"Nothing beats a black cat for elegance, grace, or sheer loveliness. Yet too many still languish in shelters, overlooked for adoption in favor of their more brightly-colored brethren. The heartwarming, beautiful tales in this collection speak eloquently to the great good fortune of those of us lucky enough to be covered by a black purrcher. Read and rejoice!"

- Gwen Cooper, NY Times best-selling author of Home's Odyssey: A Fearless Feline Tale, or How I Learned about Love and Life with a Blind Border Cat

"Black cats have long suffered due to superstitions and been overlooked in shelters, so I'm very excited that this book gives voices what wonderful, loving companions black kitties can be."

- Laura J. Moss, founder of AdventureCats.org and author of Adventure Cats: Living Like Cats Is The Future

"Laya Morgan Wilde has produced a long-overdue volume of remarkable stories to fully celebrate of prejudice toward black cats. The message is profoundly simple: Every cat deserves adoption and shelter regardless of outward superstitions."

- Oskar the Blind Cat, children's book author and special needs advocate of OskarIsBlind.com

"...you will find page after page of the most adorable, intelligent, inquisitive, bright-eyed cats ever to light up your life and somehow claim both your sofa and home office desk at the same time. In short, the black cats of the world owe this book and bring you great fortune in the form of pure joy. And if they ever inspire you to reward yourself by adopting a black cat of your very own."

- Francesco Marcolino, New York Times bestselling author of I Could See on This and Other Poems by Cats
