Pratt Asked To Intercede In Post Office Hassle

Dorval Residents Raise Angry Protest Over Loss of Postal Address Identity

Mayor-MP John Pratt has been asked to intervene in behalf of Dorval for a post office to be located in Dorval. The request by Council came in the wake of numerous objections filed with City Hall over the issuance by the postmaster general of the new address which includes Lachine.

One particularly irate citizen, James Wright, of 34 Dalhousie Ave., Dorval, was singularly vocal on the subject. Said Mr. Wright, referring to a circular received from the postmaster in Lachine asking that Wright in future advise those writing to him to address their communications: 34 Dalhousie Ave., Dorval, Lachine, Que: "This is the first intimation I have that Dorval has been annexed to Lachine and is now a suburb of that municipality. I have always thought that Dorval was constituted a city some time back."

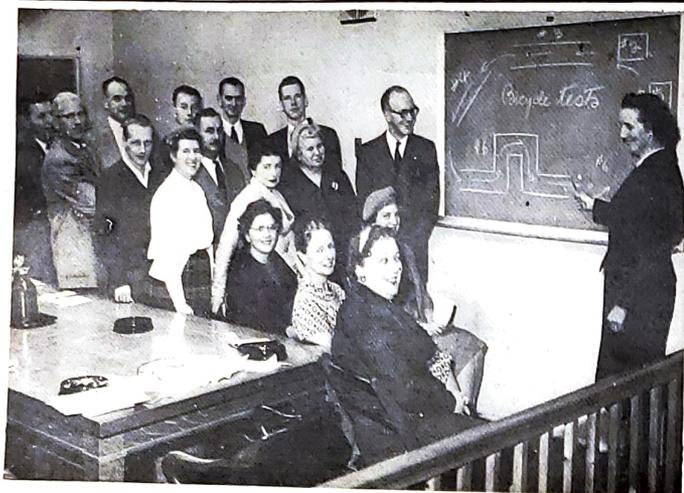

Mr. Wright went on to say that the Lachine postmaster made very clear that Dorval is subsidiary to Lachine, and inferred that Dorval had not sufficient identity to merit a postal address apart from other municipalities.

The same situation obtains in St. Lambert, where the residents have received similar circulars stating that mail should be addressed: St. Lambert, Ville Jacques Cartier, Que. City manager Rene A. LeBlanc points out that Dorval has, in the past, discussed the address problem with postal authorities, and layouts have been produced indicating that, for the sake of efficiency and economy, Dorval was too close to Lachine and did not warrant its own post office "for the time being." However, the Dorval rank and file, numbering some 16,000 plus, feel the time has come for the establishment of a Dorval post office, and therefore Mayor Pratt, Member of Parliament for Jacques Cartier-LaSalle, has been strongly implored to take the city's case to the federal level.

Other Council business included consideration of an offer made by the Shopping Centre to build a skating rink in the parking lot; the discussion of the placing of an extra bank account for the city; an increase from $125 to $250 per month in the grant to Lakeshore Welfare; an expenditure of $5,000 to refurbish the heating system at City Hall, and a further appropriation of $5,000 to reconnect the powerline from the property line.

Ald. Desnoyers also recommended that Council bear the cost of cutting down the brush on the vacant lot behind the Shopping Centre. Council readily agreed to the proposal - feeling it was definitely worth the cost to avoid unpleasant incidents and safeguard the citizenry.

SAFETY WITH A CAPITAL 'S' is personified in the all-out program carried out by The Women's Committee on Children's Safety Progress, and the meeting held Nov. 30 to discuss bicycle tests slated for May of 1960 drove another wedge into one of the most vital programs of all. Representatives from all parent-teacher groups in Dorval lent their enthusiastic presence to the meeting which was spearheaded by Chairman Mary W. Godbeer, shown here giving a little blackboard talk to the group. The meeting took place at the Municipal Hall in Dorval. Photo by C.A. Barbier

Dorval, Lachine Councilmen Agree To Seek Better 55th Crossing Plan

Representatives of the cities of Dorval and Lachine met last Friday night to discuss the 55th Avenue crossing problem. Both groups of councilmen were unanimous in saying that the proposed plan, as it now stands, was not adequate to cope with the needs of modern traffic.

At the outset, Lachine councilors were irate that the crossing had not been planned for 34th Ave. Mayor Pratt of Dorval, however, took the initiative on this point and explained that no federal assistance could be made available on the 34th Ave. crossing, as it was a federal law that no government money could be transferred from a grade crossing to establish a crossing that did not really exist. Mayor Pratt further told Lachine councilmen that Dorval councilors were there to discuss the 55th Ave. crossing and nothing else - that any other discussion was beside the point.

Ald. G. Mitchell Bourke of Dorval expressed the opinion that the plan offered should not be discounted as totally ineffective, but that it did need more changes.

Lachine's Mayor Gaston suggested that both Lachine and Dorval's engineers be sent to Quebec to discuss the appropriate changes. He also stated that Lachine will refuse to spend any money on expropriation, and with the backing of his council, insisted that the province should shoulder the entire cost.

Both councils agreed that a resolution should be drafted, stating they do not feel that the province is offering an adequate solution to the 55th St. problem, and that suitable plans should be forthcoming. Copies of this resolution will be sent to the provincial government.

Crippled Kiddies Launch Campaign For Yule Funds

The annual Christmas appeal for funds by the School for Crippled Children was launched this week with a mailing piece featuring the artwork of children attending the school.

Dr. Laurence P. Patterson, principal of the school, said that about 150 parents of the children and friends of the school participated in packaging and addressing the appeal for funds to a selected list of 26,500 residents in the city. Objective this year is $70,000, and Dr. Patterson urgently requested the public to help the School for Crippled Children continue its work of educating and rehabilitating physically disabled children.

Graffitiing the cover of the appeal folder is a symbolic picture of Vincent Barclain, 9, of 2064 Clifton Avenue, resting on his crutches in the doorway of the School at 1585 Cedar Avenue.

Drawings by Suzanne Kennedy, Jargoot Takiasuk, Patsy Maloney, Sylvia Opolaky and Susan Forbes are reproduced inside the folder which points out that 202 crippled children, 35 more than last year, are depending on this public appeal. The folder also states that it costs $800 a year per child for school and $250 to keep a child at the school's summer camp at Ayers Cliff, Quebec, for the entire season.

Lakeshore University Women Form World Refugee Committee

Realizing that World Refugee Year is already one half gone, the executive members of the Montreal Lakeshore University Women's Club decided at their November meeting to let their community know what World Refugee Year is, and what channels are provided for the efforts and donations of many Canadians who will want to help.

The United Nations established World Refugee Year as from June 1959 to June 1960. The objectives of the Year are: (a) to focus attention on the refugee problem and to promote among the people of Canada a sympathetic interest in the plight of refugees throughout the world; (b) through publicity to help those participating organizations which are already engaged in refugee work to raise more money than they would normally do; and (c) to establish a central fund to which contributions can be made for refugee assistance.

The Montreal Lakeshore University Women's Club is one of 39 United Women's Clubs throughout Canada which have, from March to August 1959, donated

His career has embraced service with the Air Force; meteorological work with the Department of Transport at Dorval and McGill University. He is a Fellow of the Royal Meteorological Society and a Professional Member of the American Society. Wednesday's meeting, incidentally, is the first mixed meeting of the C of C.

THE BUDDING LAKESHORE DRAMA LEAGUE held its first meeting Monday night and Miss Ivy Ashworth, president of the Lachine Civic Theatre, (centre) conducted the meeting which was held to organize the league on a solid basis and stimulate local interest in the theatre. An explanatory committee, headed by Bernworth in an ex-officio capacity, was charged with drawing up a constitution and a statement of objectives, the St. Andrews Players, Strathmore; Lachine Civic Theatre; Lachine Junior Players; Players Guild of St. Stephens, Lachine; Freelance Players of Verdun; Theatre 'A', Verdun, and the Regency Players of Verdun. A FAIR COMPROMISE

That the supermarket chains have come under considerable fire lately over the trading stamp policy is a matter of record. Whether or not one considers trading stamps - pink, blue, purple or any color you care to name - a gimmick designed solely for the benefit of the merchant is a question answerable only in relation to one's sense of values.

Certainly, it has not been definitely established that these supermarket giveaways have contributed to the rising cost of living. Such an approach would be pinning the blame in a restricted area of oversimplification. To the shoppers' eye, the supermarkets are packaging their goods as attractively as ever; there's been no curtailment in quality, and service continues on the same brisk, efficient plane as before.

But it does emerge as commonsense that the shopper - given the choice of $2.25 worth of food as against the same value in tea towels - would take the more practical option. Tea towels, plain or with Tobasco are neither as tasty nor as nutritious as chuck steak or homogenized milk.

We congratulate Mr. Sam Steinberg, president of the Steinberg supermarket organization, for taking the initiative and putting it up to the shopper himself. You take your Pinky stamps and you take your choice: prizes or merchandise. Either way, it seems to you get value according to your own elective.

We look for other competitive trading stamp outlets to follow quickly in the wake of Mr. Steinberg's stopgap solution to a knotty problem.

The Night Desk

with Paul McKenna Davis

A somewhat irate father writes to this corner suggesting I do something constructive: he'd like me to provide ideas and therapies in connection with the care and education of teenagers. It seems my correspondent has three teenagers.

My friend is talking to the right person. I have the scars to prove that, until a couple of years ago, the star boarder in my home was a beautiful teenage girl. I suffered through the difficult years - the crinolines, the "line's busy" signals, and the steady stream of boyfriends among a hundred and one other irritants. But my friend, with three on his hands, deserves the George Medal. The father of one merely qualifies for the Purple Heart.

My correspondent, however, is only consulting the right person in point of sympathy. The extent of any advice I can offer is naturally restricted to a recital of what went on during the period that could be described as The Seven Years War, circa: age 14 to 21. It's like a visit to the dentist but it lasts a lot longer. Dad has two alternatives: 1) Relax and enjoy it, or 2) Take to the hills.

The reactionaries (and I somewhat tartly subscribe to their minority ideas) will tell you that today's adolescent has too much freedom - that the growing girl of today, for example, is not taught to shoulder work and responsibility.

In our day, we learned in self-defense; the educators of three-score years ago selected our curricula, and we were not allowed the privilege of electives in mapping out our schooling. Latin was a must; today, speaking figuratively, the boy or girl entering first-year high is offered the option of a course in milk and cookies or recess.

Anyone, including John Dewey, the chief villain in the progressive education debacle, who tells me that a teenager is qualified to choose an education without adult or formal guidance in a candidate for the laughing academy.

THE DOW QUARTER CENTURY CLUB took in another member over the weekend when Peter McKeogh, of 138 Thorncroft Ave., Dorval, received a beautiful gold watch marking his 25 years of service with the brewery. At left, Allan Magee, executive vice-president, tries the timepiece on Mr. McKeogh for size while Rene Leblanc, Dow Quarter Century Club president looks on. Maybe the watch is a gentle hint to Mr. McKeogh to show up on time for work in future. Photo by Ed Bermingham.

The recent payola scandals are a case in point, but here we cannot blame our children. Broadcasting networks, private studios and movie cartels, via an organized promotion of music not even fit for inclusion in a Chinese torture manual, have done a thoroughly amoral job of killing musical taste. Today's teenager, with a few exceptions, is too busy dancing to Jailhouse Rock to find out whether Mozart is a composer of a trade name for a new hula hoop.

And this is only one facet of the senior contribution to educational delinquency. Progress, in the form of television and whatnot, has mixed its benefits with pitfalls. It's wonderful to have everything packaged for us, but we have not taken the trouble to provide the antidote for too much of a good thing. In short, we've taken the lazy way out and our teenagers cannot be blamed for doing what comes naturally. If there's a lazy way to learn - albeit sketchily - none but the dedicated scholar will choose the hard way.

But I've been sidetracked. I promised that any dissertation on a father's frustrations would extend only to an "I've been there, too, Charlie" recital.

Well, my friend, I repeat: There's nothing you can do with three teenage daughters, save hide your time, control your temper, and say a prayer to St. Jude that sooner or later some unsuspecting trio of eligible bachelors will take them off your hands. But don't be in too much of a hurry. You'll miss them like the devil.

You'll miss the confusion; the bedrooms that look for all the world like Porkchop Hill after a raid by the Red Army. You'll long for a return to the days when you gave up trying to get your wife on the phone and sent her a telegram instead to tell her you were working late at the office. You'll look back fondly at the dinner table skirmishes. You'd say: "Bessie, that top sirloin cost me $1.80 a pound - Don't dawdle with it!" And Bessie, moaning away over the current boyfriend, would answer dreamily: "Let's face it Daddy, food nauseates me!"

I tell you with authority, the authority that offers fathers a glimpse of the end of the rainbow. Believe me, the teenage transition from applehead to responsible young matron is a rewarding sight indeed.

So, when Bessie comes home at two in the morning with Rollo the boyfriend, and Rollo, driving a souped-up hot rod leaves the cut-out roaring in front of the house while he says long goodnights and, incidentally, wakes you out of a sound sleep, don't go to the front door armed with a baseball bat.

Just reach for the luminol and roll over. Think of your blood pressure; more important, think of the odds.

They're bigger than you -- and so is the boyfriend.

Dogs On Loose Worry Citizens

A rash of complaints is being received from parents concerning a preponderance of stray or unattended dogs in Dorval these days.

A dog allowed to roam at will, it is pointed out, is prone to developing traits and wild instincts not found in the domesticated, cared-for animal. Too, they are prey to everything from picked-up diseases to being killed on the highway by speeding motorists.

Another, and most vital, phase of the many dangers involved in allowing dogs to run at will is the threat to the safety of children. While most dogs are friendly, there is always a rogue in the pack somewhere.

Dogowners are reminded that a bylaw exists which states that their pets must be on a six-foot leash at all times, and the fine involved in any infraction can run as high as forty dollars.

IN FOCUS

By K. M.

According to the radio, the recent Progressive Conservative Convention in Ottawa was one of the liveliest in years. We imagine Mr. John Pratt, M.P. in Ottawa spent his time in cosy coffee conferences with Mr. Diefenbaker. Mr. Pratt drew one laugh at a convention breakfast when he introduced himself as Member for the Republic of Jacques Cartier-Lassalle - an allusion to some independent stands taken in this riding - and one apparently well understood by those present.

Mr. Pratt took time off on a recent afternoon to get personal letters of greeting off to 75 New Canadians who have come to this riding since the summer. And these were really personal letters - no franking privileges in effect just now.

If you have read the recent letters to the editor, and the editorials in The Star, you will know that Mr. Pratt has been in the news also as advocating an examination of the Monorail system in comparison to the proposed Subway system. He pointed out that proponents of monorail claim it is eight times less costly, takes less time to construct, with less disruption of traffic and business.

Make your fruit cake early, make it on Sunday so that your husband can help mix it - but please don't forget it and leave it baking in the oven all night! This is advance notice that Christmas cake will not be on the hospitality menu at 53 Green Circle this year.

One hundred per cent for attendance - given by Mrs. Godbeer, chairman of the Safety Council. She was delighted that every Dorval School Association was represented at a meeting called by the "Women's Committee" last week. While the rest of us are struggling with Christmas preparations these ladies are working on the spring bicycle safety campaign. Some offers of awards and cups have been received but they hope to assemble about sixty. If this sounds like a large number to you - there are over 4,000 children in Dorval Schools eligible to compete for awards in the coming campaign for bicycle safety.

At Christmas time they will have to rent a second room in St. Francis Hospital, Smith Falls, Ontario, for Dorval's Mrs. C. Poole - just to hold her cards and letters. The nurses have already strung up 300 get-well cards and letters received by Mrs. Poole since the automobile accident which confined her to hospital in October. We might as well make it official in the Dorval Reporter. "Get Well Soon, Susie!"

An "on looker" writes to The Star about a man who was very rough and abusive to a young mother who accidentally bumped him with a push cart at the Santa Claus Parade. A relative, no doubt, of the man who struck a boy across the face in Dorval's Steinberg's for a similar provocation on a recent Saturday.

An unusual entertainment opportunity presented itself to those helpers of UNICEF who were guests of Mrs. A. Johnston, and Mrs. W. Hayman at a sherry party last Saturday. Mrs. Claudine Vellerand, T.V.'s popular Mama Fonfon sang "Bonjour Voisin" a song for which she composed lyrics to present on a UNICEF programme. Mrs. Sadie Heywood, Quebec Chairman for UNICEF, Mrs. Dorothy Burgoyne of Dorval, Quebec Chairman for UNICEF cards, Mrs. Dorothy Williamson, Lakeshore Chairman were among the guests. Mrs. Hazel Ballantyne was also a guest at this pleasant afternoon arranged so that those in Dorval who helped UNICEF in so many different ways might have an opportunity to meet each other and members of the Quebec Committee.

A cute story was told in connection with the $1,187.79 collected in Dorval for UNICEF. Did you know that a Brinks truck, complete with two guards, came to pick up the bags of pennies and small change at the home of Mrs. Johnston. The Brinks guard, in turn, got a quickly assembled escort - seven small boys complete with assorted guns.

On the bulletin board at Dorval Civic Library are eight nicely written, brightly mounted essays from Room 15, Grade 6, Dorval Gardens School, on the theme "Why Have A Library?" I confess I went down to read the essays expecting to find some of those gems of misspellings and odd word arrangements that are so easy to smile over, and found none at all in these writings of Barbara Bryant, David Oulton, Warren Smith, Muriel Seal, Alec Allison, Stephen Matthew, Kathryn Goodfellow, Jeffrey Thomson. Instead I found well written bits of wisdom about reading and books like this one by Muriel Seal. "Perhaps in the world of tomorrow the library will be bigger and better."

A Dorval pupil scored in a coloring contest last week also. Louise Renault won a second prize in the current Gazette coloring contest. We have good mixers too! Cheryl Hampton of Dorval was pictured in a local paper as she helped mix ingredients for the two tons of Christmas pudding required by the Canadian National Railways for its dining cars. Cheryl's father, Mr. H. Hampton, 56 Allard, is Advertising Manager for the C.N.R.

Dorval boasts of unusual distinctions this week. In Time Magazine, Dec. 7, there is an article under Quebec, about that "Unknown Island," Anticosti, the rugged island at the mouth of the St. Lawrence. The writer states that "Few Canadians have ever met an Anticostian." There are three Anticostians in Dorval that I know of. A clue from the article, "An Anticostian, according to an old quip, can be recognized by the way he walks - at a 45-degree angle" - the result of leaning into the howling Anticosti winds. So if you see three otherwise healthy looking children walking at a 45-degree angle towards 68 Green Circle - there are your Anticostians!

Mayor, Chief Noel Act as Judges For Big 1959 Xmas Lighting Contest

"Mayor John Pratt of Dorval, Chief of Police A.R. Noel, Miss Dorval of 1959 and Mr. Rene Lejeune, President of the Dorval Junior Chamber of Commerce have consented to act as judges in this year's Christmas Lighting Contest", it was today announced by Mr. Roger Hart, Co-Chairman of the contest being sponsored by the Dorval Jaycees.

Mr. Hart went on to explain that judging of the various displays will commence on December 20th, and continue until Wednesday, December 23rd, at which time prizes will be awarded for the best displays in each category.

There will be three cash prizes for overall decoration of home and grounds; First Prize $50.00; Second Prize $25.00; Third Prize $10.00. In addition there will be four prizes for special merit. These will include - Best Window Decoration; Best Doorway Decoration; Best Outdoor Tree Decoration; Most Distinctive Decoration Piece.

This contest will be open to all residents of the City of Dorval, and no entry blank or entry fee is required. Previous winners and Dorval Jaycees are not eligible for cash prizes.

Dorval Curlers Get Good News

As recently reported, a group of citizens in Dorval have for some time been actively engaged in the organization of a curling club.

While the location has not been as yet finalized, the charter has been obtained, and the club will be known as the Dorval Curling Club.

The DORVAL REPORTER was told that curling by late 1960 is the aim of the organizing group, and more definite news will be known as soon as the location has been finalized.

Reports From Ottawa

In order to clarify the present situation in the rapidly changing picture of civil defence, I am publishing, herewith, the most recent statement by the Government of Canada on policy concerning evacuation and shelters for civil defence purposes:

"Should a war occur, attacks on Canada by large nuclear weapons would be expected. Major Canadian cities might be selected as targets, although what priority cities would receive in comparison with other targets is conjectural at best. Furthermore, there would be an equally serious risk from attacking bombers from missiles going astray from their targets.

Additional to the damage done in this way, there would be a widespread danger from radioactive fallout which would render it unsafe to be in some areas without substantial protection, or to be out-of-doors for more than very brief periods.

Although it is expected that in times of anticipated peril, many people will wish to leave the cities which are considered to be more likely targets to take refuge in other less dangerous parts of the country, the Government considers that Canadians should not be compulsorily required to leave their homes for the result might well be that in avoiding one danger other risks would thereby be incurred.

At the same time we believe that proper provision should be made so that people desiring to leave the more likely target areas can do so, excepting of course that persons in certain safeguard essential utilities and services.

It is generally expected that in the event of attacks by bombers there would be sufficient warning time to allow many people to leave, if efficient traffic arrangements are planned in advance. On the other hand, when missiles are used, warning time will be reduced to a few minutes.

While as stated the Government does not propose to adopt a policy of compulsory evacuation of target areas on the outbreak of war, preparations should be made to enable those who wish to move to do so in an orderly manner so as to avoid confusion and keep panic to a minimum.

While shelters would be of considerable help in saving lives, to achieve a substantial amount of protection against a nuclear explosion itself would require a type of shelter that would be very costly. The Government is studying what might be achieved by anti-blast shelters in target areas, their cost, and how that cost might fairly be distributed. Complete protection cannot be achieved at any cost close to the explosion itself, as anti-blast shelters could not possibly be built in every area where a bomb or missile might fall. The Government does not intend to reach a decision to build this type of shelter which in any event would provide a limited degree of protection until it is possible to assess its usefulness and cost.

It seems clear that substantial protection from radioactive fallout can be secured by individual households at reasonable cost. Relatively simple family refuges or shelters can be built in the basements of existing buildings for two or three hundred dollars. The Government will at an early date publish a pamphlet giving detailed suggestions for those wishing to provide this kind of protection for their families. Somewhat more costly backyard shelters can be built in homes without basements, but further study is required before a suitable type can be recommended to the public.

The provision of shelters against fallout for larger than family groups appears to be desirable and to this end the Dominion Government has proposed that the federal, provincial and municipal authorities jointly carry out surveys of existing large buildings to ascertain what protection they could afford.

While the foregoing represents its views, the Government intends to keep these problems under constant examination and to revise plans in this field from time to time as circumstances and events may make necessary."

Boy Scout News

Dorval Cubs and Scouts are planning a second paper drive for Saturday, Dec. 12. Most of the papers will be picked up before noon on Saturday, but can be picked up by special request on Friday, Dec. 11. The last drive netted approximately 10 tons of paper and it is hoped that the Dec. 12 drive will double that total.

Cubs and Scouts have also promised their support to the Dorval Safety Council by distributing literature, and Mrs. Godbeer, safety chairman, hopes to arrange for a series of talks to the scout packs in the near future.

Good Character Objective of "Y"

"The YMCA, like the church and the school, is concerned with developing the character and personality of young people. Its central task is not that of teaching people 'to do something' but 'to do something'." These comments were made by Rev. J. A. Crabb, minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Lachine, in addressing the Fifth Annual Leaders' Recognition Dinner of the Lachine-Dorval YMCA.

Speaking to the YMCA leaders Mr. Crabb pointed out that their task was both a privilege and a responsibility. The personal example which leaders set is very important in positively influencing and guiding the young people who come under their responsibility, the speaker added.

The annual recognition dinner provided an opportunity to pay tribute to the work of some sixty people who have given voluntary service to the YMCA this past year. The event was sponsored by the local 'Y' Board of Management and the awards and presentations were made by various committee chairmen. Mr. James C. Crawford, vice-chairman of the 'Y' Board of Management acted as chairman of the meeting. Special guest included Mr. E. C. Frost, chairman of the Board of Management of Northmount Branch YMCA; Mr. Frank Peterson, chairman of the Board of Management of Southwestern Branch YMCA; Mr. Neil McDermid, vice-chairman of the Lakeshore Branch YMCA Board of Management; Mr. Fred G. Hubbard, General Secretary YMCA Montreal; Dr. Hedley Dimock, Coordinator of Training, Metropolitan YMCA staff and Mr. A. Ross Seaman, Metropolitan YMCA Program Secretary.

Presentation of YMCA Leaders' Fellowship Certificates for leaders who gave service in boys' program were made to the following people by Mr. Eion Kirk, chairman of the Boys Committee: Ian Wright, David Murphy (7 years) Mrs. H. C. Bourne (4 years) Mrs. M. E. Walsh, Mrs. W. S. Gilpin, Frank Renou, Gary Thompson, Walter H. Pike, Lyman Richardson, Harold Hansen, Captain Beaupre, Jack Wilmot, Paul Rushton, Michael Brosseau, George Griffiths, John Breckenridge, Frank Soltendick and Paul Skanks.

The following leaders who gave service in the girls' program received awards and certificates which were presented by Mrs. K. V. Kelrstead: Diane Hawkins, Susan Ledain, Judy Roberts, Mrs. Maralena Genser (3 years), Mrs.

JAMES W. LOVEYS

The editor and publishers of The Dorval Reporter wish to extend sympathy to the family of James W. (Jim) Loveys, public relations manager for Texaco Oil Company in Montreal, and well known in Dorval, where he was a member of the Strathmore United Church and was active in the Boy Scout Association.

Mr. Loveys, who died in Western General Hospital Monday, was born in Western Bay Nfld., and was educated at Vaughn Road Collegiate, Toronto, where he lived many years. He was well known in the newspaper field, and was a member of the Montreal Men's Press Club, a charter member of the Toronto Men's Press Club, and a member of the Canadian Public Relations Society. He was 47.

Mr. Loveys is survived by his wife, the former Caroline Moyer of Toronto; two sons, Ward and Harry, and a daughter, Christine.

CIVIC LIBRARY TO CLOSE FOR HOLIDAYS

The Dorval Civic Library will be closed from December 17th to January 6th inclusive, and will reopen on January 7th. Extra books may be borrowed for this period.

Readers are reminded that a membership subscription to the Dorval Civic Library makes an entertaining and enduring Christmas gift at a very low cost. Further information in this regard may be obtained from Librarian Mrs. Ann Lachance.

E.S. (Scott) Braddell, 49-year-old electrical and mechanical engineer with Trans-Canada Air Lines, is a man who takes both his job and his civic responsibilities seriously.

That's why he's one of the senior persons responsible for the design, execution, inspection and acceptance of TCA's new $20,000,000 overhaul and maintenance base at Dorval, and an alderman in the city where that base is being built.

Mr. Braddell was born near Dauphin, Man., and educated at the University of Manitoba where he received his B.A. in literature and economics and his B. Sc. in electrical engineering, graduating in 1932.

He worked as an electrical engineer with a public utility firm in Manitoba and as an apparatus application engineer in Ontario, Quebec and his home province before joining the RCAF in March, 1942. During the war years he served in Canada and the United Kingdom as a Flight Lieutenant in the aeronautical engineering branch of the air force, receiving his discharge in September, 1945.

Mr. Braddell joined TCA in February, 1947, as electrical and mechanical engineer in the office of the Chief Architect, a position he still holds.

DORVAL Sports on Parade

BY GARY FILIATRAULT

Therelease of "dream teams" in the Lakeshore Minor Football League saw many Lachine and Westlake players nominated. Lachine shone in the defensive department with no less than five players named on the defensive all-stars. Mike Johansson, Keith MacRae, Brian Savage, Bob McNeil and Barry Wright are the Lachine defenders. Dorval Dukes placed three in Art Cross, Al Brewer and Bernie Rodwitt, and Westlake provided the four other defensive all-stars - John Thornton, Rusty Thompson, Neil McInnis and Brian Marshall. It is notable that no player on the Pointe Claire squad made the defensive team, a good reason why the team had a poor season. They did, however manage to place one player, Tony Dew, on the offensive team.

Lachine and Westlake again picked up most of the positions on the offensive all-stars. Lachine placed Walt Mejak, Tom McComb, Mike Walsh and Don Taylor, and Westlake came through with Bob Fargey, Eric Walter, Neil McInnis and Robbie Moffat. The Dorval Duke's offensive all-stars were Art Cross, Kev Morris and John Rogers. Art Cross and Neil McInnis are the only two players to make both the offensive teams - Cross as halfback and McInnis as tackle.

The race for the individual trophies was hotly contested with Bob Fargey, Westlake fullback, winning the Graham trophy as the league's most valuable player. Certainly, Westlake would not have gone far without Fargey's driving and brilliant play.

Tackle Neil McInnis and backfielder Art Cross were the m.v. p's at those positions, and emerged as admirable choices with coaches picking them unanimously.

And so another fine football season goes into the records, and we wish to specially commend the league officials for their good work, with a special vote of congratulations to league president Pete Read who worked untiringly for the benefit of our Lakeshore youngsters.

One of the saddest pieces of news to come out of the Lakeshore in many years comes with the withdrawal of the Lakeshore Flyers from the Metropolitan League. The Flyers were the only team who could make it possible for our young local hockey prospects to get ahead in the national sport, and with the withdrawal of the Flyers it's sad to relate that none of our boys will get a fair chance.

It is true that six players were drafted by other teams in the loop, but these players have been drafted for this year only and we would be surprised to see any of the six in the league next season unless they turn out to be shining stars. Each team in the league covers a lot of territory, and they naturally have to give preference to their own local players. Lachine, very close to us, cannot afford to accept any more players from this area as they have plenty of their own to develop, and it may mean the end of our local youngsters' hopes of making a career in hockey. How can they be developed to meet junior competition if we have no junior team in Dorval?

The reasons for the Flyers' withdrawal are many and justified, but there are even better reasons why a junior hockey team should operate for the benefit of Lakeshore youngsters. The Flyers never received the support they deserved from Lakeshore fandom, neither financially nor morally. For some strange reason, the team was never really accepted as part and parcel of the Lakeshore scene, and only mere handfuls of people attended the games. The Flyers never had a place to practice, and had to practically get down on their knees to be able to play in the Lachine Arena, and then only for regular games. When they moved to the MacDonald College rink they found that Lakeshore fans would not go that far to see a game played by local youngsters, and the fans refused to support an inexperienced, losing team.

The main reason for the Flyers' debacle is an obvious one: we do not have a centrally located arena on the Lakeshore, and we wonder why the kids lose interest in sports when they get to be 16 years of age. Up to now, there are very few football fields, not a single baseball field, and only outdoor rinks serving a Lakeshore population of some 75,000 souls. Are we going to keep on sitting back and doing nothing about it, or shall we wait another couple of years more until the five percent juvenile delinquent total mentioned by the Optimist Club of Lake St. Louis reaches a higher bracket?

The suspension of the Flyers' franchise means a lot more than just losing a hockey team. It means that the Lakeshore population is turning its back on its responsibility to organize the proper facilities. A little concerted action will prevent a lot of future headaches.

The Hockey Referee's Clinic was held Tuesday night at the Pine Beach Community Hall. We'll have news of that meeting next week. Last Monday, there was also a hockey meeting for the same area, and there may be big news soon about the hockey picture in Dorval. We can't say anything right now, but we hope to come out with this very good news in the near future.

Pine Beach Sports

by Gordie Webster

This is an attempt at a weekly column to keep members and their children upto date with our activities. I will be looking forward to constructive criticism of this column.

The hockey season is about to start and so far we have had nearly 100 registrations. The midget-14 to 16 years-will be registered on Dec. 12th at 10:00 a.m. at the Pine Beach Citizens Association Hall.

Two very enthusiastic coaches-J. Chalmers and L. Brossit, have taken on a contract with the Lachine Arena for the season for an hour on Saturday night, 8:00 to 9:00 p.m. at a cost of $15.00 per hour, part of this is taken care of by the boys themselves who are charged a nominal fee each time. The support and turnout has been excellent and very enthusiastic. Some of the ladies organized a tour to Clark's Ltd. and raised a nice fund for the boys to keep the arena going. We are planning a "Hockey night for the older men" in which we hope to have a good-turn-out and have a good time (some of us haven't been on skates for years) and raise more funds. Perhaps we can give the boys free nights at the arena.

The Board of Directors and the members can be very proud of the fine efforts put out by all of the coaches and referees who give their time to the training of our young boys in a healthy sport.

Please lend your support and come to the arena to see the job that is being done and accompany your boy-boys to the regular games when the schedule starts near the end of December.

Lake St. Louis Anglers' News

by G. DOW

It was unfortunate we were unable to send a representative from the Lake St. Louis Anglers to the Sportsman's Convention held in Hull on December 3rd, 4th, and 5th, but it was mentioned that next year we would hope to be in a better position and able to send a delegate to give our news and views.

Mr. W. Stabler's report for the big fish of the year contest is completed but had no comment for the press who has the top scores. Also it is stated that a few of our members have winning entries in the Molson's Derby. Our General Meeting to be held in January will have a new slate of Directors and at that time too the winners will be given their prizes from both Molson's and our club.

This is a special announcement for anyone interested in small bore rifle range. A meeting will be held at the Lake St. Louis Anglers main hall tonight 8:00 p.m. sharp to get together in organizing a range on the club's premises. I have contacted as many as I thought were interested, by phone. You need not be a member of the club to attend this meeting, it is open for anyone who is truly interested in this project. We hope the turnout will be good for this event because it is important training even for all hunters.

The monthly meeting called for December 4th was not attended by many. Those that did turn out enjoyed some fine movies on fishing and hunting. Our thanks to Mr. H. Buttle for showing of the movies. Mr. Ed. Croxly spoke of the 1960 fishing license which possibly will be sold through the club and anyone ice fishing will have to have said license when it comes due.

He also remarked through the Lake St. Louis the special constables appointed for Game Wardens will be very active for any infraction of laws and will not give any leniency for ignorance. He states also that when buying fishing or hunting license one should ask for the game law book to see what changes have been made in previous laws and the news ones that have been added.

Mr. R. Paquin announces that his Xmas Draw is going 100% and the lucky winners will be drawn at the dance of December 12th. The tickets state the drawing dates as December 11th but this has been changed to Saturday December 12th, which is a more suitable day for most people to attend a dance.

CUBS & BROWNIES

Peter Stone, Leigh Oliver, and Leslie Richardson.

Our thanks to Mr. R. Delange for his help at our meetings.

BROWNIE NEWS

Mrs. Susan Griffith, Commissioner for Dorval was present to enroll fourteen Brownies of the second Dorval Pack on December 2. MORE AND MORE DELIVERIES BRING O'Keefe ALE Delivery boys everywhere are noticing this new trend to O'Keefe. Every day more and more people are discovering mild O'Keefe Ale. Next time you order beer from your grocer, be sure to ask for O'Keefe - you'll enjoy its natural mild flavour.

THE O'KEEFE MILDNESS SECRET

Ever bitten into a grape seed? It's bitter, unpleasant. Grape growers found by experiment that they could develop seedless grapes with nothing to spoil the delicate flavour. It's the same with hops. Ordinary hops contain seeds which give an unpleasant bitterness to ale. However, O'Keefe master brewers insist on costlier "Seedless Hops", result - there's no unpleasant bitterness, just the right, natural mild flavour.
