

The Music Scene

Across

- 1 Rob Derhak, Oneida County native, is the bass guitar player and a founding member of this jam band.
- 2 This song written by Thomas H. Howard, refers to a bustling intersection in downtown Utica, "Meet me on the..."
- 3 A community band formed over 100 years ago that performs summer concerts in the Village of New Hartford.
- 6 Large-scale music festival held in Rome, attempted to emulate the original festival of 1969.
- 8 Musical ensemble that made its debut in 1917 playing its first concert at the Lumberg Theater, George H. Fischer conducted.
- 9 Hotel Utica was once the site of this musical enterprise opened in 1871 and holding 1000 seats.
- 12 This downtown Utica building served as HQ for Yates Hoag who provided the first music-streaming service in the area, serving stores, offices and restaurants.
- 13 This organization was established in 1916 for talented music students in the Utica Rome area.

Down

- 1 She founded the UFA a cappella choir in 1939 and directed it for years.
- 4 She died in 1927, leaving funds a musical society for Utica students; a music scholarship in her name is still given to deserving public school students.
- 5 Born in Utica, he became a Union General and wrote the popular bugle-call "Taps."
- 6 Utica's first AM radio station was housed in the J&M music store and often played piano music to advertise their pianos.
- 7 American blues rock guitarist, born in New Hartford, started his career at age 12, when he opened for B.B. King.
- 10 Two Utica musicians became members of this rock band that had a hit called "More than a Feeling."
- 11 This world-famous singer known as "The Swedish Nightingale," sang in a Bleecker St. church in 1851.