

Julie Schoen Hower is Vice President of Internal Audit and Enterprise Risk Management at Carter's, the largest branded marketer of young children's apparel in the United States and Canada. Julie is responsible for conducting Carter's risk and culture assessment and executing the risk-based audit plan, which includes strategic, financial, operational, technology, and compliance projects.

Prior to joining Carter's in 2012, Julie spent 11 years with Deloitte focusing on internal controls and data analytics. Julie holds degrees in Accounting and Management Information Systems and is a Certified Information Systems Auditor. Julie serves on the Board of Governors of the Institute of Internal Auditors (IIA) Atlanta, and as its Vice President for Volunteers.