

Your Food

Rachael Martin 10.6.2014

John 4:34 – ³⁴ Jesus said to them, “My food is to do the will of Him who sent Me, and to finish His work.

The word that was spoken today was about not putting a lid on what God can do in your life. There's a place that each of us come to where we are doing what we believe to be the will of the Father and we meet “uncomfortable” face to face and either back down or move forward. Prior to this scripture, Jesus had met the Samaritan woman at the well and knew her beginning from her end and told her all about herself. In doing this, the woman was in awe to the point where the Bible says, she left her waterpot – she forgot all about the reason she had come to the well... because something deeper happened that the water became unimportant in comparison.

She left behind her waterpot – her thirst took on a whole new meaning. This truth of meeting the One True Messiah freed her to not be bound by tradition or laws of man and she went to tell everyone to come and see this Man. She was a woman telling men about the Savior! She was a Samaritan woman telling all men (Jews included) about this Man who knew all about her past. She was a woman who was living outside of wedlock with another man (in blatant sin) but none of this mattered – she had just been filled with Truth and she had heard something so good to her that she wanted to share! Her food and water became sharing Jesus and His existence and His truth and His power.

I encourage you to read John Chapter 4 – because it goes on to talk about reaping the benefits of the Truth of His Word!! I pray that your food take on a whole new meaning today. That you are filled with the Truth of the Gospel of Jesus Christ and that you would be bold to speak when given the opportunity. That you would not deny Jesus when you have a chance to speak about Him and that You would be hungry for more of Him and His word today more than you were yesterday!

Make us more hungry for You Lord – that we would walk in Your will and in Your ways in Jesus name – Amen!
