

"You did not choose me, but I chose you. I have redeemed you. I have called you by name. You are mine"

(John 15:16; Isaiah 43:1).

Hello Heavenly Father!

I want to thank You, that I am Your child. I am blown away with the truth that I have royal blood flowing through my veins because of Your love for me.

I thank You, that there is a plan and a purpose for my life. I am excited because I am equipped for whatever my day brings because You are my God. I know that You will supply whatever I need because of Your great Love for me, I will trust in You, the Author and Finisher of my faith because You are faithful and true.

I declare, that I will not walk by what I see, but I willingly walk in the truth of Your Word for me. I willingly cast down any imagination or vain thing that tries to rise against what Your Word says for me. I willingly guard my mind. I willingly guard my heart. I will only allow those things that are pure and holy to flow from it.

I willingly choose to keep my eyes on the One who orders my steps. Your Word will light my path and declare that Your Word is my only guide. I willingly believe that Your word is true, therefore I believe no weapon formed against me will prosper.

I rejoice that Your Word is alive and well within me and that Your word will produce a harvest of righteousness in my life. I give you my day, my week and my life to rule & reign in all areas.

In Jesus Name,
