

A MAGICAL NIGHT WITH CANTORES CELESTES

Genius of the Wood, the latest choral show by Cantores Celestes Women's Choir, packed Runnymede United Church on May 7th. Guest artist Erika Ritter read from The Hidden Life of Humans, a comic novel partly narrated by a dog, among her other humorous works. Under the direction of conductor Kelly Galbraith, the Emperor String Quartet joined the choir for Genius of the Wood by Jackson Berkey, Vaughan Williams' In Windsor Forest, and Symphonie Lumière, written by Emmy nominated composer, Sarah Class. The women of Cantores Celestes believe in giving back to the community; this concert raised $1,000 for the Fred Victor Centre's Bethlehem United Shelter, which is the only shelter in the city to accept pets.

For more information about the choir, visit cantorescelestes.com

Photos by Shelley P Jones

