What can I expect at AUSA Now?

Much like our regular Annual Meeting, AUSA Now provides you with unique opportunities to connect with the Army and defense industry leaders through informative, relevant presentations, forums, and panel discussions as well as a chance to network with fellow attendees, exhibitors, and presenters. Over 400 companies have signed up as exhibitors and are eager to connect with you from anywhere around the globe as North America's largest landpower exposition comes to you.

Can't be at your desktop during AUSA Now?

While many are working from home during these unprecedented times, we know that not everyone can be at their desktop during our live, interactive, virtual event. If you can't be at your desktop during any of our dozens of sessions, don't worry--we have an app! The AUSA Now app will allow participants even more flexibility with the ability to tune in anywhere your smartphone can travel with you. The AUSA Now app launched on 6 October on the App Store and on Google Play. Stay tuned for more details!
