

To Beg You

Coming in the morning to take you back
On my hands and knees, crawling, to earn your trust
Coming in the morning to beg you

So in these troubled times
Comes a feeling
Like the seasons
I keep changing
And I'm never, ever
Going to go back
You can't make me

Coming in the morning to take you back
On my hands and knees, crawling, to earn your trust
Coming in the morning to beg you

So in these troubled times
Comes a feeling
Like the seasons
I keep changing
And I'm never, ever
Going to go back
You can't make me

Coming in the morning to take you back
On my hands and knees, crawling, to earn your trust
Coming in the morning to beg you
Coming in the morning to take you back
