About Me

I like to take my kids on adventures whether in our house or across the country. I enjoy baking, riding horse (it's been awhile though), machining, and playing board games. My siblings and I love solving puzzles together – especially doing escape rooms. If ever a crazed maniac locks us in a room with the only escape being to solve a mystery, we'll be ready!

The place you can find me when I'm not at school is with my family – kids & siblings. I love being with them and taking them to events and activities.
