WIN A FREE HELI-SKI TRIP IN THE WILDS OF NORTHERN NEVADA

Lamoille, NV - Ruby Mountains Heli-Experience (RMH), in the middle of northeastern Nevada's Great Basin, is giving away a heli-ski or snowboard trip of a lifetime.

In this remote stretch of seemingly endless alternating desert valley floors and lofty mountain ranges, situated some three and a half hours west of Salt Lake City and five hours east of Reno, there's literally zero competition for fresh tracks. You're probably only sharing the bounty with up to 15 other patrons of RMH at a time. Lamoille, Nev.'s population is a whopping 105 people, and barely over 51,000 people in total inhabit the entire 17,203 square miles of Elko County. The nearest chairlift is literally hundreds of miles away. There are no hungry locals calling in sick
