November Reflection

John 1:5 "The Light shines in the darkness and the darkness did not overcome it."

On Sunday, November 23, we are going to have a hanging of the greens celebration following our 10:30 worship. We will start by having a soup and sub lunch, which I can assure you, you do not want to miss. Then we will adorn the church with decorations as we prepare ourselves for the wondrous event of Advent. While this event will be fun for everyone, it is important for us to remember that hanging the greens is about far more than just having a good time, each decoration has a specific meaning.

Each Advent, as the days grow shorter and the nights lengthen, the church gathers to adorn its sacred space with greens, light, and color. We call this the Hanging of the Greens. It is more than mere decoration. It is a liturgical act—a visible proclamation that the church lives by a different calendar, one shaped not by consumer frenzy or winter gloom, but by the anticipation of God's coming among us in Jesus Christ.

At first glance, hanging greens seems an ordinary, even quaint tradition. Garlands, wreaths, and trees appear in sanctuaries and homes alike, signaling that Christmas is near. Yet for the church, this moment is profoundly theological. It is a declaration that in a world so often marked by barrenness, we dare to speak of life. In a season when creation appears dormant, we adorn the sanctuary with evergreens—symbols of enduring life and hope. The Hanging of the Greens becomes an act of faith: we believe that God's promise of new life endures even in the coldest and darkest seasons.

Each element carries its own story. The evergreen, unchanging in color through the frost, points to the steadfastness of God's love. The wreath, with neither beginning nor end, reminds us of the eternal nature of God's covenant. The holly, with its sharp leaves and red berries, recalls both the suffering and the redemption of Christ—his crown of thorns and the blood shed for the world. The Christmas tree, standing tall and radiant, becomes a sign of the cross transformed into the tree of life. Through these symbols, we are invited to see creation itself as a witness to divine grace.

Adorning the church also serves as an act of preparation. Advent is not a time for rushing toward Christmas but for waiting. Hanging the greens is a tangible way of saying, "We are getting ready." The church, like Mary, prepares to receive the Christ child. The greens are not simply festive—they are anticipatory. Each garland we hang, each candle we light, becomes a prayer in motion: "Come, Lord Jesus."

In this way, the Hanging of the Greens is also communal. No one decorates the sanctuary alone. Children carry branches, adults untangle lights, elders hang wreaths high upon the walls. It is a shared labor of love, a visible expression of the body of Christ working together. In this act, we proclaim that faith is not a private ornament but a communal testimony. The church becomes what it adorns—a people of hope, beauty, and welcome.

There is, too, a subtle tension in this moment. We decorate with joy, yet we know that the world outside may not feel joyful. The Hanging of the Greens does not deny the pain, injustice, or longing that mark human life. Rather, it stands as resistance against despair. To hang greens in a weary world is to say, "We still believe in resurrection." The church's greenery is an act of holy defiance against the coldness of sin and death. It is the church's way of saying that Emmanuel—God with us—is not a sentimental slogan but a living truth.

And so, when we hang the greens, we are not simply beautifying a building. We are preparing a place for Christ to dwell. We are saying that the God who took on flesh still comes to make all things new. The greens whisper a promise: that life will break forth again, that light will return, that Christ will come.

The Hanging of the Greens invites us to see the world through Advent eyes—eyes that look upon darkness but do not fear it, eyes that glimpse eternity in the curve of a wreath, eyes that see in the evergreen branches the persistence of divine love. It is, at its heart, an act of worship—an embodied "yes" to God's promise that the Word has become flesh and dwelt among us.

We hope that you will join with us as prepare to be the kind of people who dare to walk into a cold dark world and share the wondrous good news that God's light has come to the world and try as it might the darkness could not overcome it.

Grace and Peace,

Zack Christy

KINGDOM KIDS KORNER

October has been a busy month. We visited the Lineberger Pumpkin patch where the children and their families were able to enjoy a fun day riding hayrides, picking pumpkins and playing on the many playgrounds they offer. Our 3's and 4's walked to the Fire Dept and learned fire safety. Then the Fire Dept came to school for our 2 year old class. We celebrated Pastor Zack by making him pictures (that he hangs on his door) which the children loved seeing.

Up ahead we look forward to the upcoming Trunk-or-Treat. We have seven or eight families that have already reached out to do a trunk from our preschool. We are so blessed to have such amazing participation this year. Then onto the Monster march that the city is hosting for our children to parade through town in costumes and trick or treat at our local merchants.

November will be filled with learning about Thanksgiving, families, Veterans and veggies, as well as our A,b,c's and 1,2,3's. We will have a three day break to celebrate the Thanksgiving holiday. When we get back we will be hard at practicing for our Christmas Play.

Thank you all for all you do for our preschool. We are so blessed.

SPECIAL EVENTS 2025 ADVENT EVENT

The Christmas Holidays are just around the corner and thus marks the "Advent Season" in our church. Our church family will commence our Christmas Season together on Sunday, November 23, with our traditional "Hanging of the Greens". This is a tradition our church had for many years. We have not come together as a church family for "Hanging of the Greens" in several years but it's back this year!

What is more fun than being with family for food, fun, and fellowship and decorating for Christmas? PLUS we encourage everyone to come that Sunday in your favorite Christmas casual sweatshirt or favorite Christmas sweater and your MOST COMFY Shoes!!

Following worship we will gather in the fellowship hall for a delicious lunch made up of homemade Soups, Subs, and Desserts and follow with "Hanging of the Greens" for ALL ages. It will be a good time for your family to experience the meaning of advent and what our church decorations mean. This event will feed your stomach AND your souls!

We have special crafts planned for children of all ages including making Ginger bread houses!! We need men for their "brawn" and the women for their "brain" and supervision. There is a place and a need for everyone to help! We promise a time of fun and fellowship and probably a lot of laughter with your church family.

Mark your calendar for Sunday, November 23, and join your church family for a special time preparing for the season of our Saviors birth.

Advent begins Sunday, Nov. 30. You will feel blessed to know you participated in making our Sanctuary and our church even more beautiful for the Advent Season.

After many hours of planning and years of fund raising, we have almost completed our playground upgrades. Our Playground Selection Committee along with the Trustees originally anticipated the cost of the upgrades to be around $80,000.00. After the work began, these 2 committees saved the church almost $10,000 by doing some of the manual labor themselves and we are so thankful for this savings. The total cost for the upgrades is anticipated to be

$70,394.22 - cost for upgrades

$59,457.23 - received from donations

$10,936.99 - still needed to fund project.

The UMK's, Youth, Preschool and scouts are enjoying the improvements that are already in place. Please remember this fund when making memorials or special gifts to the church.

Our annual charge conference will be held on Sunday, November 16, immediately following the worship service. All committee chairs and church members are invited to attend this business meeting.

Dear Church Family,

From the bottom of my heart, thank you. During Pastor Appreciation Month, your words, prayers, cards, and countless gestures of kindness have deeply touched me. Every note, every meal, every hug, and every prayer reminded me how blessed I am to serve among such a loving and faithful community.

Being your pastor is one of the greatest joys of my life. Week after week, I witness God's grace at work—in your generosity, your compassion for one another, and your desire to serve Christ in the world. You make ministry not just a calling, but a shared journey of faith and love. And there are no disciples that I would rather journey with than the faithful who make up First UMC Cherryville.

Please know how grateful I am for your encouragement and support. Your appreciation not only strengthens me but renews my commitment to lead with humility, faith, and joy. Thank you for allowing me to walk alongside you as we seek to follow Jesus together.

Grace and Peace,

Zack Christy
