact that the City is presently able to provide services immediately and at little cost in the entire central portion of the city. Natural gas is now available to industry in most areas of Dorval and is being used by several of the larger new plants. Electricity of course, is readily available at low cost.

Industrial development, while considered secondary to commercial development at this time, is not without value to the community, according to the report. However, since the major industrial area situated to the west of the airport would involve the expenditure of over $1,000,000 to provide adequate services (which, in turn, would create an impossible load for the city to carry), the Commission believes that if the landowners concerned could be persuaded to shoulder the major portion of servicing costs, the land could develop into a highly desirable industrial location with mutual benefits to both the city and the property owners.

Optimists Youth Appreciation Stirs Enthusiastic Response

Youth Appreciation Week on the Lakeshore, promoted by the Optimist Club of Lake St. Louis, got off to a flying start Monday night, November 9th, when some 78 fathers, sons and daughters enjoyed a banquet and entertainment by "Magic Tom," at the Naples Inn in Pointe Claire.

Ralph Mahar and Wayne Wright who acted as Police and Fire Chiefs for a day in Dorval and Pointe Claire respectively, gave a resume of their experiences to the gathering, as did Cheryl Pearce who served as Mayor for the day in Pointe Claire.

The accent was on youth throughout the program with Charley Cresswell, Jr. giving the invocation, Terry Wiseman introducing "Magic Tom" and Ann French thanking the entertainer for his happy bag of tricks.

The Optimists are particularly looking forward to the Teen Age Driving Road-Ex-O and they urge all those who secured application forms to phone their names in promptly to Bud Wiseman ME, 1-0313, UN, 1-0260; or Dan Danaher, OX, 2-4997, ME, 1-3561. Arrangements can then be made to have the official application forms picked up or mailed in.

Brand new parents in the Dorval to Ste Anne's area are reminded that a $25.00 bond will be given by the Optimists to the first child born in this area between 12:01 a.m. of November 9th and midnight November 15th and duly registered with Bud Wiseman at UN 1-2607 not later than midnight, November 16th. All entrants must have the birth time verified in writing by the attending physician.

The new plant, expected to be one of the most modern installations of its kind in North America, is scheduled for completion in early 1960. In establishing its aviation services for the first time on the North American continent, BP Canada also announced that its first customer will be Trans-Canada Air Lines. The supply of special jet fuel, for the new T. C. A. fleet of DC-8 super jet liners due to come into service in 1960, will be made by AIR BP, which already supplies part of T. C. A.'s European requirements.

Appointed to the newly created position of aviation manager for BP Canada is Walter Barber.

Dorval East Swimming Pool To Be Largest On The Lakeshore

A large L-shaped pool of some 4500 square feet will be built in Ballantyne Park in Dorval East, if the current Pool Campaign sweeps on to full success. This was learned when the Dorval Recreation Association revealed further details of the three-pool project.

The pool at Ballantyne Park will provide the very best for swimming and diving competitions. It will be equipped with 3-metre diving boards. The diving and swimming areas together will total 50% more than any other pool on the Lakeshore.

Plans include a 3000 sq. ft. pool in Dorval North, which will give people in that area swimming facilities fully equivalent to those in Walter's Park but much more conveniently located.

The three-pool project will provide over three times as much space (9500 square feet compared to the existing 3000 sq. feet), but the Association will campaign for only twice the existing number of active participants.

There are already 800 persons paying an annual fee so their families can use the Walter's Park Pool. If another 800 persons will sign a pledge to give their families swimming privileges also, the Association will build two more pools for use next summer. The cost to new participants will be only $20.00 per family per season. There will be nothing else to pay.

These 800 persons must mail their pledges immediately to allow time to get two new pools into operation early next season. Pledges should be mailed by one person in every Dorval family that did not use the Walter's Park Pool last season.

Signed pledges returned to the Association last week exceeded the numbers returned in the previous two weeks. Dorval East returns improved considerably, but Dorval North is still ahead by a margin of three to one.

Persons requiring pledge forms or additional information can obtain same by telephoning Archie Johnston, ME-1-3331.

Surrey Gardens H. & S. Meeting To Feature Special Film Monday

The November general meeting of the Surrey Gardens Home and School Association will be held on Monday the 16th. A NFB movie entitled "The Cage" will be the highlight of the evening.

This film which examines the pressure of modern suburban living and its effect on fathers, is from the Perspective television series. Many will remember the interest and stimulating debate these films have caused in our living-rooms, at the morning coffee-break and after bridge. General discussion will be encouraged along these lines suggested in the film by the guest of the Association, Mrs. Libby Pavay.

Since most readers who are interested in school activities are also involved in other groups, and clubs as well, the following list of future general meetings may help in arranging social calendars.

December 8th, Tuesday, Mr. Clifford Mitchell, Music Supervisor of Montreal Greater School Board, will be the guest speaker.

His topic for the evening—"Something for the Spirit". The school choir will participate.

There will be no general meeting for the month of January.

On February 1, 1960, a Military Whist will be held to provide scholarships for boys and girls.

March 21, 1960, will be Principal's night with Mrs. Munro as speaker.

April 25th will be closing night and the election of officers for the following school year will take place then.

Air BP Comes To Canada

Extension to Canada of The British Petroleum Company's worldwide aviation fuelling facilities has been announced by BP Canada Limited. Started in 1926, the Company's aviation services, now known as AIR BP, already cover Europe, Africa, Australia and parts of the middle and Far East. These fuelling services, among the most comprehensive in the world, are being constantly developed to keep pace with the rapid increase in the requirements of airlines.

To meet the demands of the jet age, BP Canada plans to build a $125,000 bulk plant for aviation fuels at Montreal's Dorval Airport.

What Price A Child's Tears

Picture, if you will, a nine-and-a-half-year-old girl set upon by three boys and two girls around the same age shouting, "She's a real Jew, let's beat her up!" Follow her running dishevelled, frightened and bewildered to her home crying for comfort and the reason for such an act. Look into a parent's anguished heart, searching for an answer - an explanation - to give without hate but with understanding.

It couldn't happen here, you might say, but it did - right in Dorval this very week.

In this year of the Jewish bi-centenary in Canada, when their hopes for the future are so high and their heartaches of the past are slipping away, an incident such as this in a respectable residential community can only come as a distinct shock.

We know that children can sometimes be thoughtlessly cruel but the feelings evidenced by most children are usually the result of what they see and hear in the company of their parents. In a word, prejudice and discrimination begins in the home and parents who do not take a stand and set a good example of brotherhood among men are just as guilty, if not more so, as their children in a case such as this.

The initial impact of this incident is bad enough in itself, but when one learns that the little girl's father spent four years in a concentration camp; that her grandparents died in ghetto massacres and in Nazi prisons; that her mother was also in an internment camp and lost members of her own family and relatives in anti-Semitic atrocities during the war years, one can only feel quietly ashamed.

We do not believe that this particular incident is representative of Dorval, for Dorval with its many community associations and service clubs has a reputation for neighborliness and goodwill, particularly where children are concerned. Neither are we so naive as to think that an editorial will put a complete stop to this sort of thing within the near future, either here or in other cities across the nation.

However, we do hope that this story will serve to re-emphasize to parents, schools and churches the ever-present need to set a sincere example in greater understanding and respect for people as people - not as members of a different race, color or creed.

John Pratt Reports From Ottawa

This week I am publishing the remainder of a report on level crossings in this Country, which was made several years ago by the Department of Roads for the Province of Quebec.

"Montee St-Jean"
 This grade crossing - the less important of the three - could also be eliminated by using the same solution as in the first two above mentioned; but, the solution is not as urgent as in the other cases. As the execution of these plans cannot be done in a short time, we make the following recommendation:

Automatic gates synchronized at the cost of $25,000 each, on the C. P. R. and on the C. N. R. should be installed immediately at Montee St-Charles and Montee St. Jean. The distribution of cost should be as follows:-

Board of Transport 40%
 Canadian National 20%
 Canadian Pacific 20%
 Department of Roads 20%
 and the cost of maintenance should be divided on a basis of 50% to the C. N. R. and 50% to the C. P. R.

As far as the Montee des Sources is concerned, we recommend the immediate installation of gates synchronized on the C. N. R. and on the C. P. R., and also the immediate construction of the road connecting Coolbreeze Avenue to Montee des Sources, which would permit the closing of the grade crossings at Valois Avenue and at Coolbreeze Avenue, as soon as this last installation is completed. At the same time, the construction of the two pedestrian tunnels under the C. N. R. and the C. P. R. at Valois Avenue and Coolbreeze Avenue should be undertaken immediately.

AIR VICE MARSHAL ALAN FETTERLY, C.B., M.C., who will be one of the guest speakers on "Civil Defence" at the monthly meeting of the Dorval Chamber of Commerce at 7:00 p.m., November 18th, at the El Paso Cafe, Lachine.

cost shall be made as mentioned at the beginning of this letter.

We are including, with the present report, a few copies of a perspective plan showing the elimination of the grade crossing at Montee des Sources.

Yours very truly,
 Chief Engineer

Jaycees Hold Bonne Entente

Last Saturday afternoon and evening saw good fellowship in action. The occasion was a Bonne Entente at which the Trois Rivières Unit of La Chambre de Commerce des Jeunes were guests of the Quebec English-speaking Jaycees. Hosting this affair were members of the Dorval Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Among the programmed items of the day were included a conducted tour of Montreal Airport, and a cocktail reception at City Hall.

Mayor John Pratt addressed the group, touching on Council Affairs, Montreal Airport, and the future plans of the City of Dorval.

This Bonne Entente is one of several joint arrangements between English and French speaking counterparts designed to produce better understanding between these groups.

G.M. BOURKE PRESENTAIT

AU CONSEIL DE DORVAL UN RAPPORT

Demièrement M. l'échevin G. M. Bourke présentait au Conseil de ville de Dorval un rapport dans lequel il souligne tout particulièrement l'importance du développement commercial plutôt que le développement industriel dans Dorval.

Ce rapport de 2,500 mots donne en détails les différents aspects de ces sujets, et démontre également les besoins actuels et futurs de la Ville. Il souligne aussi les difficultés encourues par la Cité depuis l'entente avec Quebec Industrial Leaseholds l'an dernier.

Le coût des terrains, et en quelques cas, le fait que ceux-ci sont peu propres à certains genres d'industries, plus l'importance du développement commercial au point de vue impôts, sont les sujets que M. Bourke mentionne tout particulièrement dans son rapport.

Il finit en soulignant que la Ville concentre tous ses efforts, durant les prochaines années, au développement commercial dans la zone à proximité du rond-point. Ce genre de développement comporte beaucoup plus d'avantages financiers, et M. Bourke est d'avis que la Ville pourrait entreprendre un programme demandant l'entière coopération de tous les marchands de la Ville pour que Dorval devienne le noyau du commerce du Lakeshore.

Sports on Parade

BY GARY ILLIATRAIT

The Lachine Lakers have won the league and playoff titles and are on their way to the Provincial playoffs. All supporters of the Lakeshore Minor Football League will be wishing them the best luck possible. The Lakers won their second playoff game against Westlake last Friday evening at the Lachine Stadium.

With football over except for the Small Fry League, hockey is coming into the picture and talk around our City these days is all about the proposed erection of an Arena. A lot has been said about an arena and a lot more will be said but what we need are people of action who will do something and not just talk.

The meeting called by the Lakeshore hockey Board last week was a start toward getting such action. The great majority of the Lakeshore Association sent delegates to the meeting and everyone was convinced that an artificial ice arena must be erected on the Lakeshore right now. The big question is who will start the erection of an arena, who will operate it, and where will it be built. So far one offer has come from the City of Pointe Claire for land and services and we are still hoping to see offers from other cities on the Lakeshore. More cities and towns should be interested in getting an Arena built in their districts. Every Association in Pointe Claire is backing up the move. The Pointe Claire Junior Chamber of Commerce strongly recommends the erection in Pointe Claire and are 100% with the Pointe Claire City council in offering land and services. The City of Pointe Claire is very progressive. They realize that an arena of their own would spread the name of Pointe Claire all over the Province and bring to their City a lot of good publicity, besides providing the lakeshore population with a much-needed sports and exhibition facility. There is not a single place on the Lakeshore where exhibitions of any size can be properly staged.

A special committee composed of the following, has been elected to study the project completely: Mrs. Dorothy Dow, Dorval Recreation Association; Mr. George Semyk, director of Parks and Playgrounds activity for the Cities of Pointe Claire and Dorval; Mr. L. Elm of the Canadian Legion; Mr. John Newsum of the Pointe Claire Chamber of Commerce; Mr. Bob Birmie, president of the Lakeshore Hockey Board; Charlie Jarvis and John Blanford, vice president and publicity chairman respectively of the Lakeshore Hockey Board. The committee is already working on the project and their findings should provide the answer to the many problems connected with the erection of an arena.

Another season just opened in the Inter Paroissiale Hockey League and the Dorval team sponsored by the DUPONT T.V. CORPORATION and under the direction of Ross Hill played their first game last Monday at the Lachine Arena and defeated the St. Sacremnt representatives by the score of 4 to 3. All players played a good game and Grigg and Bessette with two goals each were the heroes of the first victory for Dorval.

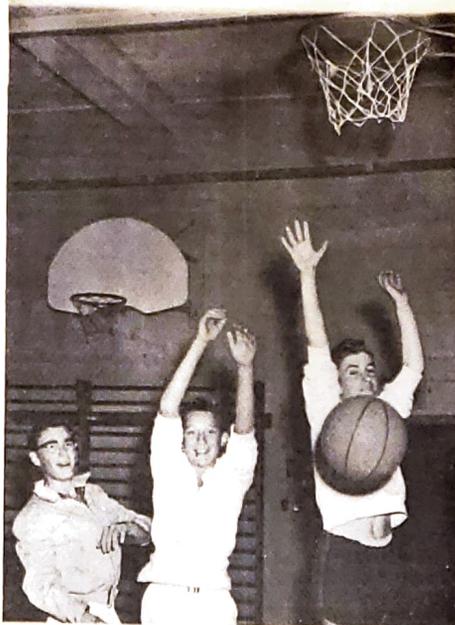

We hear that the Lakeshore West Lions Club will sponsor a football league next year. Little League baseball is sponsored by the same Lions Club in the Valois, Lakeside, and Pointe Claire area. Last year Pomy League baseball was also sponsored by the Lakeshore West Lions and with the formation of the new football league in that district, it goes without saying that the Lions members should be justly proud of their achievements in the promotion of sports for youth.

Dorval has been provided with Little League for many years now by the Lachine Lakeshore Lions Club. Lachine has a very good Little League program going, also sponsored by the Lachine Lakeshore Lions. We know that the Lions on the Lakeshore are also helping underprivileged children in other activities, and doing a top job in preventing juvenile delinquency. Our hats are off to the Lions Club members from Lachine to Ste. Anne's!

All boys interested in playing hockey next winter should send their registration coupon to the D.R.A. right now. Don't wait do it now and you will not be disappointed. You may use the coupon published in The Dorval Reporter or send your own application giving all of the necessary details. (See last weeks issue for coupon)

Last Saturday, November 7th, the Dorval East Small Fry Football team played host to the Valois boys and scored a nice 12 to 0 victory on two touchdowns by Benoit and Fitzpatrick. In the first quarter the Dorval East quarterback faked a kick and threw a perfect pass to Fitzpatrick for the major. The Valois Boys were caught flat-footed on this one.

In the fourth quarter Harvey Benoit went for a 65 yards on a punt return for the second major. Dorval East played a good game both ways. For Valois the boys played a good game defensively but didn't show too much scoring power.

Enjoying an active game of basketball are three members of the Lachine-Dorval YMCA Saturday afternoon gym class which is held at the Courtland Park School in Dorval.

Left to right are: Chris Throwbridge, Gary Shawyer and Roger Holmes who seem to have just scored a basket for their side. The "Y" program is held every Saturday from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. and is open to boys 13 to 17 years of age.

YMCA Launches Fund Campaign

The Annual Maintenance Campaign of the Montreal YMCA gets underway in the Lachine-Dorval area tomorrow, Friday, November 13th. One hundred and fifty volunteer workers will join forces as they seek to raise the local area's minimum objective of $6,500. These funds are used to help offset expenditures that are incurred by the local YMCA in providing its programs and services to the youth of the two communities.

Mr. J.M. Crawford, general chairman of the Lachine-Dorval YMCA area indicated that $240,000 is the objective of the Metropolitan city-wide drive for funds. This money will be used to help maintain the sixty-two suburban program centres, four camps, Sir George William College and the ten YMCA branches.

During the past year the local "Y" has become a thriving centre of activity, for boys and girls, teenagers and adults. In addition to activities which take place at the "Y" building a large number of programs and activities take place in facilities such as schools, homes, churches and other locations.

"The Lachine-Dorval YMCA, through its programs provides wholesome opportunities for young people to have worthwhile and meaningful experiences," stated Mr. Crawford. "Well balanced club and small group programs coupled with healthful physical education activities encourage positive and valuable influences on young people, especially during their growing years," he added.

The campaign which gets underway tomorrow continues until November 30th. The headquarters for the Lachine-Dorval organization will be at the YMCA building on Provost Street.

ST. VERONICA'S C.W.L. MEETING

The St. Veronica's Parish Council, Catholic Women's League, will hold their general meeting at the home of Mrs. G.J. Dolan, 491 Elac Ave., Dorval, Wednesday, November 18th, at 8:15 p.m. The meeting will be followed by a social evening in aid of the annual bursary, of which Mrs. Dolan is convener.

Mr. Sexton, who hails from New Zealand, spoke briefly of the work done by the Junior Chambers of Commerce in underdeveloped countries, and his proposal whereby North American Jaycees would financially support some 4,000,000 underprivileged children in India. He also remarked on his recent interview with the Dalai Lama of Tibet in exile in India and on the Lama's proposed campaign to revive Buddhism as a religion.

Following the dinner, Mr. Sexton left by air for the Jaycee World Congress in Rio de Janeiro.

LACHINE-DORVAL KINSMEN STAGE GAS-O-RAMA

This Saturday the Kinsmen club of Lachine-Dorval are holding a "Gas-o-rama and Car Wash" at René Dubois' Texaco service station on the south side of Metropolitan Blvd. The Kinsmen turn garagemen will take over duties of serving gas, oil and washing cars. Naturally, competent service men will be available to do service work. All profits of the day will go to the "Kinsmen Club" to help maintain the No. 626 Lakeshore Kinsmen Air Cadet Squadron was founded by the "Kinsmen Club" in 1925 and now has 125 Cadets. The Club plans to hold this Gas-o-rama as an annual event to complement the Gas-o-rama held each spring in Lachine. The Kinsmen ask all Dorval motorists to come to the Texaco Service Station to Gas and Wash up.

Canada's fastest-growing community owes much of its success to its wide-awake merchants. When you shop in Dorval, you do so with confidence. When you support your local merchant, you contribute to the advancement of Dorval. The success of local business is the key to the success of any city. Do your shopping in Dorval.

This message is sponsored by the Council of the City of Dorval.

During their most important years the Montreal Y.M.C.A. shares their quest for values for living

Their characters are taking shape in a society that raises questions like these:

- Does growing national prosperity automatically mean a better life?
- Do more comfortable homes necessarily enrich family living?
- Does more schooling answer the question: "What shall I do with my life?"
- Does more leisure insure the full, creative use of time and talent?

More young people than ever will be turning to the Y.M.C.A. this year for worthwhile education and recreation... for help in finding and achieving their true goal in life.

In city branches and suburban program centres — in churches and schools, playgrounds and private homes — the Y helps provide the leadership, the program, the sense of direction and belonging so important to every developing boy and girl.

Many of the Y's most valuable character-guiding activities are provided at nominal cost. Yet all but 11% of its program costs are covered by membership, tuition and other fees. This financial gap is made up, each year, by people who value and endorse the work the Montreal Y.M.C.A. is doing — and who contribute to its Maintenance Campaign. Your financial support is needed to achieve this year's goal. Give all you can when the volunteer campaign worker calls.

ST. MARK'S PLANS EVERY MEMBER VISITATION

Laymen of St. Mark's Church will conduct an Every Member Visit on Sunday afternoon, November 15. Special attention will be devoted to visiting and welcoming families new to the parish, although it is planned to visit all parish families, new and old.

The laymen-visitors want to acquaint everyone in the St. Mark's pastoral family of the church's activities and accomplishments, and in particular the many new activities permitted by its splendid new building. They will discuss the current position of the church, and its needs.

IN FOCUS

By K. M.

There is a moral in this episode: when the lady of the house says she smells something, believe her, no matter how impossible it sounds. Ladies in the O'Connell Street area were complaining to their husbands about the strong smell of gasoline around their homes especially in the basements! Not possible, was the general male verdict! Finally one lady called the Quebec Natural Gas Corp. They have no pipes in Dorval but they were courteous enough to answer the call, and they sent a man out promptly although it was very late. His diagnosis was "gasoline in the sewers." Impossible, was the general attitude at city hall. However "the smell" exploded in a couple of mighty rumbles and that brought quick action. There was gasoline in the sewers, seeping in from a leaking gasoline tank at a garage nearby.

Accidents have been on my mind this week. The baby nephew of one of my friends was badly injured in one of those freak accidents that could happen in any home. He was crawling around in the room where his grandmother was vacuuming, and when she turned away for a moment to do some dusting, the baby disconnected the cord at the vacuum cleaner and put it in his mouth. The cord was plugged in at the wall, and the child received a great jolt of current and was painfully burned on his face. He could have been killed.

Another accident reported in the papers and read quickly by most of us concerns two boys who were struck down last week in a Toronto suburb, one of them fatally injured. Details of the accident passed on to me by Mrs. C. Collyer, friend of the parents of the injured boy, make this sad accident an object lesson for all of us. The two boys on their way home from a Scout meeting were run down by an alleged intoxicated driver, Laurie Crump, in hospital seriously injured, and with only a vague memory of going to the scout meeting, had not been told by his mother that his friend was dead. There is pause for reflection here with the holiday parties coming up, and the temptation strong to mix driving with drinking. In a word, don't!

A few Hallowe'en stories are still drifting in. Paul Tricker, the lad who delivered the Star to some of you before he was hit by a car this summer, did not miss out on the Hallowe'en fun. He made the rounds in a wheel chair. Another small item concerns three little girls and a contribution of two dollars and sixteen cents. Hidden in the imposing Dorval Jean Morris, and Catherine Dauphine, who raised the money during the summer at a penny fair. And did you see the 'Round the World in Eighty Days' (18 days by T.C.A.) Costume worn by Lana Duchanan, Green Circle. Someone in that family keeps coming up with the most clever and original ideas.

Library Memos: Have you been at the library lately? If so, have you left anything there? Several articles are there to be claimed. A timely suggestion from the library staff - a family membership to the library makes a wonderful Christmas gift. Three dollars will provide a year's reading pleasure for the family, whether it is a new membership or a 1960 paid up membership card for old members.

Young Canada Book week, November 15 to 22, will be marked at the Dorval Library by a display of some of the new selections for youth. Parents are invited to visit the library and are urged to make suggestions regarding future purchases. Mrs. Lachance also hopes to be able to show an educational movie at St. Louis Marie School this week.

The Quiet Monument. The library brings us easily to the memory of Mr. Franz "Chris" Tollefsen, one of the early residents of Dorval who died Oct. 31. Many remember him through his outstanding achievements in skiing. Mrs. Lachance remembers him as one of the early enthusiastic supporters of the Dorval Library, and an avid reader. There is in the Dorval Civic Library a large set of encyclopaedia which Mr. Tollefsen carried out at a time, up the incline from his home on Lilac to the library room in the old St. Joseph School. The books will be in the library a long time, an enduring memorial.

Golden Wedding. An unusual and touching ceremony took place in Saint Veronica's parish last Sunday to mark the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. V. MacGillivray who reside at the home of their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. G.J. Laignan, 130 Garden Crescent, Dorval. The couple sat in special pews before the congregation during a Mass of Thanksgiving. When Father Griffin stepped down from the altar to bestow a special blessing, there was, for many, a moment near tears as honor was paid to long years of marriage and to the fine dignity of age.

The Dorval Parks and Playgrounds Committee has issued a report "May 1953 - October 1959" I have a confession to make in connection with this committee. The name of Bob Bader, Chairman of this committee, has come up so often in our community in connection with Parks and Playground work that I thought it was his full-time job. It turns out that he and all the other workers on this committee have served voluntarily as advisors to the city council. Likely many of you are also vague on the actual set-up of this committee and the work it has accomplished in six years. Following are some of the highlights of this report.

The Dorval Parks and Playgrounds Committee was proposed in May, 1953, by Mr. John Pratt. It was formed by elected representatives of various neighbourhood associations representing all areas of Dorval. In common with other voluntary citizen groups, it had no legislative power and could only recommend to Council.

By the end of the summer of 1953, with the fine cooperation of the council, the number of playgrounds was increased from two to nine. Four of them were equipped with a slide, a set of baby swings, and one bank of junior swings.

The first summer supervisor was hired in 1953. During 1954 an additional four parks were equipped with slides and swings. In 1955 a tree planting program was promoted. Jungle Gyms were purchased for nine playgrounds. Four playground leaders and a handcraft instructor were hired. In 1958, a recommendation was made for the permanent appointment of a recreational director. The City Council recently accepted recommendation of a study report and initiated the necessary steps to set up a Parks and Recreation Department. Another one of the recommendations of the study report which has been carried out was the formation of a Board of Parks and Recreation to which from seven to nine citizens would be appointed by council.

With the establishment of the City Parks and Recreation Department, the Committee of Dorval Parks and Playgrounds' work is completed. The summary of the work it has accomplished speaks for itself. Through the recommendations of this committee, the cooperation of the City Council and the parks and playgrounds commissioners, initially Mr. Pratt, and for the past years, Mrs. H.M. Ballantyne, great strides have been made in the direction of recreation for Dorval. A city's thanks should go out to the committee members who have given so freely of time and effort and especially to Len Hackett and Bob Bader who served with the committee from its beginning.

MRS. NOREEN C. PINEO of the Montreal Civil Defence Headquarters staff, who will be one of the guest speakers on "Civil Defence" at the monthly meeting of the Dorval Chamber of Commerce at 7:00 p.m., November 18th, at the El Paso Cafe, Lachine.

RESOLUTIONS FOR LITTLE THEATRE GROUPS

1. We solemnly resolve to learn our lines, even if it takes us twice as long as we think it should.
2. We solemnly resolve to try our make-up under the lights once, even twice before the performance, and ask ourselves if we are producing the effect demanded by the script.
(Does Aunt Loo look younger and more blooming than the Heroine? Does our Hero's peroxidized hair look silver under the lights? The time to answer these questions and do something about the answers is before the first performance.)
3. We solemnly resolve to learn to ad lib. Other people in our cast, being human, are subject to error, and we must work as a team to cover for them.

ALL HAIL TO THE CHURCHES which house and sponsor Little Theatre Groups. Two such offered good theatrical fare this week-end to packed halls, and in each case the audiences were satisfied that they had had their money's worth. What a coincidence that both were dramas of suspense, in which poison was featured as a method of disposal.

LOVE FROM A STRANGER, adapted for the stage by Frank Vesper from a story by Agatha Christie was presented by the St. Andrew's Players, Strathmore. Here is a collection of actors, all with a good deal of theatrical experience, headed by a director also with long years in little theatre behind him. They produced a play which had eye appeal. Their sets were excellent, the best the St. Andrew's Players have had to date. The Cottage was utterly charming, with its straggled walls and stairways, its vista of sunny garden, later chilly-lit by moonlight. The little touches were there too, the twisted candle sticks, the sinister wooden box, the leather-bound books, suggestive in their very appearance of the ghoully subject matter within. Yet LOVE FROM A STRANGER, a spine chiller, failed to chill. The apprehension one should feel for the heroine from the moment the hero-villain enters, was lacking, and Act I, which should build toward that sense of "the terror that walketh by noonday", became merely a series of small chit-chatty encounters. Individually, each played his part, but none contributed to the whole. Why not? Because the actors had not been given that vision of the whole by the Director.

Auntie Loo, played by Val Dalton, was obviously enjoying herself, and she had a right to. She looked the part; she was dressed for it, and she was convincingly amusing. Bruce, whose stock-in-trade, a fatal instant charm, which must sweep the heroine and the females in the audience off their feet simultaneously, unfortunately lacked charm. The heroine, on the other hand, who must appear wide-eyed, innocent and ready to be swept, looked tired, jaded and rather more calculating. This, though, was the fault of her costume (black), and her makeup, to which attention has already been made. In Act II wearing pink, she came quite alive, and looked as a bride should.

One must mention those character bits which can and did add so much to the total effect. Fay Pullan, as the country-bumpkin serving-lane added comic relief with homoe and enthusiasm which was fun to watch. Doctor Gribble contributed considerably to the gathering chill in the air, and the final moments of the play were positively shocking in their excitement.

TO KILL A CAT by Roland Pertwee and Harold Dearden is the premiere production of the St. Augustine's Players, whose aim, set forth on the back of their modest, mimeographed program is in part -- "to attain as high a standard of quality as possible" and "... the development of a worthwhile congregational and community activity." They are well on their way to achieving both. Here is a team of actors, only two of whom have had any previous theatrical experience, yet the director, Mr. Leo Lacey has harnessed this team to produce a drama of real suspense and excitement because he understood and made them understand how each could contribute to the mounting tension of the whole production. Of course there are mistakes made in two hours' running time in such a production, but the audience was not conscious of them. Of course there are actors of uneven ability in any amateur group, but here the strong competed for and sustained the weak. Even Tom Gillanders, THE CAT, seemed to know that he had a part to play. Here the audience, caught in the state of suspense, oo-ooed its tight breathing as the curtain closed on Act II. One would love to know if Doreen Griffiths is really Scottish. What a well-sustained accent if she is not! So completely convincing was Jan Ayres as the selfish, domineering, hypochondriac whom everyone in the play wills to murder, that I felt a faint surprise in speaking to her backstage and finding her normally friendly!

One would like to mention the outstanding job done by Jack Griffiths, by John Fenice, by the pathetic gardener, but somehow one feels that in a group like this no one really wants to be singled out. The St. Augustine's Players are achieving something more than competent play production. Whether they recognize it or not, they are giving us a very practical expression of Christian living.

OPERA FOR BEGINNERS

What a wonderful opportunity the Music for Young People Concerts provide season after season for fostering a love of music in our children. This season's program on the Lakeshore will be finished before the snow flies, a wise plan when one remembers storms coinciding with concerts last winter. Saturday, November 7, Bastien and Bastienne, the charming little pastoral opera written by Mozart at the age of twelve was performed with charm and delicacy with Janice Peron and Robert Peters in the principal roles. The staging by Irving Guttman was especially appealing to children with its fairy tale cottage complete with half-glimpsed into children's windows which opened and shut miraculously in time to the orchestra. Young listeners would appreciate the clarity of each word of the staging which made it easy to follow the simple tale as well as to enjoy Mozart's light tuneful melodies. The warm personality of Eugene Kash himself as he tells the children adds immeasurably to the success of these occasions.

Mr. and Mrs. H.V. MacGillivray, currently residing with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. G.J. Lanigan, 130 Garden Crescent, Dorval, who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on November 9th. A surprise party arranged by Mrs. Lanigan saw friends and relatives from the Maritimes and Indiana join with local well-wishers to celebrate the occasion Monday evening. Married in Glace Bay, N.S. in 1909, Mr. and Mrs. MacGillivray moved to Saint John, N.B. in 1912 where Mr. MacGillivray was in the jewellery business until his retirement in December, 1957.
