

THE BANK OF ENGLAND

The City of London is not part of the UK. It is a sovereign corporation often referred to as the 'Jewish Vatican'. It sits atop the ancient Roman settlement of Londinium. At the center is the Bank of England that controls the world governments, currencies and world monarchies. At the core of this layout, the Bank of England configures the MOLECH horned Owl with a wingspan depicting a Menorah. But it is not in honor of the Biblical GOD YHVH, but Lucifer their 'light bearer'. It is in line at the 33rd degree from the Royal Observatory 1776 pyramid ley-line. The Moloch Owl depiction has a double entendre. The motif is also rendering an encrypted menorah candelabra. At the core is the Bank of England within the Center Stem. This is where the first lighting occurs or 'illumination' and the rest of the stems are lit. In ancient Canaan, Moloch was the god of money and abortion. The Bank of England Moch motif has 1 wing slightly slanted upward and the other, slanted downward in a Luciferian salute to their axiom of 'As Above, So Below'.
