General Comments

- 1 All applications must be submitted electronically. Paper applications are no longer accepted.
- 2 The application is a part of the contract. It is important, therefore, that all statements be complete and accurate.
- 3 Select good risks – those who are in good health.
- 4 Remember, the precise terms of the policy will always govern the benefits available. You should avoid personal interpretations or explanations of policy provisions so as to avoid any misunderstandings at a later date.
- 5 Coverage and eligibility – one or more members of the immediate family group may be eligible for coverage under the same policy. The family group is considered as proposed insured, spouse or domestic partner, and their unmarried dependent children. Legally adopted children and step children of either the proposed insured, spouse/domestic partner will also be considered part of the family group. Children must be dependent on the proposed insured and spouse/domestic partner.
- 6 For coverage and eligibility, the underwriter also looks at any other insurance coverage any applicant may have with the company, to protect against adverse selection and to prevent over-insurance or fraud.
- 7 Policy will not be back-dated prior to the date of application for any reason.
- 8 It is imperative the email address entered is owned and controlled by the Applicant. This email address will provide the Consumer access to all future communications, Marketing Materials, image of the submitted Application, and policy print if e-delivery is selected and coverage is issued. Failure to enter a valid Applicant owned email address can be considered fraud and may result in the loss of appointment.
- 9 Medicaid Recipients: The Medicaid program may seek to recover benefits paid under supplemental insurance plans, and where benefits are not recovered by Medicaid, they may be countable as income for purposes of determining Medicaid eligibility. Supplemental products are typically not suitable for Medicaid recipients

Visa Guidelines – All products (including Dental and Vision)

Only Immigrant Visas/Resident Alien/Green Card will be accepted. Temporary Visas are not accepted.

Immigrant Visas allow travelers to enter the U.S. in order to live and work permanently in the U.S. A Resident Alien Visa sometimes known as a “green card” is a type of Immigrant Visa. This is a pathway to US citizenship. In many cases the spouse or family of a Resident Alien Visa holder will have a V type Visa. This Visa would qualify as an Immigrant Visa as well. Temporary or non-immigrant Visas allow travelers to enter the U.S. temporarily for a specific reason (i.e. tourism, temporary work, school, medical treatment or business.)

In most cases to acquire an Immigrant Visa, a person must be sponsored by a U.S. Citizen relative, a U.S. lawful permanent resident, or by a prospective employer. They must also be the beneficiary of an approved petition filed with U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS). Diversity Visas from countries with low rates of immigration to the U.S. which are provided by way of a lottery are also called Immigrant Visas. However, this Immigrant visa does not require a U.S. sponsor.

Immigrant Visas require documentation by USCIS such as:

- Affidavit of Support
- Required Application Documents (i.e. birth certificates, police reports, marriage/divorce certificates, etc.)
- Medical Exam
- Interviews

Temporary Visas - Partial List

B-1	Business visitors
B-2	Visitors for pleasure or medical treatment
E-1	Treaty traders working for a U.S. trading company that does 50% or more of its business with the trader's home country and their spouses and children
H-2B	Temporary workers of various kinds coming to the U.S. to perform temporary jobs for which there is a shortage of available, qualified U.S. workers
J-1	Exchange visitors coming to the U.S to study, work, or train as part of an exchange program officially recognized by the U.S. Department of State
K-1	Fiancés or fiancées of U.S. citizens coming to the U.S for the purpose of getting married
P-1	Internationally recognized athletes and entertainers, and their essential support staff
S-5	People coming to the U.S. to supply information to the U.S. authorities about a criminal organization.

Opening Documents in Different Windows

Help!

- ▶ Question: I am trying to do a presentation and every time I click to view a document, like the application or a policy print, it closes the product guide! Why is this happening?
- ▶ Answer: Adobe Reader has a default setting which opens any new documents in the original window. This is not a particularly useful feature. To disable it and have multiple windows open, follow the steps below (Based on Adobe Reader 9. Almost all Adobe Readers will be similar).

The screenshot shows the Adobe Reader 9 interface with a document titled "Combined Product Guide Example.pdf". The "File" menu is open, and the "Preferences..." option is highlighted. A red arrow points from the "Edit" menu to the "Preferences..." option. A yellow box labeled "Step One" points to the "File" menu. A yellow box labeled "Step Two" points to the "Edit" menu. A yellow box labeled "Step Three" points to the "Documents" category in the Preferences dialog. A yellow box labeled "Step Four" points to the "Open cross-document links in same window" checkbox, which is unchecked. A yellow box labeled "Step Five" points to the "OK" button at the bottom right of the Preferences dialog.

Step One
Open the Product Guide in Adobe Reader.

Step Two
From the menu selection called "Edit," Select "Preferences."

Step Three
In Preferences, select Documents.

Step Four
Uncheck this box.

Step Five
Click OK.
Problem should stay solved for your Adobe / computer combination indefinitely. It is not file-specific.

This glossary contains general definitions of insurance terminology used in underwriting. While every effort has been made to present accurate and up-to-date definitions, it should be used as a resource, not as an authority.

A

Accept/Reject Underwriting

Underwriting where an applicant or a policy is approved or declined and exclusions are not used.

Accident

An unforeseen, unexpected and unintended event resulting in bodily injury.

Accident prone

Having or susceptible to having a greater than average number of accidents or mishaps.

Adverse Selection

The tendency of persons with poorer-than-average health expectations (higher risk) to apply for, or continue insurance coverage to a greater extent than persons with average or better-than-average health expectations (lesser risk).

Age Limits

Ages below and above which an insurance company will not accept applications or renew policies.

Agent

A state-licensed individual or entity representing one or more insurance companies. An agent solicits and facilitates the sale of insurance contracts or policies and provides services to the policyholder on behalf of the insurer.

Applicant

The person applying for the insurance policy. The applicant may be different from the proposed insured or the policy owner.

Application

Forms required by the insurance company which the proposed insured completes when requesting coverage from an insurer.

Approved

A status that indicates the insurance company has completed underwriting and agrees to issue a policy to the proposed insured.

Attained Age

The age of an individual on a given date. Some of our supplemental plans use attained age as a method of calculating insurance premiums.

B

Backdating

A procedure used to make the effective date of a policy earlier than the application date. Policies issued by the Insurance Company are not backdated for any reason.

C

Carrier

Another name for an insurance company.

D

Decline

An applicant is denied coverage due to specified reasons.

Dependent

An individual other than a primary or policy holder in the policy/contract. Generally, dependents are limited to the primary's spouse or domestic partner and minor children.

These are activities that, if participated in may make you ineligible for coverage from the insurance carrier. Examples include, but are not limited to scuba diving, jet, snow, and water skiing, snowboarding, hang gliding, skydiving, paragliding, bungee jumping, mountain climbing, and amateur racing.

HIPAA

(Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996) – Legislation mandating specific privacy rules and practices for medical care providers and health insurance companies, designed to streamline the healthcare and insurance industries and to protect the privacy and identity of healthcare consumers.

I

A company that provides insurance coverage through the issuance of insurance policies. This is also referred to as the Insurer.

Insured

The individual covered by an insurance policy.

Issue Age

The age of an individual at the time of application. This locks in premiums that may not be changed unless a payment is missed. Some of our supplemental plans use issue age as a method of calculating insurance premiums.

Issue State

State in which the policy was issued.

J, K, L

M

Material Misrepresentation
