

It's All in His Name

*"The people who know their God will display strength and take action."
(Daniel 11:32)*

A name is a term used for identification. It says who we are, it's what we are known by to all those around us. When we know God, there's a power in our lives—the ability to stand firm. And there's nothing so powerful as the name of our Lord God. In the Old Testament times, a name was not only identification, but an identity as well. The more God's people came to know him, the more names they gave him

As we grow in our knowledge and our experiences in faith with Him, we see just how active and present God is in our lives. Friends, today is He is calling you to know Him better. As I sat down to write I felt led to write on the names of God. If you need some extra reassurance today, find hope in His powerful name.

There is no better way to build our relationship with God than understanding who He is (as much as we can in this life anyway). God is calling you to come deeper. An intimate relationship with Him requires you to know Him. That means you need to have knowledge of His nature and character that are reflected through His each of names.

In each of His names, you can see just how personally He cares for you. Each of these names has great significance. His names reveal a lot about who He is for you. His name is endless in meaning. This means He is whatever you need, when you need it. The Bible contains literally hundreds of different names and titles of God. I hope the few I picked encourage you!

The Old and New Testaments describe our God as compassionate, loving, fatherly, strong, all-knowing, and more. He is a God of salvation, of justice, and of mercy. Knowing and believing in God's character as revealed in his names provides great protection against enemy attack.

When you study the names of God you will know where to find help in time of need. God longs for you to know more of Him so that you might fully trust in the name of the LORD and rely on [your] God. (Isaiah 50:10).

To know His name is to know Him. To boast in His name is to have confidence in Him! The people who know their God will display strength and take action (Daniel 11:32).
