

Improvement vs. Impoverishment

If you don't show
improvement,
you become impoverished.

Improvement
is an inner wealth;
impoverishment
is a spiritual
dearth.

Improvement
is an interior
expansion;
impoverishment
is a personal
shut-down.

Virtue and grace
beckon us to
improvement;
vice and sin
leave you
impoverished.

Prayer and spirituality
beget improvement;
indifference and materialism
lead to impoverishment.

Friendship and generosity
foster improvement;
isolationism and greed
spawn impoverishment.

When you, therefore,
become dissatisfied with
impoverishment,
that's an improvement!

© Msgr. Walter Niebrzydowski

January 17, 1999

Fr-Walter@nyc.rr.com

www.fatherwaltersparish.org