And The Nominees Are...

No shutter setting nor can a good throw to first can capture the speed of “Dr. Electric Spark’s” line dance when he loses his cap!

This SLSSA Ballet takes more than one slide to demonstrate the gracefulness of the dance. “Here Radar Nadler” and “Superman Kaufmann” approach each other preparing for a difficult move to catch a fly ball...

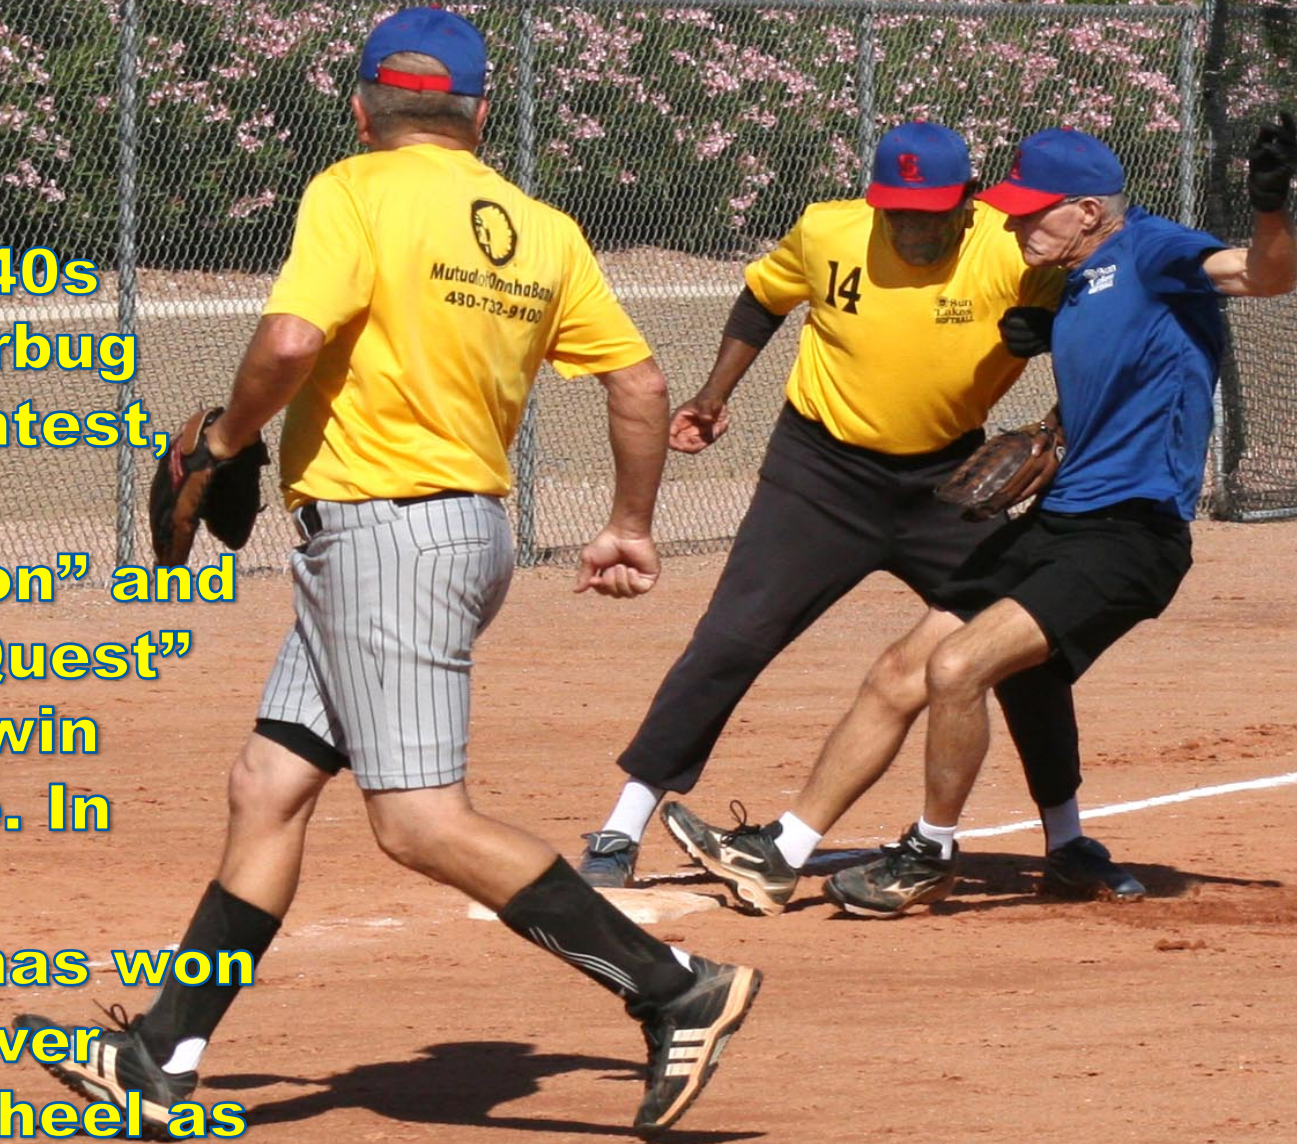

It's clear that timing, coordination and a bare midriff are keys to this difficult dance step as the two get ready to meet for the very important catch. (Note: You should not try this move at home or without a professional geezer softball player to provide direction and safety.)

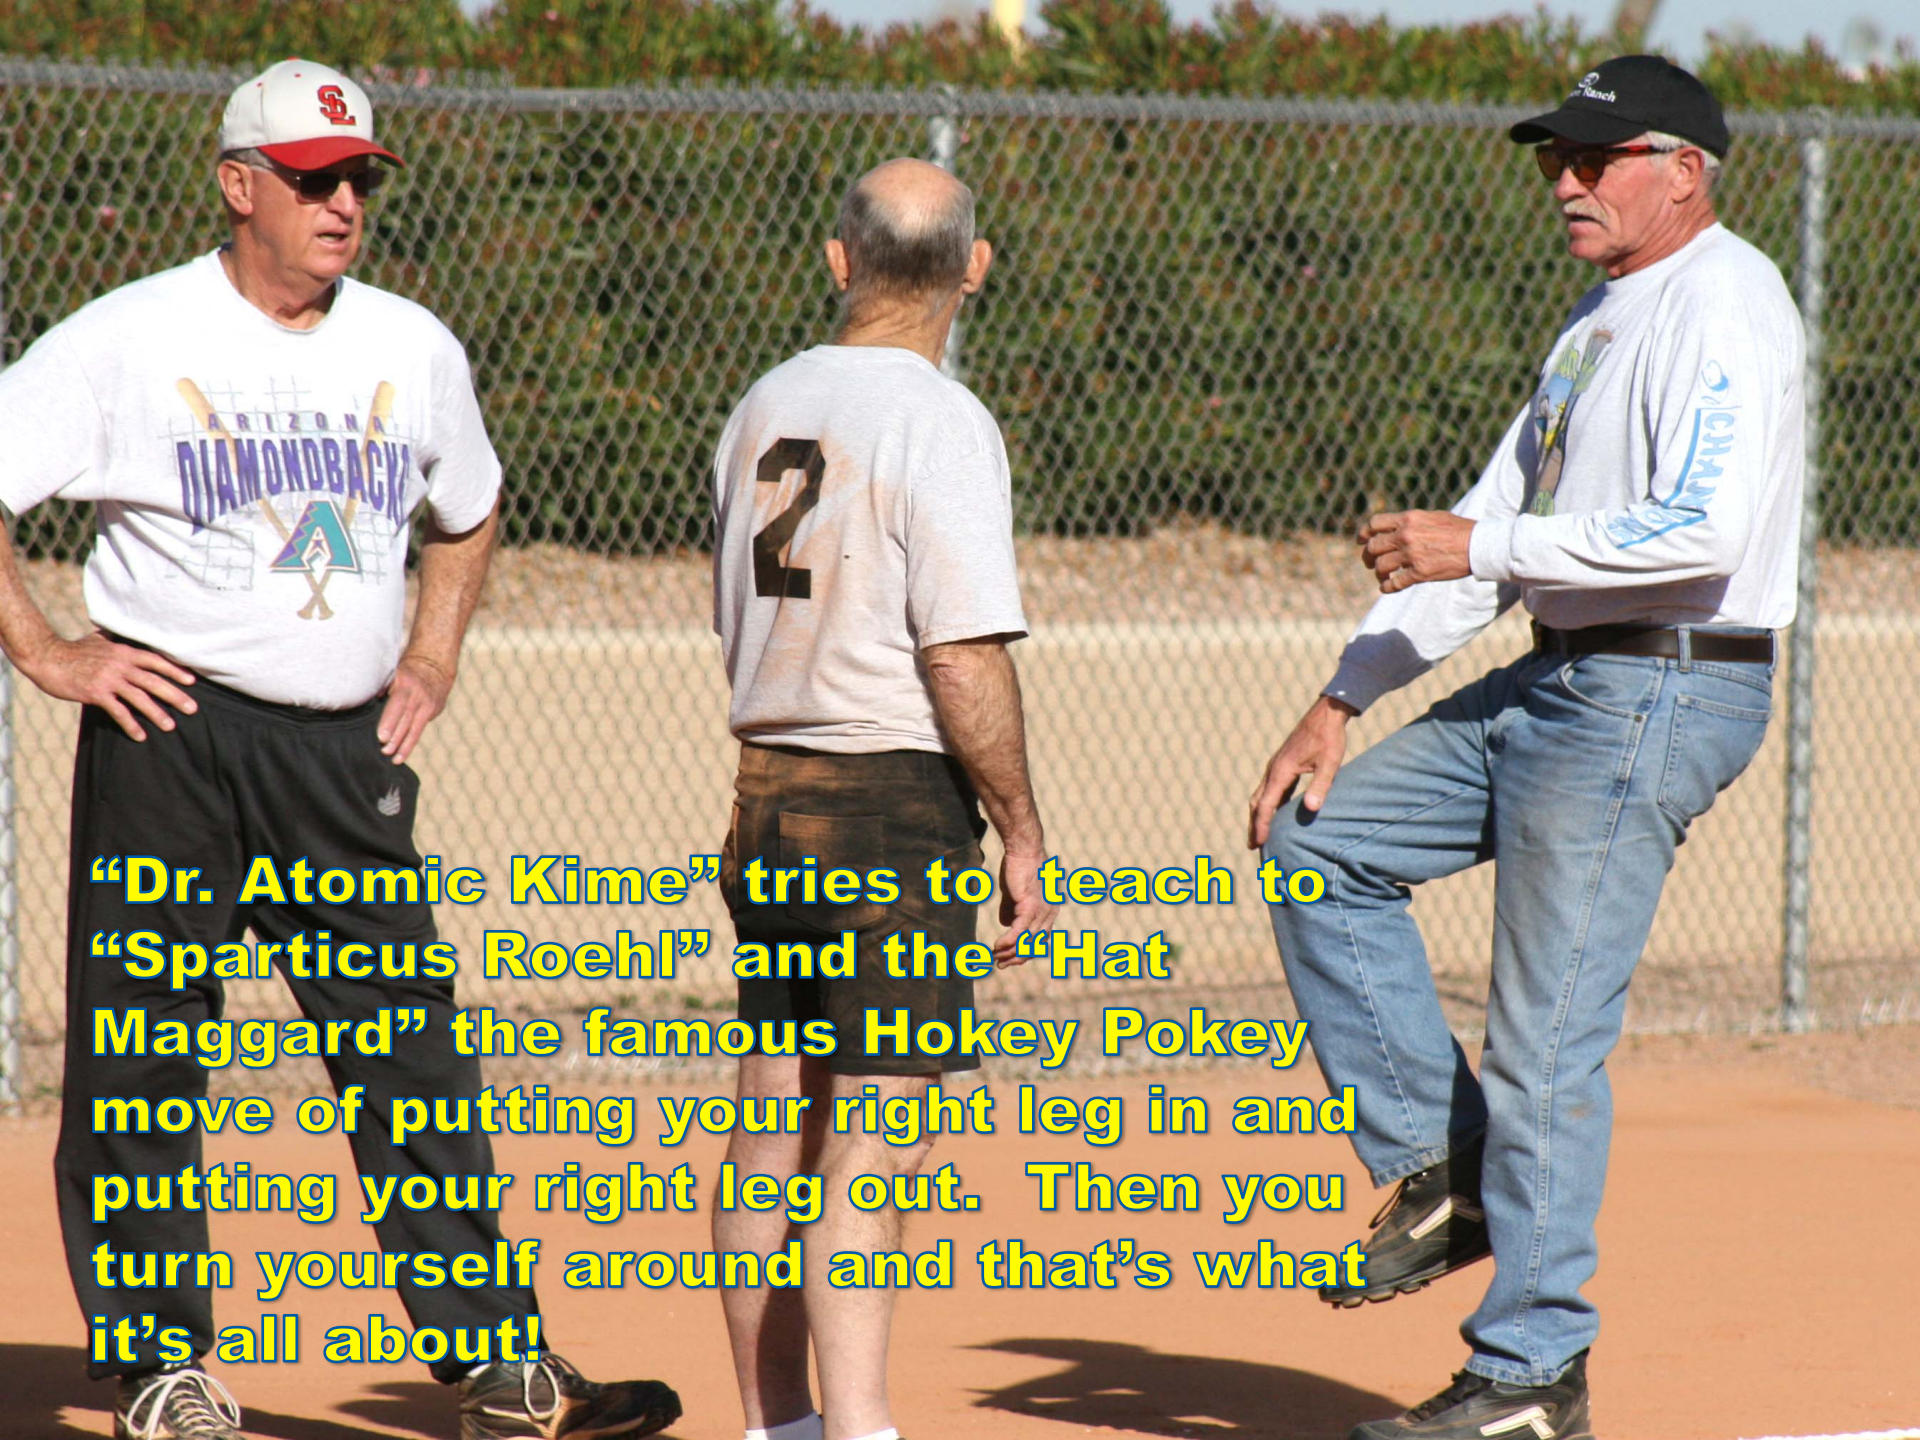

Oh no!! There is an unfortunate but totally expected dance stumble step between “Radar” and “Superman”! The ball has fallen to the turf and the opponent scores more runs.

In this 1940s style jitterbug dance contest, “Streak Washington” and “Johnny Quest” dance to win third base. In this case “Streak” has won by a toe over “Quest’s” heel as “Wolverine Stock” watches.

“Dr. Atomic Kime” tries to teach to “Sparticus Roehl” and the “Hat Maggard” the famous Hokey Pokey move of putting your right leg in and putting your right leg out. Then you turn yourself around and that’s what it’s all about!

Demonstrating near perfect form for going into the hole for a ground ball, “Crusher” Hilby forgets one small but important point, the ball.

“Turbo” Reynolds tries sneaking up on this ball so as to avoid dropping it a second time!

“Lash” Wolfe is famous for his turning a routine fly ball into a circus catch, or, in this instance, a circus flub.
