Edward Joseph Walker
1877 - 1941

When Edward Joseph Walker created the perfect toffee recipe back in the 1890s little did he realise what he had started! His recipe has become a firm favourite with people all over the world.

Today when I walk around the factory every morning and afternoon like our founder, I know the importance of staying true to our original recipe and listening to our customers.

I consider it to be the best and I hope you agree.

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Ian Walker". The signature is written in a cursive style with a long horizontal line extending from the end of the name.

Ian Walker, Managing Director
Grandson of Edward Joseph Walker

walker's Nonsuch toffee takes its name from the famous Nonsuch Palace, built by Henry VIII to be the palace of all palaces.

Try it and we think you will agree there's no other toffee quite like Nonsuch toffee.
