A Father's Day Treat!

"You should know that I am not brave, and the bomb really scared me. I found myself in a deadly situation. Actually ... more than merely deadly. It was also sticky, stinky, icky and gross ..."

WILD BLUE

Saving the World with Duct Tape and WD-40

A Romantic Comedy Techno-Thriller

Earl L. Trout III

"I enjoyed the surprises, the tension, and the laughs. But I wish Dr. Weksler wasn't a Dodgers fan."

—Dennis Kuhl, Chairman, Los Angeles Angels Baseball

"...a unique amalgam of romantic comedy and high-speed techno thrills. Every page delivers a laugh, frequently punctuated by tension-induced adrenaline."

—Ken Levine, Writer/Producer, Cheers; Frasier; M.A.S.H.

Spring 2003, Pasadena, California — Digital technology is exploding. Part of it explodes in front of wimpy physicist Theophilus Spivak when the Channel 8 tower blows up during a Pirated bootleg TV broadcast. Theo, his rocket scientist friend, Kevin Oxley, and their boss, Dr. Weksler (creator of stealth airplane technology) are prime suspects. A bumbling cult imprisons them, demanding weaponized weather to destroy Los Angeles. Wild Blue is clean flank speed entertainment. You will ... absolutely ... laugh out loud!
