BAUMANN conveyor belt feed labellers with modular plastic chain conveyors are designed for the wrap-around labelling of cylindrical products and for front and back labelling,

The portable CWL inline belt feed labelers are cost – effective and suitable for most packing lines.

The portability of the CWL labellers enables operators to easily position the labeler anywhere in their packing line to apply virtually any size of pressure sensitive labels to the top of boxes, food trays, and other packages.

A wide range of equipment options for product handling, label application, printing and quality inspection ensure every particular requirement can be met.
