

CUT STONE

Buechel Stone's state-of-the-art Cut Stone System fabricates complex structural natural stone shapes with programmable, high-quality precision. It can create curved and straight stone profiles such as those for archways, coping, column caps, sills, etc. giving our customers a wide array of building accent options. Our cut stone is also ideal for hearthstones and fireplace surrounds. We have several standard fireplace surround profiles to choose from or we can custom design surrounds to your specifications.

Click on the images for more info in our Product Selector™

Cut Stone Panels

- custom fabricated to project specifications
- sawn to height and length for easy installation
- large range of material colors and finishes available
- installation similar to a CMU

Hearths and Mantles

- economical standard sizes available
- can be custom made for specific project needs if standard sizes, materials, or finishes do not work
- large range of material colors and finishes available

Pier Caps

- economical standard size caps available
- can be custom made for specific project needs if standard sizes, materials, or finishes do not work
- large range of material colors and finishes available

Sills

- economical standard sizes available
- can be custom made for specific project needs if standard sizes, materials, or finishes do not work
- large range of material colors and finishes available