

To Whom It May Concern:

I have been an adult piano student of Paul Burd for approximately the past 12 month. When I first began my lessons with Paul, I was a true beginner. As I have come to learn more about the piano, I have also begun to learn that Paul really does have a deep and vast skill with music and the piano specifically.

Paul is a very professional and easy going teacher. I enjoy the variety of pieces we cover and also his emphasis on technique. I think his approach has helped me to begin building a strong foundation in fundamentals which will serve me well as I move to more complicated music. I am looking forward to continuing my lessons with Paul for a very long time to come.

Sincerely,
