Liability Release for Long Distance Consultation

By opening this package and/or utilizing the long distance consulting service you, as the client, agree to abide by the following terms:

This agreement is between Jennifer Brooks and the CLIENT/RELEASOR whereby, CLIENT/RELEASOR wishes to consult with Jennifer Brooks P.T. about rehabilitation of their animal.

CLIENT/RELEASOR understands and agrees that Jennifer Brooks/Horse 'n Hound PT is in no way responsible for the health of the animal at any time, not now or in the future. Client further understands every animal reacts in a different manner to modalities such as heat, cold, laser, therapeutic exercise, and massage, etc. and that animals are, by nature, unpredictable in their behavior and responses to treatment. Therefore, rehabilitation requires full attention and total awareness by the client at all times, to relay animal response back to Jennifer in an appropriate time, to prevent injury or change treatment approaches. Animals may, without warning, cause injury to humans and/or other animals.

Jennifer Brooks is hereby released for any responsibility to or for any harm of or by the aforementioned animal indicated above. I hereby agree to exercise caution for the safety of myself, the animal, any people and any other animals around me while working with the animal. I agree to the terms of this consultation agreement and understand that any injuries received by me or by my animal or other persons or animals while working with the animal are my own responsibility.

It is important that Jennifer is kept up to date and informed of the animal's response to the therapy she is advising for your animal. Call her voicemail or write email to keep her informed of your animal's progress. Jennifer will try to respond with in 24-48 hrs.
